And the last statement is the most frightening.

They Walk Among Us

I was at the checkout of a K-Mart. The clerk rang up $46.64 charge. I Gave her a fifty dollar bill. She gave me back $46.64. I gave the money back to her and told her that she had made a mistake in MY favor. She became indignant and informed me she was Educated and knew what she was doing, and returned the money again. I gave her the Money back ... same scenario! I departed the store with the $46.64.

They Walk Among Us and Many Work Retail

I walked into a Starbucks with a buy-one-get-one-free coupon for a Grande Latte. I handed it to the girl and she looked over at a little chalkboard that said "buy one-get one free." "They're already buy-one-get-one-free," she said, "so I guess they're both free"
She Handed me my free Lattes and I walked out the door.

They Walk Among Us!

One day I was walking down the beach with some Friends when one of them shouted, "Look at that dead bird!" Someone looked Up at the sky and said, "Where?"

They Walk Among Us!

While looking at a house, my brother asked the real Estate agent which direction was north because, he explained, he didn't want the sun waking him up every morning. She asked, "Does the sun rise in the North?" When my brother explained that the sun rises in the East, and has for sometime, she shook her head and said, "Oh I don't keep up with all that stuff."

They Walk Among Us!!

I used to work in technical support for a 24/7 call center. One day I got a call from an individual who asked what hours the call center was open. I told him, "The number you dialed is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week." He responded, "Is that Eastern or Pacific time?" Wanting to end the call quickly, I said, "Uh, Pacific."

They Walk Among Us!

My sister has a lifesaving tool in her car designed to cut through a seat belt if she gets trapped. She keeps it in the trunk.

They Walk Among Us!

My friends and I were on a beer run and noticed that the cases were discounted 10%. Since it was a big party, we bought 2 cases. The cashier multiplied 2 times 10% and gave us a 20% discount.

They Walk Among Us!

I couldn't find my luggage at the airport baggage area, so I went to the lost luggage office and told the woman there that my bags never showed up. She smiled and told me not to worry because she was a trained professional and I was in good hands. "Now," she asked me, has your plane arrived yet?"

They Walk Among Us!

While working at a pizza parlor I observed a man Ordering a small pizza to go. He appeared to be alone and the cook asked him if he would like it cut into 4 pieces or 6. He thought about it for some time before responding. "Just cut it into 4 pieces; I don't think I'm hungry enough to eat 6 pieces."

Yep, They Walk Among Us!

They Walk Among Us, and they Reproduce, and Worst of all... they Vote!

An Amish farmer, walking through his field, notices a man kneeling down And drinking from his farm pond. The Amish farmer shouts:

"Trink das wasser nicht. Die kuhen haben dahin gesheissen."

(Which means: "Don't drink the water, the cows have shit in it.")

The kneeling man shouts back:

"I'm a Muslim, I don't understand you. I speak Arabic and English. If you can't speak in the sacred tongue of Islam, speak in English."

The Amish farmer yells: "Use two hands, you'll get more."

A woman walks into the downtown welfare office,
Trailed by 15 kids. 'WOW,' the social worker
Exclaims, 'are they all yours?'' Yep they are all Mine,' the flustered momma sighs, having heard that question a thousand times before.

She says, 'Sit down Leroy.' All the children rush to Find seats. Well,' says the social worker, 'then you must be here to sign up. I'll need all your children's' names.' 'Well, to keep it simple, the boys are all named Leroy and the girls are all named Leighroy.'

In disbelief, the case worker. 'Are you serious?
They're ALL named Leroy?'

Their momma replied, 'Well, yes-it makes it easier.
When it's time to get them out of bed and ready for school, I yell, 'Leroy!' A n'! when i t's time for dinner, I just yell 'Leroy!' an they all comes a runnin. An' if I need to stop the kid who's running into the street, I just yell Leroy' and all of them stop. It's the smartest idea I ever had, namin' them all Leroy.'

The social worker thinks this over for a bit, then wrinkles her forehead and says tentatively, 'But what if you just want ONE kid to come, and not the whole bunch?'

'Then I calls 'em by they's last names.'

22. AB8MQ's license renewal on enforcement hold since October

If you look up the subject call in the FCC's ULS data base, you'll see that, for some unspecified reason, Woger's renewal application has been on enforcement hold since October 2007.

With the new FCC policy of not publishing anything but final actions, it's pretty difficult to determine the FCC's reason for the hold, but we'll eventually find out.

Is Woger going for a record? Is Woger soon going to be known as "Three Test Wiseman?"

one I doubt woger wiul be allowed to retest again rumous is rh regrets letting him off the first time the real question is is woger in trouble for online or on air stuff (or both)

Grand Supercenter, Inc. Recalls Frozen Salted Croaker Because of Possible Health Risk
Contact:
Vinny Kim
201-507-9900

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- April 1, 2008 -- Grand Supercenter, Inc. of Lyndhurst, NJ is recalling the following product because they have the potential to be contaminated with Clostridium botulinum, a bacterium, which can cause life-threatening illness or death.

HC Fresh, Frozen Salted Croaker,
Net. Wt.: 16.9 oz (480 gram),
Item # HC 0500402, Expiration Date: Aug 02. 2009

Consumers are warned not to use these products even if they do not look or smell spoiled.

Botulism, a potentially fatal form of food poisoning, can cause the following symptoms: general weakness, dizziness, double-vision, and trouble with speaking or swallowing. Difficulty in breathing, weakness of other muscles, abdominal distension and constipation may also be common symptoms. People experiencing these problems should seek immediate medical attention.

HC Fresh Frozen Salted Croaker was distributed through H Mart stores including H Mart and Super H Mart in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Texas area.

The potential for contamination was noted after routine inspection. No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this problem.

Consumers who have purchased these HC Fresh Frozen Salted Croaker products are urged to return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact Grand Supercenter, Inc. at 201-507-9900.

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Taylor Fresh Foods Issues Voluntary Recall on Cut Fruit Product with Honduran Cantaloupes Due to Potential Health Risk
Contact:
Taylor Fresh Foods
(831)754-0471

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Salinas, California - April 3, 2008 --- Taylor Fresh Foods, of Salinas, California is voluntarily recalling selected fresh cut fruit products which may contain cantaloupe from the Honduran grower Agropecuaria Montelibano identified by FDA to have the potential to be contaminated with Salmonella, Taylor Fresh Foods had previously begun to recover this product on March 22, based on a notice published by the U.S. FDA.

The products being recalled include cut cantaloupe and mix cut fruit in bowls and trays of all sizes distributed by Taylor Fresh Foods. Retail and convenience store products involved were removed from sale prior to Monday, March 24. Foodservice distributors, who sell their own brand, have been notified.

Labels include the following: Taylor Farms Gourmet Fruit Tray featuring Creamy Yogurt Dip, Taylor Fresh Melon Mix, Taylor Fresh Fruit Mix, Fresh Fruit Tray with Creamy Strawberry Dip, with Best if Used By Dates before March 30, 2008. Any dates after this are not affected.

Salmonella can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Healthy persons infected with Salmonella often experience fever, diarrhea (which may be bloody), nausea, vomiting and abdominal pain. In rare circumstances, infection with Salmonella can result in the organism getting into the bloodstream and producing more severe illnesses such as arterial infections (i.e., infected aneurysms), endocarditis and arthritis.

We are unaware to date of any illnesses that may be associated with any products containing cantaloupe, sold by Taylor Fresh Foods, or its distributors.

Consumers and customers who have this product should not consume this product and dispose of this product. Consumers with questions may contact Taylor Fresh Foods at (831) 754-0471.

Yesterday, there was a piece on the Today Show. Then, last night, several news programs featured stories about the myth of drinking gallons of water.

A woman in a hot air balloon realized she was lost. She lowered her altitude and spotted a man in a boat below. She shouted to him, 'Excuse me, can you help me? I promised a friend I would meet him an hour ago, but I don't know where I am.'

The man consulted his portable GPS and replied, 'You're in a hot air balloon, approximately 30 feet above a ground elevation of 2346 feet above sea level. You are at 31 degrees, 14.97 minutes north latitude and 100 degrees, 49.09 minutes west longitude.'

She rolled her eyes and said, 'You must be a Republican.'

'I am,' replied the man. 'How did you know?'

'Well,' answered the balloonist, 'everything you told me is technically correct, but I have no idea what to do with your information, and I'm still lost. Frankly, you've not been much help to me.'

The man smiled and responded, 'You must be a Democrat.'

'I am ,' replied the balloonist. 'How did you know?'

'Well,' said the man, 'you don't know where you are or where you are going. You've risen to where you are, due to a large quantity of hot air. You made a promise that you have no idea how to keep, and you expect me to solve your problem. You're in exactly the same position you were in before we met, but, somehow, now it's my fault.'

FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Harry and David Issues Nationwide Allergy Alert on Undeclared Milk in Harry and David Chocolate Covered Select Blend Espresso Beans
Contact:
Mr. Bill Ihle
541 864-2145 (Media Calls Only)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- April 4, 2008 -- Harry and David, of Medford, Oregon, is voluntarily recalling approximately 66,500 8 oz. bags of Harry and David Chocolate Covered Select Blend Espresso Beans because they may contain milk not declared on the ingredient statement. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume this product.

The product was made by Sanders Candy Factory, Inc., Baldwin Park, CA. It was distributed throughout the United States under the Harry and David brand only in Harry and David stores.

Harry and David is recalling 8 oz. bags of Chocolate Covered Select Blend Espresso Beans with "Best if used by" dates after 8/28/05, sold prior to April 5th, 2008. The "Best if used by" date is located in the lower right hand corner of the nutrition label on the back of the bag. Bags subject to this recall do NOT have a "Contains milk, soy" statement on the nutrition label. These products are packaged in 8 oz. clear plastic bags, tied at the top with a tan ribbon.

There have been no illnesses or injuries reported to date. Anyone concerned about an illness/injury should contact a physician immediately.

This problem, which was discovered on April 3, 2008, occurred because the ingredient statement of the bulk product delivered to Harry and David by the manufacturer did not list milk as an ingredient.

Consumers with product may return it to any Harry and David retail store for a full refund. Consumers with questions about the recalled product may phone the Harry and David Customer Service division at 800-233-1101, 24 hours a day.

Since the FCC may not renew Woger's (AB8MQ) Ham license, he is taking bids on his Ham Radio station.
If his application, under administrative review for six months now, is not renewed, Woger plans to purchase FRS, MURS and CB radios with the proceeds.

Why? Because Woger is a law-abiding and good citizen, is why.
Far be it from Woger to EVER violate any law, especially the laws set forth by the FCC.

If his license is not renewed, then it is probable that Woger will do the honorable and honest thing. He will sell his equipment and cease his forays into the licensed Amateur Radio bands.

You are receiving this message because you have requested to be notified if there is a safety recall regarding Tires from NHTSA's Office of Defects Investigation.

NHTSA Campaign ID Number: 08T011

Synopsis:
Nokian Tyres is recalling 931 Load Range E tires, size LT265/75R16, produced between December 2, 2007 and February 8, 2008. These tires fail to conform to the requirements of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 139, "New Pneumatic Radial Tires for Light Vehicles." After testing, a bulge can occur in the lower sidewall on the white sidewall side which indicates the existence of a separation between two lower sidewall components. This condition could result in a vehicle crash. Nokian Ttyres is working with Cooper Tire to notify owners. The affected tires will be replaced free of charge. The recall is expected to begin during April 2008. Owners may contact Cooper Tire Customer Relations toll-free at 800-854-6288 or Nokian Tyres' Consumer Relations Department at 800-565-2525.
For more information for this particular recall, please go to 08T011.

Thank you,

You are receiving this message because you have requested to be notified if there is a safety recall regarding Tires from NHTSA's Office of Defects Investigation.

NHTSA Campaign ID Number: 08T010

Synopsis:
BFNT is recalling 143 Bridgestone V-Steel G-Traction 24R21 truck tires manufactured during the months of March and October 2007. These tires fail to conform to the endurance requirements of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 119, "New Pneumatic Tires for Vehicles Other Than Passenger Cars." The purpose of this standard is to provide safe operation performance levels of tires used on motor vehicles with a GVWR of more than 10,000 pounds. BFNT will notify owners and replace the tires free of charge. The recall is expected to begin on or about April 14, 2008.

For more information for this particular recall, please go to 08T010.

Thank you,

Why so? I have every reason to "belive" that Roger is an honorable and law-abiding Ham licensee until otherwise proven.
He has not been convicted of any wrongdoing and thus must be considered innocent of any and all allegations put forth by you and other Amateurs who have a personal and vengeaful agenda.
Remember the rule of law...innocent until proven guilty.

Don't you just hate it when admitted cork soakers have no qualms about casting the first stone?

Sounds like a racist and separatist propaganda program.... what happened to the "need to come together"?

Try a movie called "what it means to be American".

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Malt-O-Meal Company Initiates Voluntary Recall of Unsweetened Puffed Rice and unsweetened Puffed Wheat Cereals Due to Possible Health Risk
Contact:
Malt-O-Meal Consumer Affairs
877-665-9331

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Minneapolis, MN -- April 5, 2008 -- Malt-O-Meal announced today that it is voluntarily recalling its unsweetened Puffed Rice and unsweetened Puffed Wheat Cereals produced with "Best If Used By" codes between April 8, 2008 (coded as "APR0808") and March 18, 2009 (coded as "MAR1809") because they may have the potential to be contaminated with Salmonella.

The recalled product was distributed nationally, marketed under the Malt-O-Meal brand and as some private label brands including Acme, America's Choice, Food Club, Giant, Hannaford, Jewel, Laura Lynn, Pathmark, Shaw's, ShopRite, Tops and Weis Quality. A comprehensive listing of impacted products can be found at www.malt-o-meal.com/recallinfo.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this situation. All other Malt-O-Meal products are unaffected by this action and are safe for continued sale and consumption. The products affected by this recall represent less than one-half of one percent of the company's annual production of ready-to-eat cereal.

"Our first and highest priority is the safety of the consumers who use our products," said Malt-O-Meal President and CEO Chris Neugent. "It's important that we spread the word about this situation quickly and broadly in order to remove even the slightest possibility that someone will consume something harmful. We apologize for this situation and promise to do everything to complete the recall as quickly as possible."

The recall was initiated after the company's internal routine food safety testing detected the presence of Salmonella in a product produced on March 24, 2008. The company immediately commenced an investigation to determine the root cause of this one positive finding as well as the extent of any possible exposure. Initial results from this follow-up investigation indicate that additional product may have been exposed to this contaminant. Thus, out of an abundance of caution to protect consumers, the company has chosen to voluntarily remove all unsweetened Puffed Rice and unsweetened Puffed Wheat products with "Best If Used By" codes between April 8, 2008 (coded as "APR0808") and March 18, 2009 (coded as "MAR1809"). Investigation into the source of the Salmonella has determined a root cause of this situation and corrective measures have been taken to ensure that there is no reoccurrence of this issue.

Persons infected with Salmonella may experience a variety of symptoms and illnesses. According to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, persons infected with Salmonella may experience fever, diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, and abdominal pain. In rare circumstances, infection with Salmonella can result in more severe illnesses, some potentially life threatening.

Consumers who have purchased any products covered by this recall are urged to return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact the company at 1-877-665-9331. Information regarding this recall, including images of the Malt-O-Meal product packaging, also will be posted to the company's website at www.malt-o-meal.com/recallinfo.

Other Items that I will post from time to time may be of humorous nature, relieving all of us of your constant rantings of sexual harassments, fakes, etc.!

To all of the other users in this group, I thank you for your good compliments.

Don't waste your time. Not only will traffic be an UTTER NIGHTMARE this Year due to road construction but the word from someone on the inside is the advanced reservations for spaces from dealers is at an all time low.
Biggest reasons for lack of enthusiasm in Dayton 2008 are fair to poor sales last year (nobody except the guys who sell junk on the ground broke even for trip expenses) and the high cost of fuel. Gas prices around Dayton are averaging $3.39 for regular unleaded. Best to just order that new radio
online and have UPS deliver it to your door folks.

I like your informative posts, best thing to hit this group in a while. The idiot that lives in the UP can't get it throught his head that he does not run this group, and we can post whatever we deem is relevant. He accuses you of not posting anything on topic, yet I have seen nothing from him in over two years except a never ending whine.

What is it about the following that approximately half the US population not understand?

DO I HAVE THIS STRAIGHT?

HIS FATHER WAS A KENYAN, MOSLEM, BLACK- WE HAVE SEEN PICTURES OF HIS AFRICAN "FAMILY"

HIS MOTHER IS A KANSAN, ATHEIST, WHITE- WHERE ARE THE PICTURES OF HIS KANSAN, WHITE MOTHER AND HIS WHITE GRANDPARENTS WHO RAISED HIM?

HIS FATHER DESERTED HIS MOTHER AND HIM WHEN HE WAS VERY YOUNG AND WENT BACK TO HIS FAMILY IN KENYA.

HIS MOTHER MARRIED AN INDONESIAN MOSLEM AND TOOK HIM TO JAKARTA WHERE HE WAS SCHOOLED IN A MOSLEM SCHOOL.

HIS MOTHER RETURNED TO HAWAII AND HE WAS RAISED BY HIS WHITE KANSAN GRANDPARENTS, HE LATER WENT TO THE BEST HIGH DOLLAR SCHOOLS, HOW?

HE LIVES IN A $1.4 MILLION DOLLAR HOUSE THAT HE ACQUIRED THROUGH A DEAL WITH A WEALTHY FUND RAISER. HOW?

HE "WORKED" AS A CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVIST IN CHICAGO- HAS NEVER HELD A PRODUCTIVE JOB-NEVER RECEIVED A PAYCHECK FROM A BUSINESS WHICH WAS NOT GOVERNMENT FUNDED AND/OR TAXPAYER SUPPORTED. (THE PRESIDENCY IS NOT A CIVIL RIGHTS POST NOR IS IT SUBJECT TO AFFIRMATIVE ACTION SET ASIDES. ON-THE-JOB TRAINING WON'T CUT IT.)

HE ENTERED POLITICS AT THE STATE LEVEL AND THEN THE NATIONAL LEVEL WHERE HE HAS MINIMAL EXPERIENCE.

HE IS PROUD OF HIS "AFRICAN HERITAGE" BUT IT SEEMS THAT HIS ONLY AFRICAN CONNECTION WAS THAT HIS AFRICAN FATHER GOT A WHITE GIRL PREGNANT AND DESERTED HER. I DIDN'T KNOW THAT SPERM CARRIED A "CULTURAL" GENE. WHERE IS THE PRIDE IN HIS WHITE CULTURE?

HE GOES TO A "AFROCENTRIC" CHURCH THAT HATES WHITES, HATES JEWS, AND BLAMES AMERICA FOR ALL THE WORLD'S PERCEIVED FAULTS, INCLUDING "CREATING" AIDS TO INFLICT ON AFRICANS. HE THEN REPEATEDLY WHITEWASHES THE PASTOR, HIS CHURCH, AND THE MEMBERS WHO CHEERED AFTER HEARING THE PASTOR'S VITRIOLIC PULPIT TIRADES.

HE COULD NOT CONFRONT HIS PASTOR BUT HE WANTS US TO BELIEVE THAT HE CAN CONFRONT NORTH KOREA AND IRAN--RIGHT!!!

IN HIS BRIEF TIME IN THE SENATE HE HAS MANAGED TO AMASS THE NUMBER ONE ULTRA-LIBERAL VOTING RECORD OF THE HUNDRED MEMBERS, VOTING CONSISTENTLY FOR BIGGER GOVERNMENT, HIGHER TAXES, BIG ENTITLEMENTS AND LEGISLATION WHICH WOULD SEVERELY CURTAIL AMERICA'S ABILITY TO FIGHT TERRORISM, PROTECT OUR BORDERS AND OUR NATIONAL INTERESTS AROUND THE WORLD.

BUT HE IS A GOOD ORATOR.

YEAH, I THINK I SEE HOW WELL HE COULD BE A UNITER AND BRING US TOGETHER. I THINK THE HOPE IS THAT HE HOPES NO ONE WILL PUT THE PIECES TOGETHER.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, LET ME INTRODUCE OUR NEW CHIEF PILOT. HE DOESN'T HAVE A PILOTS' LICENSE. HE'S NEVER FLOWN AN AIRPLANE. IN FACT HE'S NEVER EVEN SAT IN A COCKPIT, BUT HE'S RIDDEN ON THEM. WE'RE SURE HE WILL GUIDE US SAFELY THROUGH THE STORMS WE ARE ABOUT TO ENCOUNTER ON THIS FLIGHT.

My flight was being served by an obviously gay flight attendant, who seemed to put everyone in a good mood as he served us food and drinks.

As the plane prepared to descend, he came swishing down the aisle and told us that, "Captain Marvey has asked me to announce that he'll be landing the big scary plane shortly, so lovely people, if you could just put your trays up, that would be super."

On his trip back up the aisle, he noticed this well-dressed and rather Arabic looking woman hadn't moved a muscle.

"Perhaps you didn't hear me over those big brute engines but I asked you to raise your trazy-poo, so the main man can pitty-pat us on the ground."

She calmly turned her head and said, "In my country, I am called a Princess and I take orders from no one."

To which (I swear) the flight attendant replied, without missing a beat, "Well, sweet-cheeks, in my country I'm called a Queen, so I outrank you. Tray-up, Bitch."

Mine was in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Here is the scene....spring time, boardwalk, man eating hotdog, gobbles down half and then decides he does not want anymore. Man places hot dog on top of full trash can and walks away. Bum in trench coat and Seagull spot the hot dog at the same time, both move for it at the same time, Bum runs, Seagull flies, Seagull wins, Bum jumps for Seagull from bench while shouting profanities, Bum misses Seagull and hotdog, ends up flying off of boardwalk onto the beach sand below...priceless.

The strange thing was that at the time it seemed like it was happening in slow motion, weird but comical.

Irish Drinking Tale

Paddy had been drinking at his local Dublin pub all day and most of the night.

Mick, the bartender, says 'You'll not be drinking any more Paddy.'

Paddy replies 'OK Mick, I'll be on my way then'. Paddy spins around on his stool and steps off he falls flat on his face.

'What the....' he says and pulls himself up by the stool and dusts himself off.

He takes a step towards the door and falls flat on his face again. Damn!' he says.

He looks to the doorway and thinks that if he can just get to the door and get some fresh air he'll be fine. He belly crawls to the door and shimmies up the door frame.

He sticks his head outside and takes a deep breath of fresh air, feels much better and takes a step out onto the pavement and falls flat on his face.

'Bi'Jezus.. I'm soused,' he says.

He can see his house just a few doors down, and decides to try for it.

He crawls down the street and shimmies up the door frame,opens the door and looks inside. He takes a lookup the stairs and says,

'No flapping way.'But he somehow crawls up the stairs to his bedroom door and thinks,

'I think I can make it to the bed.' He takes a step into the room and falls flat on his face again He says,

'This is hell. I gotta stop drinking,' but manages to crawl to the bed and falls in.

The next morning, his wife comes into the room carrying a cup of coffee and says,

'Get up Paddy. Did you have a bit to drink last night?'

Paddy says,

'I did, Jess. I was totally pissfaced. But how'd you know?

'Mick called..... You left your wheelchair at the pub.'

Recall -- State Press Release
Pennsylvania Agriculture Department Warns Consumers of Tainted Raw Milk Sold By Clarion, Crawford County Dairies
Contact:
Nicole L. Cullison
(717) 787-5085

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Harrisburg, PA -- April 7, 2008 -- Consumers who purchased raw milk from Piney Ridge dairy farm in New Bethlehem, Clarion County, and Clark and Elaine Duncan's farm in Meadville, Crawford County, anytime after March 10 should discard it immediately due to the risk of Listeria Monocytogenes contamination, Agriculture Secretary Dennis Wolff said today.

Raw milk is milk that has not been pasteurized or homogenized. Pennsylvania farms selling raw milk must be permitted and inspected to reduce health risks associated with the unpasteurized products. In 2007, a previous case of Listeria Monocytogenes was found at Piney Ridge dairy.

"During routine testing, samples taken at the dairies tested positive for Listeria Monocytogenes," said Wolff. "If consumers have raw milk from these farms, they should discard it immediately."

No illnesses have been reported as a result of the potential contamination, but if people who consumed the raw milk become ill, they should consult their physicians.

The Department of Agriculture has suspended sales of raw milk at the dairies and is requiring corrective action be taken. Samples were taken from the farms on March 31; they tested positive for Listeria Monocytogenes on April 4.

Multiple laboratory samples must test negative before sales can resume.

Symptoms of Listeriosis are fever, muscle aches, and sometimes gastrointestinal symptoms such as nausea or diarrhea. If infection spreads to the nervous system, symptoms such as headache, stiff neck, confusion, loss of balance or convulsions can occur.

Infected pregnant women may experience only a mild, flu-like illness, but infections during pregnancy can lead to miscarriage or stillbirth.

Symptoms of Listeriosis can appear in four days to three weeks.

With Passover soon upon them, the Jewish community in Madrid found themselves in a desperate situation. There was an acute shortage of horseradish. You probably know that horseradish is the key, if not only, ingredient of that fiery condiment for gefilte fish that is known as chrain.

A hue and cry arose and the entire community was mobilized in an effort to prevent this shonda (shame, tragedy).

All the European Union countries gave the same reply, "Sorry, we have none to send."

In desperation, the Rabbi phoned one of his Yeshiva friends in Tel Aviv and begged him to send a crate of horseradish by air freight.

Two days before Passover, a crate of grade Aleph, tear-jerking, Israeli horseradish was loaded at Ben Gurion Airport onto EL Al flight 789 to Madrid, and all seemed to be well.

Unfortunately, when the Rabbi went to the Madrid airport to claim the horseradish, he was informed that a wildcat strike had just broken out and no shipments would be unloaded for at least four days.

As a result, the chrain in Spain stayed mainly on the plane.

A Jewish man was in a supermarket in Thornhill, Ontario. He saw a black woman trying to get her young child to put down a candy bar he had picked off the shelf.

"Latrell, you put that down! It's not kosher!"

Intrigued, the young man decided to investigate. "Excuse me, ma'am, are you Jewish?"

"No."

"So, why did you say that?"

"Why? I'll tell you why. ' Cuz I see all them Jewish mothers saying that to their kids -- and it works, so I decided to try it."

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

North Aire Market Issues Allergy Alert on Possible Traces of Almonds in Chicken Dumpling Soup Mix
Contact:
North Aire Market, Inc.
952-496-2887

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- April 8, 2008 -- North Aire Market of Shakopee, MN is recalling 99 boxes of Chicken Dumpling Soup Mix because they may contain undeclared traces of almonds. The 99 boxes were sold in various parts of the country primarily to specialty gift shops and through the company's web site under the brand, "Maggie & Mary's Chicken Dumpling Soup Mix." The lot codes related to this recall are: 0730810, 0720810, 0910810, 0920811, 0920810, 0930810, 0980810, and are found on the bottom of the retail box.

The dumplings in the soup mix may have may have been exposed to residual traces of almonds which may have been present on machinery used to package an almond containing product earlier. However, no almond traces were found on the machinery, no almond traces were found within any dumpling packages, and there are no reports of illness associated with this recall. This recall is precipitated by an uncertainty as to whether one step in the sanitizing procedure was properly followed to make the machinery ready to package the 99 units.

The Company has been in phone contact with 86 % of the stores which received this product and is making attempts to reach the remaining stores.

Consumers who have purchased Maggie & Mary's Chicken Dumpling Soup Mix are urged to contact North Aire Market at 800-662-3781 and will be given a full refund of the purchase price of the product.

261. Olympic Torch Relay re-routed due to perv's from 20 Meters

Word now comming out of San Francisco is the Olympic Torch was rerouted when Chinese Officials, IOC Personnel and the Mayor of S.Fra spotted three well known ham radio operators within the nudist protest contingent. (look up nudists olympics under Google news folks) It seems that three rather portly/near obese hams wearing nothing but baseball caps with ham callsigns on them were protesting the olympics not being conducted in the nude as in past centuries in Greece. Each one of them also had a 20" long day-glow neon "double-honker" dildo sticking partway out of each of their buttocks, the exposed end having been retrofitted with a blinking LED lamp and waist strap to hold the same errect, each having a small handwritten sign hanging from the same saying: "CQ-CQ Dis be duh real Olympik Flame!". IOC and Chinese officials were so disgusted that they each threw up the contents of their stomaches from an earlier IOC Torch Relay Luncheon and the Mayor of S.
Fra immediately ordered a route change for the olympic Torch Relay, commenting on the event: "..those hams are the biggest g-ddammed perverts I have ever seen!
Only a Nimbuster ham radio turd from 14.275 would go naked with a dildo sticking out (their buttocks) in public". The Chinese Delegation later reported that the chef was to hold serving egg rolls at all future ICO venues.
More news
as we get it!

(Ummmmmpreffffff BAARFFFFFFFFFFFFF!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!)

How insulting!

269. Do call "cq" on 2 meter repeaters

According to the hams at the arrl, proper ham procedure is to call cq on 2 meter repeaters if you're using irlp, echolink, or similar.

According to other hams, you should never ever call cq on 2 meter repeaters no matter what, not even if you're going through irlp or echolink because calling cq on 2 meter repeaters is not proper ham procedure.

It's only for shortwave frequencies below 30 mhz.

Here is my experience:

Today, I decided to try out echolink from my computer at home.

I do not live in New York state. I decided to connect to a repeater in New York City. I listened to the latter advice above, and announced my call and "listening" instead of cq.

Then after listening for a while, I announced my call and "clear" as I intended to disconnect.

Right before I disconnected, but after I already announced "clear", I heard one of the hams say that was improper i.d. and that I should have i.d.'ed by using "/portable" after my callsign.

The trouble with that is that I was NOT portable. I was stationary at my home computer.

Hoowever, since I didn't call cq on the two meter repeater, he mistakenly thought that I was physically in New York city away from my home and id'ing improperly.

which I wasn't

Some of you might be thinking"that's what you get for using a computer instead of a real radio"

However, I realized that this same problem can happen with a real radio. Even if you're using IRLP (which requires a real radio at both ends).

And yes I do have a real radio.

So I'm going to have to agree with the ARRL onn this particular subject that proper procedure is to call cq on 2 meter repeaters when going through irlp or echolink.

Cracker Barrel Issues Allergy Alert on Mislabeled Chocolate-Covered Peanuts and Almonds
Contact:
Julie Davis
615-443-9266

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE --Lebanon, TN -- April 9, 2008 --- Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc. is recalling 5-ounce bags of chocolate-covered almonds and 5-ounce bags of chocolate double-dipped peanuts because the packaging is labeled incorrectly. The product labeled as containing chocolate-covered almonds may contain chocolate double-dipped peanuts and the product labeled as containing chocolate double-dipped peanuts may contain chocolate covered almonds. People who have an allergy or a severe sensitivity to peanuts or almonds run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume these products.

Products were available at all Cracker Barrel Old Country Store® locations in 41 states. Products were packaged in a clear 5-ounce polybag with a red and white diamond pattern on the label.

No illnesses or allergic reactions have been reported to date. No other candies or packaged food items are a part of this recall, and there is no health risk for consumers who are not allergic to peanuts or almonds.

The recall was initiated after the issue was reported by Cracker Barrel store management upon receipt of the product. Subsequent investigation indicates the problem was caused by a temporary breakdown in the supplier's labeling and packaging processes. This labeling error was limited in scope and no other food products were involved.

Consumers who purchased these products are urged to return them to any Cracker Barrel location for a full refund. Consumers with questions about the recall should call Cracker Barrel at 800-333-9566.

TI have it on good authorioty that another dick head named Freddie Wallace in the rocketry group was also shit out by his momma. Poor old bitch died and Freddie Boi had a tought time dealing with losing the only real love he ever had besides his own right hand. Mom used to fuck and suck him allthe time, and when she died he continued to fuck that rotting corpse until it was just a grease stain on his living room floor. I hear he is finally getting aorund to "breaking in" that left hand now and he can switch hands almost as good as the other rocket group members.

A woman walks into an accountant's office and tells him that she needs to file her taxes.

The accountant says, 'Before we begin, I'll need to ask you a few questions'. He gets her name, address, social security number, etc. And then asks her,' What's your occupation?'

'I'm a Lady of the night,' she says.

The accountant is somewhat taken aback and says, 'Let's try to rephrase that.'

The woman says, 'OK, I'm a high-end call girl'.

'No, that still won't work. Try again.'

They both think for a minute; then the woman says,' I'm an elite chicken farmer.'

The accountant asks, 'What does chicken farming have to do with being a prostitute?'

'Well, I raised a thousand little peckers last year.'

'Chicken Farmer it is.'

A man entered a restaurant and sat at the only open table. As he sat down, he knocked the spoon off the table with his elbow.

A nearby waiter reached into his shirt pocket, pulled out a clean spoon and set it on the table.
The diner was impressed. "Do all the waiters carry spoons in their pockets?"

The waiter replied, "Yes. Ever since we had that efficiency expert out, he determined that 17.8% of our diners knock the spoon off the table. By carrying clean spoons with us, we save trips to the kitchen."

The diner ate his meal. As he was paying the waiter, he commented, "Forgive the intrusion, but do you know that you have a string hanging from your fly?"

The waiter replied, "Yes, we all do. Seems that the same efficiency expert determined that we spend too much time washing our hands after using the men's room. So, the other end of that string is tied to my penis. When I need to go, I simply pull the string to get my unit out, go, and return to work. Since I don't actually touch myself, there's no need to wash my hands.
Saves a lot of time."

"Wait a minute," said the diner.
"How do you get your ..er.. unit back in your pants???"

"Well, I don't know about the other guys, but I use the spoon!"

Manny is in hospital and knows he is dying. As he lies in bed in his private room, struggling to breathe, his family and children around him, he starts to talk very quietly.

"Freda," he whispers.

"Yes dear, what is it?" Freda says.

"I want you should know something before I die. Harry the butcher owes me $100, Levine the pharmacist owes me $400, and our next door neighbor Moishe owes me $600 and the return of my lawnmower. Don't let them off, will you?"

"Of course I won't, darling," Freda replies.

Freda turns to her children and says, "Oy, what a wonderful man your father is. Let this be a lesson to you all - even though he's dying, he still knows who owes him money. What a mensh he is."

Then Manny finds some strength to say a bit more.

"Freda, I want you also to know that I still owe Bernard, my cousin, $1,700 of the $5,000 he lent me 3 years ago."

"Oy vey," cries Freda, "it's nearly the end for my Manny - he's getting delirious!"

The Inner City SAT

Schools are finally starting to teach practical math that these kids can use in real-world situations! It's about time!

NAME_____

GANG/CREW NAME_____

CRIB_____

1. Ramon has an AK-47 with a 30-round clip. He usually misses 6 of every 10 shots and he uses 13 rounds per drive-by shootin. How many drive-by shootins can Ramon hit before he reloads?

2. Leroy has 2 ounces of cocaine. If he sells an 8 ball to Antonio for $320 and 2 grams to Juan for $85 per gram, what be the street value of the rest of his shit?

3. Dwayne pimps 3 ho's. If the price is $85 per trick, how many tricks per day must each ho turn to support Dwayne's $800 per day crack habit?

4. Raul wants to cut the pound of cocaine he bought for $40,000 to make 20% profit. How many ounce bags will he need to make to gets the 20% upside?

5. Desmond get $2000 for a stolen BMW, $1500 for stealing a Corvette, and $1000 for a 4 x 4. If he steals 1 BMW, 2 Corvettes and 3 4x4's, how many more Corvettes must he steal to have 9000 bills?

6. Pedro got 6 years for murder. He also got $10,000 for the hit. If his common-law wife spends $100 of his hit money per month, how much money will be left when he gets out?

7. If an average can of spray paint covers 22 square feet and the average letter is 3 square feet, how many letters can be sprayed with 3 - 8 oz. can of spray paint with 20% paint left over?

8. Tyrone knocked up 4 girls in the gang. There be 20 girls in his gang. What be the percentage of bitches Tyrone knocked up?

9. LaShaunda is a lookout for the gang. LaShaunda also has a Boa Constrictor that eats 5 rats per week and the cost be $5 per rat. If LaShaunda makes $700 a week as a lookout, how many weeks can she feed her snake with one week income?

10. Marvin steals Juan's skateboard. As Marvin skates away at 15 mph, Juan loads his 357 Magnum piece. If it takes Juan 20 seconds to load his piece, how much away will Marvin be when he gets whacked?

Using CQ is ok when using voice or cw simplex on VHF/UHF, but on a repeater, it usually depends on where you live and the proceedures normally used in that area. Where I live, I have never heard anyone use CQ on a repeater system, and doing so here is considered a poor operating practice. Most folks just drop in their call and add "listening". The folks I hear using irlp or echolink, usually drop in their call and identify that they are using either "irlp or echolink" and state where they are located. Personally, I prefer not to use either or communicate with anyone coming in via the net, because IMO it is not ham radio. If you are using the net to facilitate the QSO, it just takes all the "ham" out of it, like shooting fish in a barrel. You might as well get on the telephone.

I had a conversation with a neighbor a few years back and we were discussing ham radio. He asked "why should I bother getting a ham license, I can get on the net and talk to people all over the world without a radio? My response to him was, "if you think that is all there is to ham radio, your are right, you should not get a ham license. He agreed and said his only interest would be in just talking to other people and "could care less about any of the technical stuff or why it works". I tend to think that for most of us being a ham (or for those who are into the CB) is not just about the QSO, it is the combination of experimentation and building our stations, what we can accomplish with a radio and a piece of wire, or a simple homebuilt antenna. The fact that we can send a full color high quality photos thousands of miles away with just a piece of wire, a computer, and a transceiver. It is about the fun that we have with folks with the same interest that turn into new friends, most you would never meet if it was not for ham radio (or CB). But most important, let's not forget the pure magic of it, the mystique of it all. I still think it is pretty cool after 30 plus years of tinkering with radio.

The only time I've ever heard someone call "CQ" on a local repeater was when that person was doing so to be humorous. It is simply NOT done, though not by any written rule that I know of.
Even when UHF/VHF band openings occur and when we can sometimes get into distant repeaters, even then I prefer to simply state my call and my location.
Echolink is another horse. Not to say that I am the end-all on this but when I access a repeater via Echolink I give my call, city of origin and mention "via Echolink".

I have, on occasion, heard Hams call CQ when using 2 meter sx on sideband during band openings and this seems to be more than acceptable.

Know what irks me most? When some newbie, usually a no-coder on a handi-talkie, chats on a local repeater and tells his buddy, "You're full-quieting here." Oh, DUH!

LOL. It seems that most of those "lack of experience and knowledge" who say that are some of the ones who have been into it the longest.

Not everone who's been in it the longest, but some of them.

I even saw one poster comment that FM isn't real ham radio.

I guess that's probably from the days when ham radio was only cw and am on shortwave.below 30 mhz.

It is not "would of", but "would have", Todd.

I have not the time to sort out which repeaters ask users to call CQ. That cannot be seen when using Echolink. I don't care about your repeater.

I will STILL do this in the manner that I see as correct for everybody listening. I will give my call, my city of origin and let the listeners know that I am visiting their repeaters via Echolink.
This leaves no doubt to any who may be monitoring the repeater(s).
And, yes, I HAVE accessed a few repeaters in Japan and do it in the manner described above. To date I have NEVER had anybody inform me that I am not using proper portocol.

I've heard your childish rants, foul rants on 20 Meters, Todd, so for you to posit what are and what are not good good operating procedural methods on any Ham band is WAY out of your league.

Most posts I have seen made by hams agree with you that it's poor operating practice. What I don't understand is why the organization that "represents most amateurs in the U.S." promotes as proper operating procedure and good operating practicr that most amateurs in the U.S. consider poor operating practice.

After all, they seem to be claiming that they are representing what most U.S. amateurs want.

I've also noticed several other discrepancies between what most amateurs posts say and what the ARRL says, such as using "break" or "break break".

Most posts I seen say not to use that on ham adio since on ham radio, it means it's an emergency and is to only be used in emergencies.

However, according to the arrl study books, saying that is the proper way to break into ham conversations when it's not an emergency,

It's standard proper operating procedure on ham radio according to the arrl study books.

I personally think that some other things in the arrl study books even contradicts their own selves!!!

 Most folks just drop in their call and add > "listening".

The arrl study book agrees with that for local repeater chatter that's not through irlp or echolink.

 The folks I hear using irlp or echolink, usually drop in > their call and identify that they are using either "irlp or echolink" > and state where they are located.

That seems good to me, although I suspect some people will think it's too lengthy when cq would be much shorter.

The way I understood it was that the cq was to let the people on the distant repeater know that you're not currently physically in their location.

Which is why I think they suggested calling cq through irlp and echolink, and saying your callsign and "listening" if you're not going through those.

w
 Personally, I prefer not to use

I'll agree it's not real ham radio, but the same thing can be said about the fm repeaters linked by landline.

I just wanted to test it out plus it's the only way I can currently get on from inside my house until I can save up enough money for a handheld.

Since I decided to install my radio in my car instead of using it as a base.

He probably has a point. there's restrictions on ham radio where there isn't on the net.

He can't legally sing over ham radio, but can in chat rooms. Although I have personally heard some hams singing over the ham radio in the past (on my scanner).

He can't legally pass third party traffic to certain countries via ham radio, but can via chat rooms on the net.

So he doesn't have to worry about that restriction either.

Of course, if the power goes out.....

 I tend to think that for most of us being a ham (or

yes. I've basically always been interested in tv and radio and how they work.

The fact that we can send a full color high quality photos

That's one of the reasons I got into it. I'm interested in slow scan tv and fast scan tv besides just fm voice.

And besides just using repeaters, I also want to do dx on simplex, although I've already seen some hams say "if your signal is that weak, then no one wants to hear your signal anyways" and suggesting to not transmit if that's what you're going to do!!!

I thought doing simplex dx was one of the maint things ham radio is about.

At least all the magazines I read about it in the 70's and 80's suggested that was one of the main things it was about.

Although I It is about the fun that we have with folks with the

I agree. I agree. And I do plan on using my radio more. The computer just isn't quite the same, although I think there's a place for it also.

Besides, I like to see how far I can reach with my radio.

I do like that irlp and echolink are now available. Although it brings up a bunch of new questions,about proper operating procedures, or at least new to me.

that's exactly what the arrl study books say is proper operating so once again, what the arrl study books say is proper operating proper operating procedure or the law in some countries to do so.

Actually, it's would've. Would've as an abbreviation for "would have" is where the misinterpretation comes from since would've is pronounced "would of"

And yes, I know I might have misspelled misinterpretation.

The message I wanted to reply to seems to have disappeared, so I'll reply to it in this one. I would have told him I was using the repeater echolink

except I had already announced clear and pushed the disconnect button.

Windows Vista on a laptop seems to take a while.

Telling someone, anybody, that they are "full quieting" on a local repeater who's antenna is 300 feet in the air with 300 watts out is plain stupid. Of course it is "full quieting".
I care not a whit what the ARRL "study book" says...I maintain that common sense should rule instead.
Good operating procedures go a long way...but you go ahead and read that "study book" and do what you will. Have you colored all the pictures yet?
I don't often use area repeaters, but the next time some Newbie on an HT tells me that I am "full quieting" into his HT via a 300 watt output repeater...well, I am not going to justify his comment with a response.
Again, it is, in my opinion, poor operating procecure to call CQ on a repeater, ANY repeater. Go ahead...do it if you wish. I think you will find that the folks who listen to that repeater will quickly brand you as an inexperienced Newbie and you will most likely get no response. Unless, of course, there is, like you, another inexperienced rookie listening.

that's what I thought also and was my idea also.

But then some hams argued that when operating echolink from your computer, you're not using a radio in your country, and that the other country's laws then apply even though you are in your own country.

Other hams argues the opposite. That the rules in your home country still apply and not the other country's since you're still physically in your home country.

Both groups had good points. Which is why the issue is so confusing.

I had to think about it for a while, and there are still some confusing points left even after that, but after thinking about it,

If I'm using my home computer to transmit from a repeater in the UK and not transmitting any radio frequency in or from the U.S., how do FCC amateur radio rules apply since there's not any radio transmitters transmitting from the U.S. in that case?

The FCC doesn't have any authority over UK repeaters. Which would be the only place I would be transmitting radio frequency from in that case.

Even though I would still be physically located in the U.S. at that time in that case.

So which country's rules apply? The U.S. or U.K.?

After all,, since I'm still physically in the U.S., the U.S. rules would seem to apply.

After all, all of the years I spent in school, I learned that the rules and laws of the country that you are currently physically located in are the ones that apply.

Some people say that's what happens when you allow access from a computer instead of keeping it strictly radio.

Agreed. At least IRLP requires a radio at both ends, but even that seems to have some confusing I.D. procedures.

Unless I misunderstood the I.D. procedures.

That's strange. I learned in school that there is such a word..

The teachers and textbooks said there is. And when learning about contractions, we had to answer it was in order to get the answer marked as correct.
Answering that it wasn't would get your answer marked as correct.".

And of course, the correct answers to "ain't" were the opposite of "would've"

Since "ain't" isn't a proper contraction since "ain't" isn't a word.
Or so we were told in school.

So imagine my surprise when visiting out of state once and I saw textbooks saying that "ain't" is a proper word!!!!

And saying ain't is a proper contraction!!!

And the English textbooks used there were even published by the same publisher that published the English textbooks used in my schools!!!!!

So why the difference in what they said?

I have an idea of why now, but back then I was totally confused since I was taught "ain't ain't a word"

Although you do now have me wanting to look in the dictionaries around here to see if any of them list would've or not.

Look again. There is no "would've" in any common dictionary this side of your parents' basement.
Had you any working knowledge of the proper use of the written word, you "would have" known how to to present a proper spelling.
Despite how you pronounce it, "would of, could of, should of" is not getting it.

Try "would have", "should have", or "could have".

interesting. Some nearly final points.

1. I agree with the person who said U.S. laws while in the U.S. Until this year that is what I have always heard and have always been taught from every source; that the rules and laws which apply to you are the country that you are currently physically located in whenever the action takes place.

For example, making a landline telephone call from the U.S. to someone in Canada and saying something that's illegal to say in Canada, the U.S. rules apply since you are physically in the U.S. instead of Canada at the time you make the telephone call.

So I would tthink that it would be the same using a radio to call from the U.S. to Canada, that U.S. rules apply.

Although some hams disagree with the above.

And of course, we dont want to offend the Canadians or any other country over the radio since one of the purposes of ham radio is to promote international goodwill.

However, there's even places entirely withing the U.S. where what is a perfectly innocent and unoffensive in one area of the U.S. is cosidered very offensive in another area ofthe U.S. And can even get you permanently locked up for life for comitting a very very serious crime that you never ever committed.

Just because the words mean different things in different areas of the U.S. than they do in other areas of the U.S.

Knowing that, I now try to go with the flow. Which means my my old English teachers are probably having hissy fits. ;)

2. When I was in school, the dictionaries we used didn't list any contracted words at all since they were contractions of two or more words instead of the actual words theirselves.

According to the two dictionaries we have here, one didn't list "would've" at all, and also didnt list any other contraction, which is exactly what I expected to happen.

And the other English dictionary didn't even list "would" as a word!!!

According to that dictinary, even "would" itself is not a word!!!

3. What I have learned:

That I should have just memorized thr questions and answers at the back of the book instead of studying the whole book for the ham radio test. ;) Studying the whole book was a big mistake since most ham radio operators disagree with a bunch of what the study books say are and are'nt proper operating procedures.

At least most posts I've seen everywhere on the internet seem to disagree with them.

In actual operating practice, I'll listen to see how other people around here do it , and try to follow accordingly when operating around here.

I agree with the person who basically said it's impossible to know the operating practices of the thousands of different repeaters around the world.

I have already gotten complaints from my neighbors about me following the instructions that came with my "mobile amateur radio", although the complaints aren't about radio frequency interference.

I haven't even talked to anyone on it yet.

The insstructions that came with my mobile amateur radio said to not use it while mobile, only when stationary such as when parked in your driveway.

So I haven't talked on it while mobile yet, even though I've never had problems with any accidents while talking on a cb while mobile.

The instructions also said to not use it while the car is turned off. The instructions said to only use it while the engine is running.

So I obeyed and listened and used it parked in my driveway with the car engine running just like the radio's instructions said was the only proper way to use it.

the neighbors complained about my car engine running.

However, they didn't complain to me about it. They complained to my parents and sister and brother-in-law about me doing that.

And I heard about it from them.

In order to be a good neighbor, I now disobey the radio's instruction book rules and make sure my car is turned off and not running while using the radio

Unless Im mobile.

Both exactly what the radio's instruction book says NOT to ever do.

In my opinion, the neighbors had a good reason for complaining about the car engine noise.

No, my car's not a lemon. It runs perfectly fine and doesn't make any more noise than any other car.

4. I'm looking forward to talking to people in different states and countries on the radio. That was the main purpose of ham radio when I was growing up or at least was what ham radio promoted as it's main purpose when I was growing up.

While promoting electronics experimentation as it's secondary purpose.

I'm interested in both, anyways.

I'm not quite sure how it got twisted around today to 'emergency servvicers" as being it's only primary purpose with anyone who uses it to talk about technical radio things being lids who arent using it for it's intended purpose of keeping all frequencieds constantly quiet unless you have an emergency.

yes, the rules were always that you had to give any emergency communication priority. but as I remember, that was never listed as the primary purpose of ham radio in the past. Even on CB, you have to give priority to any emergency communications. Does that make cb's primary purpose only for emergency communications and nothing else?

As I remember it, from the radio magazines I used to read, the reason the "recognition" of the emergency services on amateur radio was added by hams who wanted the FCC to recognize that they provide emergency services. Which was and is a good idea.

But it seems to have somehow got twisted around over the years from referring to what the FCC must do to meaning what hams must do.

Unless all of those radio magazines were wrong, very unlikely imo.

In legal circles, even the words "libel" and "slander" somehow got twisted around from meaning "any negative statement that isnt true" to meaning "any negative statement period".

In the past, I always learned from all sourcers that if a negative statement was true, then it is not libel and not slander.

I don't know how it got twisted around to it is. Given what I noticed recently, I suspect the big companies and corporations were somehow behind getting it's meaning legally twisted around.

Of course priority should always be given to emergency communications, and I will if any come up, but since ham radio presented itself as primary purposes being social, dx, and radio experimentation when I was growing up, thats what it will always be to me.

And no it wasn't from growing up hearing these newcomers promote the wrong things of social, dx, and radio eperimentation instead of the proper way of keeping all channels constantly quiet unless its an emergency communication.

I grew up at a time when most of the hams writing the articles promoting ham radio as primarily first and foremost social,dx, and radio experimentaion were the original hams or people who were at least elmered by the original hams, depending on the person's age and how long he was a ham.

Yes, I know some things change over the years, but twisting things around completely is a different story altogether.

If that had been done in the past, we probably wouldnt even know today that the shortwave frequencies are good for long distance communications.

Everyone would still think the frequencies are useless.

Im not agreeing or disagreeing since I don't know what that's all about, however the above paragraph is the perfect example of what's currently illegal to say in Canada, but thankfully is still currently legally allowed to be said in the U.S.

although some people are trying to make it illegal to be said here also.

Well, there is at least one Canadian who is anti-RH, although I wouldn't call him anti-American.

Even though he does seem to have the impression that the U.S. is violating the amateur radio requirement to "promote international goodwill" by just having RH as head of the FCC.

Im not sure how many other foreigners do and dont feel the same way as that particular Canadian.

Or even how many Americans do and sont feel the same way as that particular Canadian.

I'm not agreeing or disagreeing.

It's probably not that. Until last year or this year, for decades 2 meters has been very active around here. Now I hear almost nothing.

Either most of them went all digital (very unlikely imo. I don't even hear digital noise)

or they all died off at the exact same time last year or this year.

Seriously, for whatever reason, 2 meter ham radio seems to be just about dead here now, which is near a major city.

So he could cause more trouble for more people by buying frs, murs, and cb than by transmitting illegally on 2 meters.

I'm not saying he is or isn't that kind of person or would or wouldn't do such a thing since I don't know him and haven't seen his posts yet.

vhf/uhf ham radio being almost dead here now (but not quite buried yet) is one reason that I think currently having irlp and echolink and such is a good idea.

Even if echolink isn't quite "real radio".

One of the requirements of amateur radio is to advance the art of radio.

I've noticed that separate technologies seem to naturally merge together over time.

So now that I think about it, it was only natural that ham radio and the internet might eventually merge together in some way.

Complain away, FCC Enforcement Notice Boy. And as for the no archive header, that's my newsreader's standard configuration. I think that Google Groups has seriously damaged Usenet, and I don't want them to ever archive any of my copyrighted, fantastic material on their servers. Google Groups is a place I normally have killfiled, but I had the filters disengaged when your post came through (my bad). So many of us Really Cool Folk dislike Google Groups that there are now Usenet service providers who filter Google posts out of their feeds - a growing trend. See http://www.nnseek.com if you want to look at the newest provider which blocks Google Groups posts from ever appearing in its Usenet offerings.

Slowly, Usenet is ridding itself of Google. In another six or seven years, you and your runny-nosed pals can sit around in the Google

Groups sandbox and play in the spam, while the real Usenet is carried on somewhere else.

A biker is riding by the zoo, when he sees a little girl leaning into the lion's cage.

Suddenly, the lion grabs her by the cuff of her jacket and tries to pull her inside, to slaughter her, under the eyes of her screaming parents. The biker jumps off his motor cycle, runs to the cage and hits the lion square on the nose with a powerful punch.

Whimpering from the pain the lion jumps back letting go of the girl, and the biker brings her to her terrified parents, who thank him endlessly.

A NY Times reporter has seen the whole scene, and addressing the biker, says, 'Sir, this was the most gallant and brave thing I saw a man do in my whole life.'

'Why, it was nothing, really, the lion was behind bars. I just saw this little kid in danger, and acted as I felt right.'

'Well, I'll make sure this won't go unnoticed. I'm a journalist from The New York Times , you know, and tomorrow's paper will have this on the first page. What motorcycle do you ride and what political affiliation do you have?'

'A Harley Davidson and I am a Republican. '

The journalist leaves.

The following morning the biker buys The New York Times to see if it indeed brings news of his actions, and reads, on first page:

'BIKER GANG MEMBER ASSAULTS AFRICAN IMMIGRANT AND STEALS HIS LUNCH.'

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Herbal Science International, Inc. Recalls Twelve Dietary Herbal Supplements Nationwide Because of Possible Health Risk Associated with Ephedra, Aristolochic Acid and Human Placenta
Contact:
Ginger Chang
(626) 333-9998

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- City of Industry, CA--April 10, 2007- Herbal Science International, Inc. (AKA Jen-On Herbal Science International, Inc.) is recalling twelve dietary supplements that contain ephedra, aristolochic acid or human placenta because they may present a serious health hazard to consumers.

FDA has long regarded dietary supplements containing ephedra as potential health hazards because this botanical contains ephedrine alkaloids. Ephedrine alkaloids are adrenaline-like stimulants that can have potentially dangerous effects on the heart. Recent studies have confirmed that ephedrine alkaloids raise blood pressure and otherwise stress the circulatory system, effects that are linked to adverse health effects like heart attacks and strokes. Based on this and other evidence in the scientific literature, FDA issued a rule in February 2004 prohibiting the sale of dietary supplements containing ephedrine alkaloids because they present an unreasonable risk of illness or injury. The company is recalling nine products that contain ephedra, a source of ephedrine alkaloids, as an ingredient sold labeled under the following brands:

Wu Yao Shun Qi San
Qing Bi Tang (Nasal Cleanser)
Zhong Fong Huo Luo Wan (Stroke Revito Formula)
Xiao Qing Long Tang (Little Green Dragon)
Ding Chuan Tang
Xiao Xu Ming Tang
Feng Shi Zhi Tong Wan (Joint Relief)
Guo Min Bi Yan Wan
Fang Feng Tong Sheng San

Herbal Science International, Inc. is also recalling Tou Tong San (Headache Formula) and Du Huo Ji Sheng Tang (Du Huo Joint Relief), two products containing aristolochic acid. Aristolochic acid is a potent carcinogen and nephrotoxin found in certain plants and botanicals. This chemical can cause serious kidney damage and the use of products that contain aristolochic acid has been associated with several occurrences of kidney failure. These products have also been linked to an increased risk of kidney cancer in people who have consumed them.

Finally, the company is recalling Seng Jong Tzu Tong Tan, a product that contains human placenta. Human placenta may transmit disease and dietary supplements that contain it may not be lawfully marketed in the United States.

All of the twelve products under voluntary recall are packed in white plastic bottles of 100 capsules. All lots are covered in this recall action. These products have been sold nationwide in herbal stores, by acupuncturists and on the internet.

Consumers who have purchased these products should immediately discontinue their use and return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact the company at (626) 333-9998. Consumers who have been taking the products and have experienced adverse reactions should consult their health care professional. Consumers and health care professionals can also report adverse events to the FDA's MedWatch program at 800-FDA-1088 or online at www.fda.gov/medwatch/report.htm.

No illnesses have been reported to the company to date in connection with these products and the company has ceased distribution of all of these products.
Herbal Science International, Inc. apologizes for any inconvenience and expresses its concerns for the health of consumers by conducting a voluntary recall action. Herbal Science International, Inc. promises to ensure quality and integrity of all its products and the company is working closely with the FDA in the recall process.

> That ought to keep you busy for a while...

nah. I can't draw. But that isnt my problem.

Basically, because of my mom I can't really use ham radio or echolink in the house.

Don't get me wrong. She will let me have and use a ham radio in the house or echolink in the house.

And she will let me have a big honking ham antenna in the yard to connect it to.

And she will let me have a big honking cb antenna in the yard.

The problem is her behavior. Her behavior is definitely what's not appreciated in the amateur radio service and would definitely make me lose my ham ticket and get me fined.

And you all thought the behavior of the truckers on cb channel 19 was bad.

And not only her behavior, but other little things as well.

I'm renting an apartment from her, although I want out. But just can't afford it. My current apartment is only one room with no walls.

So when she turns the tv on downstairs, it can be heard up here.

So if I'm already transmitting and she turns the tv on, I have only two choices.

1. In order to obey FCC rules that no incidental music is transmitted over amateur radio, sign off immediately without I.D.'ing at the end of my transmission, a clear violation of FCC rules.

2. In order to obey FCC rules requiring I.D.'ing at the end of my transmission, I.D. at the end of my transmission with the incidental music playing in the background, a clear violation of FCC rules.

The only way around this inside the house in order to not get fined by the FCC is to never ever transmit on ham radio at all from inside the house.

nor echolink either.

That is part of the reason I decided to install my radio in my car instead.

Although even that is risky for similar reasons to those given above.

In my opinion, mhy mom can really give the truckers on channel 19 a run for their money.

Nice guess, but that's incorrect. Thanks for playing our game. You'll be receiving our consolation prize--a two-year, all expenses paid stay at West Virginia's Terra Alta Funny Farm.

The point was he is not "ham" material, he was just looking for another medium to talk through. Like some guy who has his whole family get their tech tickets just because they are too cheap to buy cell service. Usually those folks don't last too long and after ten years the licenses get cancelled.

IF what people say about him on this newsgroup is true, then the FCC should have gave him the call letters KB9QRZ

instead of KB9RQZ

It would be interesting to find out why Roger's Ham license renewal has been on hold since last October. Apparently Roger and Riley are at odds again and it is a very real possibility that Roger may lose his license once and for all.

Bye, bye, Roger.

www.nimbusters.org

The Nim board is a rather free-wheeling board where folks go to leave comments and verbally attack one another. In Roger and Mark's cases, the two of them flame the board with silly one-liners. It is a hoot. Mark can't spell for diddly, and Roger can't write anything more creative than his usual sophomoric filth. Both hang out in the Ham Radio section, which was made especially for Hams by the administrator of the board. And like everything else those two touch, they quickly turned the board into a sewer. Since Mark has been banned from posting in the QRZ forums and others, the Nim board was his last bastion. The administrator of the board took it down a few days ago, but it seems that he put it back up again. Check it out. You can easily pick Mark's posts out...they are the one-liners with poor spelling. Dittos for Roger's posts...they are the filthiest ones on the board and poor Roger is still fixated on Lloyd Davies.

No it was directed to "Radio Guy"

Try to follow the conversation once and a while.

Now you are seeing why Mark is so unpopular. He feels that each and every post is directed at him and he has a strange compulsion to respond to all.
Then, when all else fails, he wrongfully accuses the commentor of "staking" (Mark's spelling) or Libel or whatever other goofy accusation he can come up with.
It is because of these strangely odd characteristics that Mr. Heil likened Mark to a Myna bird, a rather appropriate description if ever there was one.

Dave is not going to respond to you, Myna Bird. If you are seeking more personal information concerning Roger, you are going to have to go elsewhere.

Now it is YOU who is doing the stalking. How ironic.

GO BACK NIM FUCKERS YOU STUPID PIG SCROTUM SACK

And you and Mark think you are collectively going to "take this group back"???
You two freaks????

Fat chance of that ever happening.

By the way, Toddie. I have a very nice recording of you losing it on 20 meters. Aside from your cussing, your shrill, effeminate voice only served to affirm that you are what you are. An immature psycho throwing a childish temper tantrum.
Tell us, Todd. Were you thrashing about on the floor, kicking your little footsies up and down and banging your teensy head on the carpet while you wailed at the 20 Meter bullies for ignoring you?
You sounded like a ten year old girl.

Notice you do not deny posting kid porn, N9OGL. You can't deny it.

That ham was a self-righteous idiot with entirely too much time on his hands. In the US there is no reason at all why a US ham needs to sign "portable." We know in NY that a 4-call is "portable." It's pretty obvious when I identify in 7-land that I am operating "portable." It's an archaic practice and one that, quite honestly, irritates the hell out of me. But it is a PRACTICE, and not a REGULATION.

It's like the morons on a local repeater here who will actually SAY "hi hi" when they hear something humorous. I mean... come on.. it's a voice mode, for Christ's sake, you can actually chuckle, chortle, or even laugh out loud!

Oh... and the "nothing heard" sign off. As in... K2ABC, K2ABC, this is K1DEF. {pause} Nothing heard, K1DEF clear. Where the hell did that come from. Of course, nothing was heard. I heard nothing, you heard nothing, so why state the painfully obvious, and then indicate your total idiocy by throwing your call in there? You identified yourself when you called K2ABC.. there is NO need at all to "clear" yourself from the repeater.

Aww hell.. where's that damned soapbox.. I'm gonna do this right... I'll be right back, gotta find that stupid box....

Funny. Just HOW do you propose to "sue" your town? With what money? Your parents?

You will have to obtain the services of an attorney first, and it is unlikely that your part-time job as a floor sweeper at Wal-Mart will suffice.

But, hey. Stranger things have happened. Maybe you can find one of those "Pro Boner" lawyers who also likes kiddie porn and who will take your case in exchange for some of your kiddie porn collections.

But then, Todd, the "little town" lawyers will probably point out that you are stealing Wi-Fi and have a severe mental problem. Ergo your lawsuit will go nowhere but the trash can.

I actually feel sorry for you, Todd. You could better serve your purposes by staying off this newsgroup. You are only making a further fool of yourself and, in the process, are providing the rest of us with proof positive that you are highly unstable. But, what the heck. We all need someone to laugh at...

Thanks for stating what I have wanted to state for some time.
This idiocy of calling another on a repeater and then..well, you get my drift.
Why not simply stop calling if the other station does not respond? How simple is that?
Hell, everybody else has already heard your call and they know there was no response, so why the added bovine manure?

I often listen, tho I do NOT use area repeaters, and hear a few stalwarts using their calls and the calls of the respondent on each and every transmission. For instance, "AB9XXX to AB9XYX." Then at the close of their two minute response, these nuts say, "AB9XXX over to AB9XYZ". They spend more time giving their calls than they do communicating.
And on the other side of the coin, while I am on MY soapbox, there is always one on every repeater who "reminds" others to ID every ten minutes. I had this happen to me years ago when I was talking to a fringe station on a local repeater whom I could not reach on simplex. The self-appointed Blowgut repeater admin "reminded" me to ID every ten minutes. I told him that he has known me for 10 years, he knows who I am and I told him to go pound sand....

Insofar as that "portable" ID goes, that is all but old hat these days. These new No Code Tecchies have no idea what that is. For instance, it is not at all unusual for a local Ham to retain his call from an old address in another state. We can do that now, you know. Only a few oldsters still adhere to this archaic practice and it is, thankfully, falling by the wayside.

I do make an occasional exception to this rule, however. I sometimes go aloft in a hot air balloon and will, when in flight, give my call and say, "Aeronautical Mobile". I do this not because of any set protocol, but because by so identifying myself I get numerous responses from Hams who get a kick out of talking with a fellow Ham who is aloft and who may be flying over their homes.

Now, if we could get the new Hams to stop using the ten codes while on the calling freq. of 146.520 I'd be ever so happy. I even heard one of them using a damnable Roger Beep the other day.

I'm going back to HF.

Whereas you need to stop being a little cunt altogether.

I can understand your anger, Todd. That little male member you were born with must be an ongoing embarassment to you. But of course no woman has seen that little thing since your mom bathed you last month.

I think I might suggest to Roger that he send snail mail to your neighbors and see if they are aware that you are stealing their Wi-Fi. You claim that they have OK'd it, but that is your spin. My guess is that you are stealing their bandwidth at night when they are asleep and they are not aware of your theft of service.

I see that your keyboard is still stuck on Cap letters only. I would kindly suggest that you clean some of your DNA goo from under the keys. Or get a new keyboard to "sticky up".

Nope...this is not from Todd. This is from Roger. Typical lack of

NHTSA Campaign ID Number: 08T012

Synopsis:
Hercules Tire is recalling 2,005 Load Range E tires, size LT265/75R16, produced between December 2, 2007 and January 12, 2008. These tires fail to conform to the requirements of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 139, "New Pneumatic Radial Tires for Light Vehicles." After testing, a bulge can occur in the lower sidewall on the white sidewall side which indicates the existence of a separation between two lower sidewall components. This condition could result in a vehicle crash. Hercules Tire is working with Cooper Tire to notify owners. The affected tires will be replaced free of charge. The recall is expected to begin during April 2008. Owners may contact Cooper Tire Customer Relations toll-free at 800-854-6288 or Hercules Tire's Consumer Relations Department at 800-677-9535.
For more information for this particular recall, please go to 08T012.

Mark, are you going to take that shit from a cartoon pedo like Toad?
I mean really, the guy is a fucking loser who lives in his parents house, and works at (snicker) Wal-Mart, Bwahahahah!. BTW Toad, the proper words are "you are", not "YOUR." You fucking illiterate baboon, go crawl back under your rock.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 12, 2008
Media Inquiries:
Michael Herndon, 301-827-6242
Consumer Inquiries:
888-INFO-FDA

Salmonella Illnesses in Multiple States may be Linked to Recently Recalled Cereal
The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) today announced that at least 23 people in 14 states have been diagnosed with salmonellosis that was caused by the same strain of Salmonella that was found in the recently recalled unsweetened Puffed Rice and unsweetened Puffed Wheat Cereals produced by Malt-O-Meal.

The recalled products were distributed nationally under the Malt-O-Meal brand name as well as under private label brands including Acme, America's Choice, Food Club, Giant, Hannaford, Jewel, Laura Lynn, Pathmark, Shaw's, ShopRite, Tops and Weis Quality. The cereals have "Best If Used By" dates from April 8, 2008 (coded as "APR0808") through March 18, 2009 (coded as "MAR1809").

Consumers should throw out any product in their homes from these recalled lots. Grocery stores and other retailers should promptly remove the cereals from their shelves.

Salmonella is a type of bacteria that can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Symptoms of foodborne Salmonella infection include nausea, vomiting, fever, diarrhea, and abdominal cramps. In persons with poor health or weakened immune systems, Salmonella can invade the bloodstream and cause life-threatening infections.

Individuals who believe they may have experienced an illness consistent with the symptoms described above after consuming a puffed wheat or puffed rice cereal made by Malt-O-Meal should contact their health care practitioner immediately and report the illness to their state or local health authorities.

On April 5, 2008, Malt-O-Meal voluntarily recalled the cereals because the company's routine testing found Salmonella in a product produced on March 24, 2008.

The FDA is working with Malt-O-Meal to determine the cause of the contamination and with the states and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to identify and prevent additional illnesses.

A full list of recalled products can be found at www.malt-o-meal.com/recallinfo.

Bwahahah! Toad, you are an idiot. I think you are a Ying to Mark's Yang, he can't spell worth a hoot and you can't use proper wording or grammer.

First, you should have said "HELL A PIECE OF SHIT HAS", "OF" is the correct connector word, not "A". Second, the word you should have used is "intelligence" not "intelligent."

Now take your sorry cartoon pedo ass back down into your Mother's basement, where she keeps all of her discarded useless items.

you used th e word "Putz
you are guilty of sexual harrassment"

You are correct for once - I did use the word "PUTZ" but it has 2 definations:
1. Slang A fool; an idiot.
2. Vulgar Slang A penis.

Is this sexual harrassement - not really - BUTT you can take it either way - because both of the defination fit you and your constant whinning like a 3yr old whose mommy just took away the candy from him!

I did not confess to anything - you need to either get new glasses or get your present pair cleaned!

You need to read what I said "Is this sexual harassment - not really - BUTT, you can take it either way - because both of the definitions fit you and your constant whining like a 3yr old whose mommy just took away the candy from him!"

I think that everyone else (not you of course) in this group will agree with me!

Why don't you do everybody in this NG a big favor - go dig yourself a big hole and jump in & take all of your play toys including your computer with you - I wouldn't think of doing it myself, because just everybody here appreciates my postings and not yours!

OK folks - here is one posting that will never be deleted!

The president of the radio club has just stated that my application would get lost, or that I would not get voted on!

Keep it up - a copy of this is going to the ARRL - we see how long your club stays a member of the ARRL!

No, instead you sit behind keyboard masturbating to cartoon kiddie sex in your Mother's basement, what a fucking loser.. Nevertheless, a real woman would not touch a loser like you unless you paid her, but since you can't even afford a whore with your Walmart job (snicker), just keep on playing with it KY boy.

BTW the word is SEND, not SENT, you fucking illiterate baboon.

Toad, why do you have a fixation with homosexuality. Maybe Mark will welcome you into the fold. Better to be gay than a cartoon pedo.

No, I'm not. It's just that other peoples' posts purposely confused me and other people.

I saw something somewhere (I forget where) claiming that KB9QRZ wrote them.

And contained a bunch of sicko things in the messages. along with that callsign.

But they weren't from your user name in this newsgroup.

I don't recall ever seeing any sicko things in posts labeled from "an old frend".

I've asked this before and you had no answer, let see if you have one now. Where have I libeled you...provide a proof of your accusation of libel...but once again as I suspect you will not have on ounce of proof of anything except your continued whine. Fatty.

You are a homo, you openly admit that you are not in the closet and that you have sex with males. Therefore, you are a homo. You denying that you are not a homo is quite amusing.

Well lets see, I have seen your photo and you look like you are fat...therefore calling you fatty is not libel, it is my opinion that you are in fact deserve the title "fatty" it is not libel, second you post a lot of moronic shit, so I will also call you a fucking moron.

> you are also using MY email ady in your post thatis harasment

No I am not using your email address, it may appear to be similar to an email address that you use during your little fits, BUT IT IS NOT THE SAME you fucking idiot. Maybe if you did not have so much fat around your fucking brain you could learn to read and stop making false claims that someone is using your email address. Mark, going through life fat and stuipid is a disgrace.

Note: This weeks newcast has several audio intensive stories which cannoy properly be displayed as text. We suggest that you go to our website at www.arnewsline.org and download and play the mp3 audio version of this weeks newscast. -- ARNewsline ")
The Morse code comes to the Internet, a middle-East broadcaster highlights ham radio, and Newsline celebrates newscast number 1600 with a look back. Please join us for this trip through time on Amateur Radio Newsline" report number 1600 coming your way right now.

HAM RADIO ON THE NET: IRC MORSE COMES TO THE WWW

It was bound to happen and now it has, Morse code over Internet Relay Chat or IRC.

According to its host website, CWirc is a plug-in for the X-Chat IRC client. It is designed to transmit raw Morse code over the internet using I-R-C servers as reflectors. The transmitted Morse code can be received in near real-time by other X-Chat clients who are equipped with the CWirc plug-in.

CWirc tries to emulate a standard amateur radio rig. It has the ability to send and receive Morse over virtual channels, and it can listen to multiple senders transmitting on the same channel. Morse code is keyed locally using a straight or iambic key connected to a computers serial port, or using the mouse buttons, Sound is played through the soundcard or through an external sounder.

Note that CWirc doesn't do any Morse decoding. It simply transmits and receives C-W timing events. The program and your computer does the rest to give you a Morse code experience without the radio, the antenna or any T-V-I.

More about CWirc is on-line at users.skynet.be/ppc/cwirc/ The website also has historic information on the Morse code and the telegraph. (Southgate)

RADIO LAW: KANSAS PROTECTS HAM RADIO TOWERS AND ANTENNAS

Kansas Becomes 26th State to have a law assuring to rights of hams to have antennas. Known as the Kansas Emergency Communications Preservation Act the new measure is fashioned after federal statute PRB-1.

The wording of HB 2805 is simple an unambiguous. It states that if a municipality takes any action that regulates the placement, screening, number or height of a ham radio station antenna structure, that this action must reasonably accommodate federally licensed amateur radio service communications. Also that the action must constitute the minimum regulation practicable to carry out the legitimate purpose of the governing body.

As to existing towers and antennas: These are grandfathered under a stipulation that says antenna support structures constructed prior to the bill's effective date are exempted from subsequent changes in zoning regulations. Also that they may be repaired as needed.

According to Tom Laux, N0AG, the Salvation Army was very supportive of the measure. Representatives of the Salvation Army twice testified in support of it at hearings held in Topeka. Laux says that they were fantastic.

The bill, written was by Rep Arlen Siegfreid. It unanimously passed in both the houses of the Kansas legislature. Kansas Governor Kathleen Sebelius signed HB 2805 into law on April 9. It takes effect July 1, 2008.

In the newsroom, I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF. Jim. (QRZ, eHam, N0AG, others)

WORLDBEAT - LEBANON: AL JAZEERA TELEVISION COVERS HAM RADIO

Amateur Radio was highlighted on Quatar's international television service Al Jazeera. This in a documentary news show on Sunday April 6th. Amateur Radio Newsline's Burt Hicks, WB6MQV, is here with the details:

The Al Jazeera program, Hadeeth Al Sabah featured Radio Amateurs of Lebanon President, Hani Raad, OD5TE. Raad talked about Amateur Radio principles and his personal experience in ham radio emergency service communications over the past 28 years.

By way of background, Hani Raad, OD5TE, is a graduate of George Washington University with a degree in Electrical Engineering. He also holds the United States call sign AA3EI and was very active in both ARES and RACES when he lived in the Washington D.C area. As such he holds expertise on the methods used in the area of ham radio Emergency Communications in both the United States and Lebanon.

The show, which was repeated on Monday the April 7th, was described as a look at both worlds of ham radio and the way in which hams respond in time of crisis in both.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Burt Hicks, WB6MQV, saying a happy 1600 to all.

In an e-mail to Newsline, OD5TE said that the program was extremely successful and all the feedback he has received form hams around the world has been very positive. (OD5TE, others)

HAM HAPPENINGS: WORLD AMATEUR RADIO DAY AND THE WARD AWARD

World Amateur Radio Day 2008 will take place on April 18th and this year you can win an award just for taking part in this years celebration. That's because the Polish Radio Amateur's Journal, with the support of the Polish Amateur Radio Union will be sponsoring this years WARD or World Amateur Radio Day award. Amateur Radio Newsline's Bruce Tennant, K6PZW, has the details:

By way of background, each year on the anniversary of its founding, the International Amateur Radio Union marks its inaugural meeting in Paris. A meeting that took place on April 18th some 83 years ago.

In honor of this historic event the IARU dedicates World Amateur Radio Day to the future of the world-wide service. And in continuing this theme the World Amateur Radio Day award will be granted by the Polish Radio Amateur's Journal to those who make either 10 QSOs on the High Frequency bands, or 10 QSOs on the VHF bands. All contacts must be made between 0000 and 2400 U-T-C on April 18th.

The full colored award is also available to SWL's for the same numbers of reports. To claim it you will need to send a completed application form along with a log extract that includes your list of QSO's and 5 International Reply Coupons to the The Polish Radio Amateur's Journal. Its address is MK QTC, Suchacz-Zamek - Wielmozy 5b, 82-340 Tolkmicko, Poland. Miore information is on-line at www.ward.pzk.pl

Saying a happy 1600 to all, I'm Bruce Tennant, K6PZW, in Los Angeles, for the Amateur Radio Newsline.

RESCUE RADIO: CANADIAN EARTH HOUR EXERCISE A SUCCESS

An emergency communications radio system was tested in Southern Ontario Canada during the March 29th Earth Hour. That's when the Toronto FM Communications Society in association with the Canadian Amateur Radio Emergency Service and Emergency Management Ontario conducted a trial of the ability of the amateur radio repeater system in the Southern Ontario to respond to crisis situations.

During the Earth Hour, the Toronto FM Communications Society net control station operated from an Emergency Management Ontario mobile command center. He logged in excess of 60 stations. All were operating on emergency back-up power sources with some operators in Hamilton to Oshawa and north to Barrie responding. The exercise proved the importance of amateur radio operators and repeater organizations in the event of a widespread disaster.

Toronto FM Communications Society operates repeaters on the CN Tower in Toronto, Ontario as well as at the highest elevation in Southern Ontario atop the Skyloft Ski Resort in Uxbridge, Ontario. More about the group is on line at www.tfmcs.com (eHam, PRWeb)

If you are into emergency communications and public service, then Reno, Nevada, is the spot to be the weekend of May 2nd to the 4th. Amateur Radio Newslie's Don Carlson, KQ6FM, is in Reno with the details:

EMCOMMWEST 2008 is returning to "The Biggest Little City in the World", Reno, Nevada, It will be held at the Circus Circus Hotel in downtown Reno, May 2-4.

This year's keynote speaker will be Dennis Dura, K2DCD Emergency Preparedness and Response Manager from the ARRL headquarters in Newington, CN. Dennis will bring some great information about how we can be better emergency communicators, and use the latest technology and resources available in doing so.

Emcommwest will also feature a special video presentation from Riley Hollingsworth, K4ZDH special council of the FCC's enforcement Bureau, who has agreed to do the video which will be shown at EMCOMMWEST.

Also, Emcommwest will welcome Gordon West, WB6NOA from southern California, who was with us a few years back will return as the Saturday night banquet speaker and also host a forum during the event as an introduction to Emergency Communications, and he will have a display booth set up in the vendor hall. Gordon is also bringing his mobile communications unit for us to see. Banquet seating is limited, so make reservations early!

Forums covering leadership, handling PIO duties during callouts, working with different served agencies, MARS, the latest technology, and many new presentations will highlight this year's event. Emcommwest will also have it's own SPECIAL EVENT STATION, operating on HF, UHF and VHF! Pacific Division Director Bob Vallio, W6RGG will host an ARRL forum on Sunday May 4 with many SM's and other officials taking part.

There will be raffle prizes, including radios, power supply, and many other items along with an all new, larger vendor room and an all day amateur licensing class along with VE testing, so non-ham attendees can become licensed while they are there. Advance conference and banquet registration is now available online via the website, at www.emcommwest.org. Special room rates are available from Circus Circus, via a link on the website. For information, email your requests to: info@emcommwest.org We are looking forward to a great EMCOMMWEST this year!

ENFORCEMENT: FCC TELLS TWO HAMS TO STAY OFF LOCAL REPEATERS

Two hams in different parts of the country have received warning letters from the FCC. Letters that tell them to stay off of certain repeaters in their respective geographic areas.

In New York, the trustees of the K3TSA 2 meter repeater system had requested in writing that David R. Henry, W2DRH, refrain from use of that repeater. The request was issued as a result of Henry's alleged failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee and or the control operators of the repeater and of the FCC rules. The FCC says that Henry had previously been requested to refrain from using the system, but had apparently ignored both verbal and written requests.

The FCC not only warned Henry that any further unauthorized use of him by the repeater will bring enforcement action against his license. It also noted that his license expires on April 21, 2009. It says that his license will not be routinely renewed unless this matter is resolved.

A warning letter has also been sent to Edward R. Drone, W0NYF. In this instance the trustee of the St. Louis and Suburban Radio Club repeaters K0STL, N0TYZ, W0FF and W0SRC had requested in writing that Drone refrain from use of the repeaters. The request was issued as a result of his alleged failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee and control operators of the repeaters for their users.

In a conversation with the FCC in February 2008 Drone reportedly acknowledged that he had been directed to stay off of the repeaters and stated that he would comply. However, the FCC says that on March 31st he was heard utilizing the K0STL repeater and reportedly stated that he would not refrain from using it.

Now, in its April 2nd letter to Drone the FCC warns him that it expects him to abide by the request to stay off of the repeaters and any other such request by a repeater licensee, control operator or trustee. It warns W-Zero-N-Y-F that failure to do so will lead to enforcement action that could include revocation of his license , or a modification proceeding to restrict the frequencies on which he may operate.

Drone was also asked to contact FCC rules enforcer Riley Hollingsworth and issues with him. (FCC)

RADIO LAW: NEW CALIFORNIA HANDS-FREE MOBILE PHONE LAW MAY IMPACT TWO-WAY RADIO AFTER ALL

California's soon to be in force hands free mobile phone law could impact on two way radio users after all. While a recently released pamphlet released by the states Department of Motor Vehicles states that the use of dedicated two-way radios such as walkie-talkies or Citizen Band radios is not affected by the new hands-free law, there are some who tend to disagree. And because of this two camps of thinking have developed.

Those fearful of the consequences of the new law are of the opinion is that judges will ignore the language in the Department of Motor Vehicles pamphlet. Instead, this group believes that those adjudicating such a case will refer to the actual law which does not generally exempt two-way radio operations from the hands-free provision.

However, a contrary opinion is that the law clearly refers to and is written around wireless telephone handsets and their use. These people note that most two-way radios are not wireless telephones. Also, that even the California Highway Patrol seems to acknowledge that the new law is about Wireless Telephones only.

The bottom line. Its likely that one of these days someone will get ticketed for using a business band radio, a C-B set or even a mobile ham radio station. That will be the test case and we are all going to have to wait and see if it actually happens and what the final outcome will be. More is on-line:

THE CHANGING OF THE GUARD: AZDEN'S LEW REINBERG, W2BIE - S.K.

Once again the changing of three guard in ham radio continues. This with word that Lew Reinberg, W2BIE, formerly with the Amateur Radio Products division of Azden Communications, has passed away.

Reinberg came to Azden after a long career in the photographic and electronics industries. This, as a final job prior to his full retirement several years ago. He left when Azden announced that the company had decided to exit the ham radio marketplace.

First licensed back in 1954, Reinberg was active on all bands from HF through UHF. He was an avid DX'er and well known in both the New York City and Baltimore, Maryland ham radio communities. He was a fixture with the Long Island Mobile Amateur Radio Club almost since the groups inception and its said that there was a room in Lew's house that wasn't within ear shot of a ham radio or scanner.

Lew Reinberg, W2BIE, is survived by his wife Elaine, W2ECR, and son Steven, N2HOK. Services for W2BIE were held on Monday, March 17th at the Young Israel of West Hempstead Temple on New York City's Long Island. (K2EPM)

THAT FINAL ITEM: CELEBRATING 1600 WEEKS OF THE AMATEUR RADIO NEWSLINE

And finally this week & Hmmm... How many times have you heard those words on these newscasts? The words "&and finally this week."

Well, if you have been with us since the beginning in 1977, this week marks the 1600th time one of our news anchors has introduced the last story of the week with those words going right back to the days we were the Westlink Radio Network.

It Jim Hendershot, WA6VQP, who originally conceived, produced and voiced the Westlink newscasts. Actually, Westlink was originally intended for one newscast to talk about the pros and cons of the hottest topic of the day. That topic was repeater deregulation:

Audio only: Please download and play the mp3 version of the newscast available at www.arnewsline.org

--

That's how it started. And after 70 some off newscasts, Jim Hendershot moved away from Los Angeles, turning the reins of Westlink Radio over to Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF. He in turn solicited the assistance of two friends from NBC News. Broadcast Engineer Bill Orenstein, KH6QX, and the late Alan Kaul, W6RCL:

Over the years there were many highlights of the world of Amateur Radio that Westlink and then Newsline covered live on tape. Among them the grand opening of the ham radio station on board the Queen Mary Ocean Liner and the first QSO's from its refurbished radio room.
That happened back on April 4th of 1979, when the late D-X'er Don Wallace, W6AM, made that opening night contact.

Then there was the first contact made from the space shuttle Columbia by astronaut Owen Garriott, W5LFL, and Lance Collister, WA1JXN, in Ferenchtown, Montana. That QSO took place on November 28th 1983 and we were the first to bring not only the story, but the sound of the actual contact as well:

But not all of the stories we covered were happy times. One of the saddest days in ham radio history took place on May 23, 1980. At three minutes into the launch of Amsat's Phase 3 A satellite something went wrong with the French-built launch rocket and the ham radio payload went into the sea:

Undaunted, within a few weeks Amsat began work on Phase 3B. It would go to space on June 16, 1983 and became the highly successful AMSAT-OSCAR 10. A year later, A Oh 10 was used for the first ever HT to HT repeater to repeater contact and we brought the sound of that historic moment to your repeater and even to your HT:

Admittedly by today's standards with the Internet, IRLP and Echolink that 1984 repeater interlink using a ham radio satellite sounds kind of crude. But it did open the eyes of many hams who had been conditioned to think of a repeater as a purely local device. Suddenly repeaters had matured to where a 2 watt H-T could be heard nationwide. Eventually the technology of the 1990's and this first part of the 21st century would give a tiny hand held a voice heard around the world.

And so here we are in April of 2008, some 30 years and 8 months after the very first Westlink radio bulletin aired in Los Angeles. Back then, none of us had any idea that it would be here this long and that some of us who were there back then would still be doing it now. But we are and we will continue for as long as you want us. In our book, you are the most important reason that we work to bring you a timely news bulletin every week. And as we say at the end of each newscast, and as we say again today, we thank you for listening.

Im' Jim Davis W2JKD.

561. The K7RA SOLAR UPDATE ~ FROM THE ARRL

The K7RA Solar Update

As of Thursday, April 10, there have been no sunspots for seven days. We may see sunspots return around April 21-28. This is based on recent activity rotating out of view around the Sun and (we hope) reappearing later this month.

If you look Thursday's forecast, you will see the predicted solar flux remaining at 70 until April 20 when it reaches 75, then 80 on April 21. The predicted higher solar flux should correlate with the return of sunspots. This prediction is updated daily after 2100 UTC. After 2100 UTC April 11, you can see the new prediction by changing 041045DF.txt at the end of the URL to 041145DF.txt. You can also go here to select a daily forecast from the list; sometimes there is a delay before the latest forecast is listed and you can see it much sooner by changing the date in the URL as shown above.

From that same forecast you can see quiet geomagnetic conditions predicted until April 22-24. Geophysical Institute Prague predicts quiet to unsettled conditions April 11, quiet April 12-13, quiet to unsettled April 14, unsettled April 15, quiet to unsettled April 16 and back to quiet on April 17.

Rob Steenburgh, KA8JBY, of Longmont, Colorado, sent some links useful for detecting sunspots on the Sun's far side, using helioseismography, one at the National Solar Observatory and one at Stanford University. Note that you can also animate these to see recent activity in motion. The technique is described here.

Back on February 15, we mentioned an article in a daily business publication that spoke of an upcoming Maunder Minimum. The article contained fabricated quotes from Dr Kenneth Tapping who works at the observatory in British Columbia where we get our daily solar flux data. I was surprised to see this same article in the monthly VHF column in CQ Magazine recently. But I saw it on March 31, and it was the April issue. I understand that this was really supposed to be some sort of April Fools jest, but it went awry, probably due to miscommunication with the editor who was already running a traditional, whimsical April item. Once edited, it lost the April 1 flavor.

Of course there is a long tradition in Amateur Radio publishing regarding strange and fantastic articles in the April issue. Sometimes it is difficult to tell. For instance, as a 12 year old, Novice I was unaware of this tradition and was very interested to read in an April QST about some new paint that could be applied to towers. It was supposed to "shift" reflected light "outside the visible spectrum," and therefore render the structure invisible. Well, nearly so. It should still block light from passing through it, but the article claimed the effect was some kind of fuzzy non-image, a sort of visual void of uncertain nature.

I didn't realize that this was a joke until reading the Correspondence section in the May issue. Imaginative readers had a lot of fun with this; one woman wrote that her ham husband was trying out the paint on a recent Saturday and she hadn't seen him since.

Mike Schatzberg, W2AJI, of Tryon, North Carolina, wrote to report conditions during the recent period when we actually had daily sunspot activity. He was mentioned previously in this bulletin, November 17, 2006. He wrote again about excellent conditions on 20 meters. Mike wrote on April 4, "I had to let you know about the unusual and steady strong signals I have been working on 20 meters the past three days. East Coast propagation to the Far East and Indonesia have been extraordinary. Low power stations, with fewer than 100 W and wire antennas abound, and I am able to read them with S5 to S9 signal strengths on my Orion II transceiver.

"Two Americans, -- Chuck, HS0ZCX, with only 100 W and a wire beam antenna, and Peter, XU7ACY (NO2R) -- have been booming into the East Coast with S9 signals. They are heard during the morning hours at about 1300 UTC, along with Ralph, HS0ZSC, who is also very strong. Yan, YB0BCU, is always S9 from Jakarta during the same time period.

"The evening hours have also been a delight into the Orient. Propagation remains good into Japan for much of the night, but many lower power stations can also be worked on SSB from both China and Taiwan. Last night, between 0100 and 0300 UTC, once you steer around the many calling Asian Siberian stations, Japan, China and Taiwan were extremely active. BD2QAF, BU2AQ and JA2AXB all had S5 or better signals with low power.

"I should add that short path is again open in the evening hours back into the South Pacific. Todd, ZL2SP, was mobile with 100 W and a mobile whip and he was S5 here. VK signals were Q5 during this period also. It seems that many American stations are not aware of the late evening openings as yet, and the bands are really quiet while working the low power DX. I have been using my usual 20 meter monoband Yagi with 44 foot boom at 75 feet for DXing. It doesn't get much better than this. Strong signals and little QRM. Enjoy!"

Mike sure has some nice antennas in a great location. See them here and here. Note the last link shows he has been looked up more than 41,000 times on that site. That indicates a very active ham. His personal web site also has photos of other stations and their antennas. Don't miss VK3MO's photos here.

If this is just the beginning and we are still enjoying sunspots from Solar Cycle 23 with little action from Cycle 24, how much better will things get? I guess I better get my log periodic finished for the higher bands, because 15 and 10 are already having their "DX Moments."

Amateur solar observer Tad Cook, K7RA, of Seattle, Washington, provides this weekly report on solar conditions and propagation. This report also is available via W1AW every Friday, and an abbreviated version appears in The ARRL Letter. Check here for a detailed explanation of the numbers used in this bulletin. An archive of past propagation bulletins can be found here. You can find monthly propagation charts between four USA regions and 12 overseas locations here. Readers may contact the author via e-mail

VIA CERTIFIED MAIL - RETURN RECEIPT REQUESTED

Edward R. Drone

2421 Northland Avenue

Sycamore Hills, MO 63114

RE: WARNING NOTICE: Amateur Radio license W0NYF

Dear Mr. Drone:

The trustee of the St. Louis and Suburban Radio Club repeaters
K0STL

(146.940 MHz), N0TYZ (146.910 MHz), W0FF (146.970 MHz) and W0SRC (146.850 MHz) has requested in writing that you refrain from use of the repeaters.
The request was issued as a result of your failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee/control operators of the repeaters for their users. In a conversation with this office in February 2008 you acknowledged that you had been directed to stay off of the repeaters and stated that you would comply. However, you utilized the K0STL repeater on March 31, 2008 and stated that you would not refrain from using it.

The Commission requires that repeaters be under the supervision of a control operator and not only expects, but requires, such control operators and licensees to be responsible for the proper operation of the repeater system. Control operators may take whatever steps are appropriate to ensure compliance with the repeater rules, including limiting the repeater use to certain users, converting the repeater to a closed repeater or taking it off the air entirely.

Please be advised that we expect you to abide by the request to stay off of the above-listed repeaters and any other such request by a repeater licensee, control operator or trustee. If you use any of the repeaters again after receipt of this letter, we will initiate enforcement action against your license, which may include revocation, monetary forfeiture (fine) or a modification proceeding to restrict the frequencies on which you may operate W0NYF. Fines normally range from $7,500 to $10,000.

Please call me at 717-338-2502 if you have any questions about this matter.

Sincerely,

W. Riley Hollingsworth

Special Counsel

FORFEITURE ORDER

Adopted: March 4, 2008 Released: March 6, 2008

By the Acting Regional Director, Northeast Region, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUD

1. In this Forfeiture Order ("Order"), we issue a monetary forfeiture in the amount of four thousand three hundred dollars ($4,300) to Ronald Mondgock ("Mondgock"), the former licensee of Novice Class Amateur Radio Service station KA3OMZ in Honeybrook, Pennsylvania, for willfully and repeatedly violating Section 301 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("Act"), by operating radio transmitting equipment on the frequencies 439.850 MHz and 147.560 MHz without a license.

2. On August 15, 2007, the Philadelphia Field Office issued a Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture ("NAL") to Mondgock in the amount of $10,000 for operating radio transmitting equipment on the frequencies 439.850 MHz and 147.560 MHz without a license. In its response to the NAL, Mondgock does not dispute the findings, but requests a cancellation of the forfeiture based on his inability to pay.

III. DISCUSSION

3. The proposed forfeiture amount in this case was assessed in accordance with Section 503(b) of the Act, Section 1.80 of the Rules, and The Commission's Forfeiture Policy Statement and Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Rules to Incorporate the Forfeiture Guidelines ("Forfeiture Policy Statement"). In examining Mondgock's response, Section 503(b) of the Act requires that the Commission take into account the nature, circumstances, extent and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and other such matters as justice may require.

4. With regard to an individual's or entity's inability to pay,
the Commission has determined that, in general, gross revenues are
the best indicator of an ability to pay a forfeiture. After examining the financial documentation submitted by Mondgock, we decline to cancel the forfeiture, but find that a reduction in the forfeiture to $4,300
is warranted based on Mondgock's demonstrated inability to pay
the full forfeiture amount proposed in the NAL.

IV. ORDERING CLAUSES

5. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to Section 503(b) of
the
Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and Sections 0.111, 0.311 and
1.80(f)(4) of the Commission's Rules, Ronald Mondgock IS LIABLE FOR A MONETARY FORFEITURE in the amount of four thousand three hundred dollars ($4,300) for violation of Section 301 of the Act.

6. Payment of the forfeiture must be made by check or similar instrument, payable to the order of the Federal Communications Commission.
The payment must include the NAL/Account Number and FRN Number referenced above. Payment by check or money order may be mailed to Federal Communications Commission, P.O. Box 979088, St. Louis, MO 63197-9000.
Payment by overnight mail may be sent to U.S. Bank - Government Lockbox #979088, SL-MO-C2-GL, 1005 Convention Plaza, St. Louis, MO 63101. Payment by wire transfer may be made to ABA Number 021030004, receiving bank TREAS/NYC, and account number 27000001. For payment by credit card, an FCC Form 159 (Remittance Advice) must be submitted.
When completing the FCC Form 159, enter the NAL/Account number in block number 23A (call sign/other ID), and enter the letters

"FORF" in block number 24A (payment type code). Requests for full payment under an installment plan should be sent to: Chief Financial Officer
--
Financial Operations, 445 12th Street, S.W., Room 1-A625,

Help Desk at 1-877-480-3201 or Email: ARINQUIRIES@fcc.gov with any questions regarding payment procedures.

7. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Order shall be sent by First Class and Certified Mail Return Receipt Requested to Ronald Mondgock
at his address of record.

Enforcement Bureau

February 25, 2008

David R. Henry

23 White Oak Drive

Cuddebackville, NY 12729

Re: Amateur Radio license W2DRH: WARNING NOTICE

Dear Mr. Henry:

The trustees of the K3TSA repeater system operating on 145.350 MHz has requested in writing that you refrain from use of the repeater. The request was issued as a result of your failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee/control operators of the repeater and FCC rules.

You were previously requested verbally to refrain from using the system, but have apparently ignored both verbal and written requests.

The Commission requires that repeaters be under the supervision of a control operator and not only expects, but requires, such control operators and licensees to be responsible for the proper operation of the repeater system. Control operators may take whatever steps are appropriate to ensure compliance with the repeater rules, including limiting the repeater use to certain users, converting the repeater to a closed repeater or taking it off the air entirely.

Please be advised that we expect you to abide by the request to stay off the above repeater system and any other such request by a repeater licensee, control operator or trustee. If you use the repeater again after receipt of this letter, we will initiate enforcement action against your license, which may include revocation, monetary forfeiture (fine) or a modification proceeding to restrict the frequencies on which you may operate W2DRH. Fines normally range from $7,500 to $10,000.

Additionally, we note you complained that on February 13, 2008, the control operator of the K3TSA repeater shut down the repeater while you engaged in emergency communications. You had previously been warned not to use the repeater and, moreover, three of the five control operators of the K3TSA repeater witnessed the communications and reported that there was no emergency situation.

We note that that your license expires on April 21, 2009. Please be advised that your license will not be routinely renewed unless this matter is resolved.

Sincerely,

W. Riley Hollingsworth

Special Counsel

cc: FCC Northeastern Regional Director

570. Special Events to Commemorate 96th Anniversary of Titanic Tragedy via ARRL

Special Events to Commemorate 96th Anniversary of Titanic Tragedy

Several Amateur Radio special event operations are scheduled to mark the 96th anniversary of the sinking of the RMS Titanic. The "unsinkable" White Star Line passenger vessel was on its maiden voyage from Liverpool, England, to New York City when it struck an iceberg and sank early on April 15, 1912. More than 1500 people perished, while some 700 passengers in 19 lifeboats were rescued by the RMS Carpathia, whose radio operator copied the frantic distress call (the still common "CQD" signal, possibly coupled with the then-new "SOS") transmitted by MGY radio operator Jack Phillips as the Titanic foundered.

W0S

Special event W0S, which stands for "White Star Line," will be on the air from the Titanic Museum in Branson, Missouri. The W0S operation will commence at 1300 UTC on Saturday, April 12, and conclude at 2400 UTC on Sunday, April 13. Members of the Nixa Amateur Radio Club and the Southwest Missouri Amateur Radio Club (SMARC) will be among those at the helm of W0S. Icom, Vibroplex, MicroLog, Rayfield Communications and MFJ are corporate sponsors for the event.

Look for W0S on or around these frequencies: SSB, 3.850, 7.250, 14.250 and 21.350 MHz; CW, 3.550, 7.050, 14.050 and 21.050 MHz; PSK, 80 and 40 meters only. Operators will be listening 3 kHz up for calls. There will also be activity on D-STAR, EchoLink and IRLP; please check the event's Web page for information concerning these frequencies. Visitors are welcome. E-mail the Nixa club for more information.

W1MGY

Special event station W1MGY will be on the air from the Titanic Historical Society Museum in Indian Orchard, Massachusetts. Operation will concentrate on 20 and 40 meters April 11-12 from 1400 UTC until 2030 UTC each day, although W1MGY may be on the air at other times, bands and modes throughout the 96th anniversary weekend.

Look for W1MGY on or around: CW, 3.533, 7.033, 14.033, 18.099, 21.033 and 28.033 MHz; SSB, 3.860, 7.260, 14.260, 18.160, 21.360 and 28.336 MHz, conditions permitting.

To schedule a contact with W1MGY, contact Dave Isham, KB1MU, indicating a preferred date, time, and frequency. Include a self-addressed, stamped envelope with QSL requests to Titanic Historical Society, W1MGY, PO Box 51053, Indian Orchard, MA 01151-0053.

Application to Renew License for Amateur) Radio Service Station W6WBJ)

To: Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission

Attn: Arthur I. Steinberg Administrative Law Judge

REQUEST FOR ISSUANCE OF SUBPOENA AD TESTIFICANDUM
[Title 47, C.F.R., Part 1, Subpart B, §§1.333 & 1.338]

I, William F. Crowell, declare:
That I am the licensee/applicant herein.
The Commission's Rules, in Title 47 of the Code of.Federal.Regulations, Part 1, Subpart B, §1.338(a), provide that subpoena forms may be obtained from the Secretary of the Com-mis-sion and then completed and returned to the Commission with a request for the issuance of a subpoena. Sections 1.333(a) and (c) thereof provide that requests for a subpoena ad testificandum shall be submit-ted in writing, and must be supported by a show-ing of the general relevance and materiality of the evidence sought.
Since in or about 1998, WILLIAM RILEY HOLLINGSWORTH has been continuously employed by the Enforcement Bureau in the position of "Special Counsel for Amateur Radio Enforcement", or "SCARE". During that period of time, HOLLINGSWORTH has played the lead role in determining the Bureau's enforcement policies and practices in the Amateur Radio Service.
I first had contact with HOLLINGSWORTH in 2000, when he wrote me a Warning Notice which I believe to have been factually and legally defective. HOLLINGSWORTH wrote me another Warning Notice in 2006, which I believe to have been based on the same faulty factual and legal premises as was the earlier Notice, and in which he accused me of various Amateur Service rules violations that I deny.
As the Bureau's primary Amateur Radio Service enforcement em-ploy-ee during the entire period of this dispute, I am quite sure that

HOLLINGS-WORTH has the most knowledge of any Enforcement Bureau employee or official concern-ing all of the facts and occurrences (or lack of same) herein. His testi-mony is directly relevant to the various defenses which I have raised and, I believe, will tend to prove that the Bureau's case is legally and factually defective and without merit. In addition, I need to ask Mr. Hollingsworth what possible reason he could have had for disbelieving my denials, since I believe he had no reason for doing so and has therefore engaged in arbitrary and capricious regulatory behavior with respect to my renewal Application.
I therefore respectfully request that Administrative Law Judge Arthur I. Steinberg issue the foregoing subpoena ad testificandum compelling the atten-dance of WILLIAM RILEY HOL-LINGSWORTH to testify as witness adverse to Applicant's interests as part of Applicant/Licensee's case herein.
I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this Request is signed on April 7, 2008 at Diamond Springs, California.

Respectfully submitted,

William F. Crowell, Licensee/Applicant

PROOF OF SERVICE BY MAIL
[47 C.F.R. Part I, Subpart A, §1.47]

I am a citizen of the United States and a resident of El Dorado County, California. I am the Applicant-licensee herein. I am over the age of 18 years. My address is: 1110 Pleasant Valley Road, Diamond Springs, California 95619-9221.

On April 7, 2008 I served the foregoing Request for Issuance of Subpoena Ad Testificandum and proposed Subpoena on all interested parties herein by placing true copies thereof, each enclosed in a sealed envelope with postage thereon fully prepaid, in a United States mail box at Diamond Springs, California, addressed as follows:

Marlene S. Dortch, Secretary, Federal Communications Commission
445 - 12th Street S.W., Washington, D.C. 20554
(original and 6 copies)

Kris Monteith, Chief, Enforcement Bureau, Federal Communications Commission
445 - 12th Street, SW, Room 7-C723, Washington, D.C. 20554

Rebecca A. Hirselj, Ass't. Chief, Investigations & Hearings Division, Enforcement Bureau, F.C.C.
445 - 12th Street, S.W., Room 4-A236, Washington, D.C. 20554 (Bureau Counsel)

I further declare that, on this same date, pursuant to footnote 1 of the February 14, 2008 Order of Chief Administrative Law Judge Sippel, I faxed a copy of the foregoing document to the Office of Administrative Law Judges at (202) 418-0195 .

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this proof of service was executed on April 7, 2008 at Diamond Springs, California.

Frauds, Criminals, and Call Hijackers, Oh My!

A man, posing as a female, hijacked the call sign KA1HOT this week on a popular Internet site. The purpose of the hijack was to defame two individuals who have been critical of Karol Madera, VE7KFM. Shortly following the first hijack, a second hijack by a man posing as a woman occurred, and more defamatory comments were posted. Fortunately, both frauds were discovered in short order and traced to those supporting the malicious defamation of Karol Madera. This was perceived to be a setback for Madera, since the vast majority of support he receives comes from known criminals and those with obvious emotional problems. In this event, two more Madera supporters were discovered violating federal laws regarding fraudulent access of protected computer systems.

==> OHIO ARES TEAMS LEND SUPPORT TO HEPATITIS VACCINATION CLINIC

When news of a hepatitis A outbreak alarmed residents of West Chester, Ohio last month, local officials sprang into action to inoculate more than 1200 people who had eaten at a local fast food restaurant; an employee with a confirmed case of the virus worked at the restaurant
in March may have contaminated ice and other food items, health officials said. Inundated with more people than expected, Butler County Health Department and Emergency Management officials were overwhelmed with traffic, communication problems and general logistics of the event.
When a second hepatitis A vaccination clinic was scheduled for April 5, officials called on local Amateur Radio operators to assist with communications, as well as traffic and crowd control.

"After the first vaccination clinic was swamped with people coming to get their shots, both the Board of Health and the Emergency Management Agency in Butler County realized they needed assistance," said ARRL Ohio

Section Emergency Coordinator Frank Piper, KI8GW. "They had the super idea of bringing in the local ARES group and called on District Emergency Coordinator Robert Spratt, N8TVU, to organize some hams to come help out."

According to Spratt, officials at the first clinic could not communicate on their cell phones due to lack of coverage in the area. "Officials had only planned for about 800 people to show up to get inoculated. When they had more than 1200 people show up, they tried using their cell phones to call and get more vaccine, but they just wouldn't work." Calls made to 911 for police back-up to deal with unruly persons also had trouble getting through, Piper said.

Ohio has a statewide, secure, reliable public service wireless communication for public safety and first responders in place -- MARCS -- used by Emergency Management officials in times when traditional communications systems fail. "When Butler County officials tried to use it at the first clinic, the system displayed 'OUT OF RANGE' or 'NO SIGNAL' messages on every channel," Piper said.

At the second clinic, eight hams from both Butler County and Hamilton County were on site and ready to assist. The clinic, located at a church, was scheduled to run from 10 AM-4 PM. The hams were ready for early crowds; at the first clinic, people were standing in line more than two hours before the doors opened.

"When the ARES team arrived, they established the parking lot area, the traffic flow patterns into and out of the church area and set up the required communications," Spratt said. "ARES members canvassing the complex discovered several other events were ongoing at the facility, including a funeral, fingerprinting for youth sports, a planning meeting for a summer carnival and a planning meeting for the upcoming soccer season. Soccer practice also added to the traffic and pedestrian congestion."

More than 225 people received hepatitis A vaccinations at the second clinic and ARES members directed more than 1200 cars to their correct destinations on the property. The Butler County Health Department officials, clinic staff, the Butler County Emergency Management Agency, the West Chester Police Department and church officials thanked the ARES team for a job well done, all without any reported incidents. Spratt said that the Ohio District 4 ARES teams in Warren, Clermont, Hamilton and Butler counties have had prior Volunteer Reception Center and vaccination clinic operation training that "helped greatly in understanding and knowing what would be needed in the way of communications at the clinic, as well as security, traffic control and crowd control."

Spratt said that people coming to get inoculations "asked about who we were and who we were working for. We made some new friends in the community and recruited three or four people for the upcoming Technician classes. They thought what we were doing as volunteers was great and they want to become part of the team."

Piper concurred with Spratt. "In the Ohio Section, we have the Ohio Section Emergency Response Plan (OSERP)
<http://www.trac-online.org/Docs/oserp.pdf>. This is a small document compared to some ERPs I have seen. This document outlines how ARES is activated in the Section, who reports to whom and how communication flows. DEC Spratt and his team followed the OSERP pretty much to the letter, and it worked well. Many ARES districts have participated with their Regional Medical Response Systems in their assigned districts on tabletop exercises, as well as actual call-up drills. In February, District 3, under the command of ADEC Fred Stone, W8LLY, conducted a Pandemic Flu activation that extended over several days in February, including a real-time snow storm which affected the drill. This vaccination clinic this past weekend proves to all of us that ARES is vital to the emergency medical community."

==> ARRL EXPO AT DAYTON HAMVENTION -- THE COUNTDOWN IS ON!

With just over a month to go, the final details for the ARRL EXPO at the 2008 Dayton Hamvention <http://www.hamvention.org/> are wrapping up and the secrets are being let out! This year's EXPO is meant to not only share in, but to embrace the Dayton Amateur Radio Association's (DARA) -- host of Hamvention -- theme of "Amateur Radio + People = Fellowship" <http://www.w8bi.org/>. With more open-air areas and interactive booths within the ARRL EXPO, we hope to not only convey this message but provide easier opportunities for fellowship within the EXPO, offering more opportunities for interaction with the ARRL family. The Dayton Hamvention will be held May 16-18 at Hara Arena.

ARRL Membership Manager Katie Breen, W1KRB, is overseeing the ARRL EXPO at Hamvention. "A new area within the EXPO this year is the ARRL Movie

Room," she said. "We decided to try something a little different this year and create a cozy area to sit back and relax and watch a movie on the 10-foot screen. We are very pleased that Bob Allphin, K4UEE, Peter I participant and producer of the DXpedition video, will be a featured guest on Saturday in the movie room. This will be a unique opportunity to come and meet Bob, listen to additional commentary on the many DXpeditions he has been on and have some personal time to ask your questions about going on a DXpedition." Allphin has visited 93 DXCC entities, operated from 50 and been on 33 DXpeditions, of which 6 set world records. He took 5th place at the 1996 WRTC with teammate James Pratt, N6IG.

Breen said that the Youth Lounge, organized by 2007 Goldfarb Memorial Scholarship recipient Andrea Hartlage, KG4IUM, will be up and running again this year. "With a bevy of activity for our young hams, the youth lounge is a full scale version of what every club and group can do to entice young hams to their events. This is a perfect opportunity to visit Andrea and the other volunteers in the areas and bring back ideas to your home clubs."

The 2008 Youth Dinner will also be on Saturday night, but with one change: Instead of being at a local restaurant, it will take place at the DARA clubhouse. Breen said, "We're very excited by the generosity the DARA Board of Directors has shown to us. They let me know that the restaurant we've used the past couple of years for the youth dinner had gone out of business. So while I was searching for a new location, the DARA Board was meeting and decided to offer their clubhouse to the kids." Hartlage said she was thrilled with this option this year. "Not only can we enjoy a great pizza party at the clubhouse, but we can even have time to get on the air together! I'm so thankful to DARA for stepping up and helping us out in such a generous way."

Breen followed up, saying, "DARA's theme of fellowship extends into the EXPO area with their partnership with us, including a new area within EXPO that will be dedicated to the newer operators and future hams."

==> KANSAS BECOMES 26TH STATE TO HAVE PRB-1 LAW

After an unsuccessful attempt eight years ago to get a PRB-1 <http://www.arrl.org/FandES/field/regulations/local/prb-1.html> bill signed in Kansas, radio amateurs in that state have succeeded in becoming the 26th state with a PRB-1 law on the books. Kansas Governor Kathleen Sebelius signed HB 2805 <http://www.kslegislature.org/bills/2008/2805.pdf> into law on April 9.
The bill, written by Rep Arlen Siegfreid (R-15), passed unanimously in both the Kansas House of Representatives and Senate. It takes effect July 1, 2008.

Known as the "Kansas Emergency Communications Preservation Act," the new law concerns federally licensed Amateur Radio Service communications. According to the governor's office, the law "prohibit[s] a city or county governing body from taking any action that precludes federally licensed amateur radio service communications, or that does not conform to federal regulations related to amateur radio antenna facilities."

The new law states that if a municipality takes any action that regulates the placement, screening, number or height of a station antenna structure, the action must "Reasonably accommodate federally licensed amateur radio service communications; and constitute the minimum regulation practicable to carry out the legitimate purpose of the governing body." Antenna support structures constructed prior to the bill's effective date "are exempted from subsequent changes in zoning regulations...and may be repaired as required."

JD Spradling, KC0NYS, of Olathe, Kansas, is chairman of the committee <http://www.hamsforkansas.org/> that led the charge to get a PRB-1 law on the books in that state. He commented: "Many local zoning boards don't give FCC regulations adequate consideration when making zoning decisions and across the country amateurs have found that state laws are a more effective tool for influencing local zoning regulations. So beginning in the 1990s, amateurs began lobbying for legislation that would place PRB-1-type language into their state laws."

Upon hearing the news that Governor Sebelius signed the bill into law, Spradling said, "This venture has been successful because we have had a great team effort all the way through the process, from all who stepped up -- from our state and local representatives, to our subject matter experts and the PRB-1 Committee members from Miami County, Kansas, as well as everyone else who had been proactive in the 2008 Kansas Legislative process for your fellow hams."

==> SPECIAL EVENTS TO COMMEMORATE 96TH ANNIVERSARY OF TITANIC TRAGEDY

Several Amateur Radio special event operations are scheduled to mark the 96th anniversary of the sinking of the RMS Titanic. The "unsinkable" White Star Line passenger vessel was on its maiden voyage from Liverpool, England, to New York City when it struck an iceberg and sank early on April 15, 1912. More than 1500 people perished, while some 700 passengers in 19 lifeboats were rescued by the RMS Carpathia, whose radio operator copied the frantic distress call (the still common "CQD" signal, possibly coupled with the then-new "SOS") transmitted by MGY radio operator Jack Phillips as the Titanic foundered.

Special event W0S <http://www.wzeros.com/W0S_Special_Event.html>, which stands for "White Star Line," will be on the air from the Titanic Museum in Branson, Missouri <http://www.titanicbranson.com/>. The W0S operation will commence at 1300 UTC on Saturday, April 12, and conclude at 2400 UTC on Sunday, April 13. Members of the Nixa Amateur Radio Club and the Southwest Missouri Amateur Radio Club (SMARC) will be among those at the helm of W0S. Icom, Vibroplex, MicroLog, Rayfield Communications and MFJ are corporate sponsors for the event.

Look for W0S on or around these frequencies: SSB, 3.850, 7.250, 14.250 and 21.350 MHz; CW, 3.550, 7.050, 14.050 and 21.050 MHz; PSK, 80 and 40 meters only. Operators will be listening 3 kHz up for calls. There will also be activity on D-STAR, EchoLink and IRLP; please check the event's Web page for information concerning these frequencies. Visitors are welcome. E-mail the Nixa club for more information <titanichams@wzeros.com>.

Special event station W1MGY will be on the air from the Titanic Historical Society Museum in Indian Orchard, Massachusetts. Operation will concentrate on 20 and 40 meters April 11-12 from 1400 UTC until 2030 UTC each day, although W1MGY may be on the air at other times, bands and modes throughout the 96th anniversary weekend.

Look for W1MGY on or around: CW, 3.533, 7.033, 14.033, 18.099, 21.033 and 28.033 MHz; SSB, 3.860, 7.260, 14.260, 18.160, 21.360 and 28.336 MHz, conditions permitting.

To schedule a contact with W1MGY, contact Dave Isham, KB1MU
<kb1mu@charter.net>, indicating a preferred date, time and frequency. Include a self-addressed, stamped envelope with QSL requests to Titanic Historical Society, W1MGY, PO Box 51053, Indian Orchard, MA 01151-0053.

==> 2008 ARRL/TAPR DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS CONFERENCE: CALL FOR PAPERS

Technical papers are solicited for presentation at the 27th annual ARRL/TAPR <http://www.tapr.org/> Digital Communications Conference (DCC), Friday-Sunday, September 26-28, in Chicago, Illinois <http://www.tapr.org/dcc.html>. Papers will also be published in the Conference Proceedings. Authors do not need to attend the conference to have their papers included in the Proceedings. The submission deadline is July 31.

The ARRL/TAPR Digital Communications Conference is an international forum for technically minded radio amateurs to meet and present new ideas and techniques. Paper/presentation topic areas include -- but are not limited to -- software defined radio (SDR), digital voice, digital satellite communication, digital signal processing (DSP), HF digital modes, adapting IEEE 802.11 systems for Amateur Radio, Global Positioning System (GPS), Automatic Position Reporting System (APRS), Linux in Amateur Radio, AX.25 updates and Internet operability with Amateur Radio networks.

Submit papers to Maty Weinberg, KB1EIB, ARRL, 225 Main St, Newington, CT 06111 or via e-mail <maty@arrl.org>. Papers will be published exactly as submitted, and authors will retain all rights. ARRL will provide additional information on the 2008 DCC as it becomes available.

==> FCC ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS

Special Counsel in the FCC Spectrum Enforcement Division Riley Hollingsworth sent a Warning Notice to Edward R. Drone, W0NYF, of Sycamore Hills, Missouri alerting him that "the trustee of the St. Louis and Suburban Radio Club repeaters K0STL (146.940 MHz), N0TYZ (146.910 MHz), W0FF (146.970 MHz) and W0SRC (146.850 MHz) has requested in writing that you refrain from use of the repeaters." These requests, the Commission, noted, were due to Drone's "failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee/control operators of the repeaters for their users." Hollingsworth reminded Drone about a past conversation they had in which Drone "acknowledged that [he] had been directed to stay off of the repeaters and stated that [he] would comply," but, according to the Warning Notice, Drone "utilized the K0STL repeater on March 31, 2008 and stated that [he] would not refrain from using it." Drone was told he was expected "to abide by the request to stay off of the above-listed repeaters and any other such request by a repeater licensee, control operator or trustee." Drone was warned that the FCC would initiate enforcement action against his license -- which could include revocation, monetary forfeiture or a "modification proceeding to restrict the frequencies on which [he] may operate W0NYF." Fines normally range from $7500-$10,000.

Hollingsworth also sent a Warning Notice to David R. Henry, W2DRH, of Cuddebackville, New York alerting him that "the K3TSA repeater system operating on 145.350 MHz has requested in writing that you refrain from use of the repeater." These requests, the Commission, noted, were due to Henry's "failure to follow operational rules set forth by the licensee/control operators of the repeater and FCC rules." Hollingsworth reminded Henry that the trustees had "previously requested verbally [to Henry that he] refrain from using the system, but [Henry has] apparently ignored both verbal and written requests." Hollingsworth also noted that Henry "complained that on February 13, 2008, the control operator of the K3TSA repeater shut down the repeater while [he was] engaged in emergency communications. [Henry] had previously been warned not to use the repeater and, moreover, three of the five control operators of the K3TSA repeater witnessed the communications and reported that there was no emergency situation." Henry was warned that the FCC would initiate enforcement action against his license -- which could include revocation, monetary forfeiture or a "modification proceeding to restrict the frequencies on which [he] may operate W2DRH." Fines normally range from $7500-$10,000. Hollingsworth also pointed out that Henry's Amateur Radio license was set to expire on April 21, 2009. "Please be advised," Hollingsworth said, "that your license will not be routinely renewed unless this matter is resolved."

Hollingsworth sent a Warning Notice to non-licensee residential owners concerning interference from a flat screen television unit to a licensed amateur in Edgewater, Florida.

==>SOLAR UPDATE

Tad "Unless to see my shadow in the Sun" Cook, K7RA, this week reports:
As of Thursday, April 10, there have been no sunspots for seven days. We may see sunspots return around April 21-28. This is based on recent activity rotating out of view around the Sun and (we hope) reappearing later this month. The predicted solar flux remains at 70 until April 20 when it reaches 75, then 80 on April 21. The predicted higher solar flux should correlate with the return of sunspots. Geophysical Institute Prague predicts quiet to unsettled conditions April 11, quiet April 12-13, quiet to unsettled April 14, unsettled April 15, quiet to unsettled April 16 and back to quiet on April 17. For more information concerning radio propagation, visit the ARRL Technical Information Service Propagation page <http://www.arrl.org/tis/info/propagation.html>. To read this week's Solar Report in its entirety, check out the W1AW Propagation Bulletin

==>IN BRIEF:

* This Weekend on the Radio: This weekend is the YLRL DX-YL to NA-YL Contest (SSB) on April 11-13. The EU Spring Sprint (CW) is April 12.
The JIDX CW Contest, Radio Maritime Day and the Georgia QSO Party are April
12-13. Be sure to check out the SKCC Weekend Sprintathon and the UBA
Spring Contest (SSB) on April 13. The RSGB 80 Meter Club Championship
(SSB) is scheduled for April 16. The CQ WW WPX Contest (SSB) is March 29-30. Next weekend, look for the Holyland DX Contest, the TARA Skirmish
Digital Prefix Contest, the ES Open HF Championship, the Feld Hell
Sprint and the EU Spring Sprint (SSB) on April 19. The Michigan QSO Party, the EA-QRP CW Contest, the Ontario QSO Party and the YU DX Contest are April 19-20. The Run for the Bacon QRP Contest is April 21.
The SKCC Sprint is April 23 and the RSGB 80 Meter Club Championship
(Data) is April 24. See the ARRL Contest Branch page
<http://www.arrl.org/contests/>, the ARRL Contester's Rate Sheet
<http://www.arrl.org/contests/rate-sheet/> and the WA7BNM Contest Calendar <http://www.hornucopia.com/contestcal/index.html> for more info.

* ARRL Continuing Education Course Registration: Registration remains open through Sunday, April 20, 2008, for these online course sessions beginning on Friday, May 2, 2008: Technician License Course (EC-010); Amateur Radio Emergency Communications Level 1 (EC-001); Radio Frequency Interference (EC-006); Antenna Design and Construction (EC-009); Analog
Electronics (EC-012), and Digital Electronics (EC-013). Each online course has been developed in segments -- learning units with objectives, informative text, student activities and quizzes. Courses are interactive, and some include direct communications with a Mentor/Instructor. Students register for a particular session that may be 8, 12 or 16 weeks (depending on the course) and they may access the course at any time of day during the course period, completing lessons and activities at times convenient for their personal schedule. Mentors assist students by answering questions, reviewing assignments and activities, as well as providing helpful feedback. Interaction with mentors is conducted through e-mail; there is no appointed time the student must be present -- allowing complete flexibility for the student to work when and where it is convenient. To learn more, visit the CCE Course Listing page <http://www.arrl.org/cce/courses.html> or contact the Continuing Education Program Coordinator <cce@arrl.org>.

* National Hurricane Center Director: Hams Give "Valuable" Reports: Director of the National Hurricane Center (NHC) Bill Read, KB5FYA, praised Amateur Radio at the National Hurricane Conference in Orlando earlier this month
<http://www.voipwx.net/local/Bill_Rea...ane_Conference 2008.wmv>. "Ham radio has always played a critical role in emergencies," Read said. "What goes out when you have a high wind event or major flooding is the communications system, so you lose even cell phones, landline phones, commercial radio and TV. In those cases, ham radio operators that can put up emergency transmitters and antennas in the wake of a storm can give us reports that are valuable. They also help in the search and rescue efforts in the aftermath." The NHC has a dedicated amateur station on-site -- WX4NHC -- and has worked closely with hams for decades. -- Thanks to Dan Musten, KD4RAA, and John Van Pelt, K4JVP, for the information

* Zapping Cancer Cells at 13.56 MHz on "60 Minutes" This Weekend: John Kanzius, K3TUP, of Erie Pennsylvania, has been working on an RF-based treatment for cancer that is currently undergoing testing. According to ARRL Media and Public Relations Manager Allen Pitts, W1AGP, Kanzius is scheduled to be on the CBS news show "60 Minutes" on Sunday, April 13 (keep in mind that the line-up could change). "While there never is a way to predict what shows and what ends up on the cutting room floor, John gave as many plugs to his ham radio background as he could in being the foundations of hands-on learning that led to his research and invention," Pitts said. Kanzius, a very active Amateur Radio operator, aided in the creation of the upcoming ARRL Technology and Amateur Radio public relations campaign. Read more about Kanzius and his ground-breaking idea to kill cancer cells with radio waves in the February 2008 issue of QST.

* ARRL VE Manual Now Available: The ARRL VEC leads the way when it comes to licensing amateurs, thanks to the excellent work of thousands of volunteer examiners who give so generously of their time, energy and skill. Whether you have ever thought about becoming a Volunteer Examiner or you are a seasoned VE, the "ARRL VEC Volunteer Examiner Manual" <http://www.arrl.org/catalog/?item=1328> is the complete guide to the ARRL Volunteer Examiner program. Packed with everything new and experienced ARRL VEs need to know, this book is loaded with information, including chapters on becoming a Volunteer Examiner, the Volunteer Examiner Team, preparing for the test session, Form 605; conducting the test session, session report and returning documents, FCC Part 97 Rules and more. To learn more about becoming an ARRL Volunteer Examiner, please see the ARRL VEC Web Page <http://www.arrl.org/arrlvec/become-a-ve.html>. Order your copy of the "ARRL VEC Volunteer Examiner Manual" today.

* Ham to Hike Pacific Crest Trail: Bruce Prior, N7RR, a contributor to QST, has announced plans to hike the Pacific Crest Trail (PCT) later this month. The PCT is 2650 miles long, ranging from the California-Mexico border all the way to the Canadian border and reaching an altitude of 13,153 feet. On April 19, Prior will begin the journey near Campo, California with hopes of reaching Manning Park, British Columbia in late September or early October. Prior will bring along his Elecraft KX1 with the 30 meter/80 meter module, as well as resonant half-wavelength dipole antennas for the 80, 40, 30 and 20 meter bands.
While not planning to do any pedestrian-mobile contacts, Prior said he will wait until he has set up camp for the evening before getting on the air: "Occasionally I may decide to operate in the daytime, such as from the summit of Mount Baden-Powell (9399 feet) or at the California-Oregon border on the PCT." For more information on frequencies, times and nets that Prior will be on, please visit his blog <http://www.n7rr.com/>.
According to the Pacific Crest Trail Association (PCTA), approximately 300 people attempt to hike the entire trail from end-to-end each year.
The trip usually takes between four and six months. Around 180 complete the hike each year. The route is mostly through National Forest and, where possible, protected wilderness areas. The trail avoids civilization in favor of scenic and pristine mountainous terrain with few roads, passing through the Laguna, San Jacinto, San Bernardino, San Gabriel, Liebre, Tehachapi and Sierra Nevada ranges in California, and the Cascade Range in California, Oregon and Washington.

* William F. Buckley Meets Amateur Radio: In a personal essay published in the April 7, 2008 issue of "The National Review," the late William F. Buckley Jr described a fascinating story involving himself, Senator Barry Goldwater, K7UGA (SK), and of course ham radio. It seems that Mr Buckley was part of a 12 man trip to Russia's Vostok station, a very remote outpost at the magnetic South Pole. In addition to his brother, Senator James Buckley, their old pal Barry Goldwater and his son Barry Jr were also members of this expedition. Buckley described being in a crowded Soviet igloo, entertained with "trays of caviar and tumblers of vodka." After toasting his Russian host, he was suddenly taken aside by Barry Jr. "Dad wants to see you" he said, pointing to the door. Buckley was taken to another igloo, apparently the radio shack. "Thought you might like to talk to your wife," the senior Goldwater said. Buckley describes the prideful look on Goldwater's face, having maneuvered the Soviet radio to contact his wife back home in Arizona! Although he was a man famous for his complete control of the English language, Bill Buckley said he was "speechless" as he heard the telephone ringing and his wife answering the telephone! He said, "It's me darling" and his wife responded, "It's three o'clock in the morning!" Buckley exclaimed, "I'm calling from the South Pole!" This story reminded me of the many nights back in the late 1970s when I gladly helped with phone patches from the US Navy base at McMurdo, Antarctica. Just as Senator Goldwater did, I awakened many people in the wee hours of the morning with a phone call from their loved ones on the bottom of the world! -- Bruce Jackson, KA5ELC, Cordova, Tennessee it is logical Todd but being more knowledge in this field the more likely answer is that he/they are afraid they might be homosexaul and tell themselves that Bi's do not exist that since are in girls they can'ty be into guys as well a person like myself Bisexaul and open

Kansas Becomes 26th State to Have PRB-1 Law:

After an unsuccessful attempt eight years ago to get a PRB-1 http://www.arrl.org/FandES/field/regulations/local/prb-1.html type bill signed in Kansas, radio amateurs in that state have succeeded in becoming the 26th state with a PRB-1 law on the books. Kansas Governor Kathleen Sebelius signed HB 2805 http://www.kslegislature.org/bills/2008/2805.pdf into law on April 9. The bill, written by Rep Arlen Siegfreid (R-15), passed unanimously in both the Kansas House of Representatives and Senate. It takes effect July 1, 2008.

Known as the "Kansas Emergency Communications Preservation Act," the new law concerns federally licensed Amateur Radio Service communications. According to the governor's office, the law "prohibit[s] a city or county governing body from taking any action that precludes federally licensed amateur radio service communications, or that does not conform to federal regulations related to amateur radio antenna facilities."

The new law states that if a municipality takes any action that regulates the placement, screening, number or height of a station antenna structure, the action must "Reasonably accommodate federally licensed amateur radio service communications; and constitute the minimum regulation practicable to carry out the legitimate purpose of the governing body." Antenna support structures constructed prior to the bill's effective date "are exempted from subsequent changes in zoning regulations...and may be repaired as required."

JD Spradling, KC0NYS, of Olathe, Kansas, is chairman of the committee http://www.hamsforkansas.org/ that led the charge to get a PRB-1 law on the books in that state. He commented: "Many local zoning boards don't give FCC regulations adequate consideration when making zoning decisions and across the country amateurs have found that state laws are a more effective tool for influencing local zoning regulations. So beginning in the 1990s, amateurs began lobbying for legislation that would place PRB-1-type language into their state laws."

Upon hearing the news that Governor Sebelius signed the bill into law, Spradling said, "This venture has been successful because we have had a great team effort all the way through the process, from all who stepped up -- from our state and local representatives, to our subject matter experts and the PRB-1 Committee members from Miami County, Kansas, as well as everyone else who had been proactive in the 2008 Kansas Legislative process for your fellow hams."

587. Ohio ARES Teams Lend Support to Hepatitis Vaccination Clinic

Ohio ARES Teams Lend Support to Hepatitis Vaccination Clinic:

When news of a hepatitis A outbreak alarmed residents of West Chester, Ohio last month, local officials sprang into action to inoculate more than 1200 people who had eaten at a local fast food restaurant; an employee with a confirmed case of the virus worked at the restaurant in March may have contaminated ice and other food items, health officials said. Inundated with more people than expected, Butler County Health Department and Emergency Management officials were overwhelmed with traffic, communication problems and general logistics of the event. When a second hepatitis A vaccination clinic was scheduled for April 5, officials called on local Amateur Radio operators to assist with communications, as well as traffic and crowd control.

"After the first vaccination clinic was swamped with people coming to get their shots, both the Board of Health and the Emergency Management Agency in Butler County realized they needed assistance," said ARRL Ohio Section Emergency Coordinator Frank Piper, KI8GW. "They had the super idea of bringing in the local ARES group and called on District Emergency Coordinator Robert Spratt, N8TVU, to organize some hams to come help out."

According to Spratt, officials at the first clinic could not communicate on their cell phones due to lack of coverage in the area. "Officials had only planned for about 800 people to show up to get inoculated. When they had more than 1200 people show up, they tried using their cell phones to call and get more vaccine, but they just wouldn't work." Calls made to 911 for police back-up to deal with unruly persons also had trouble getting through, Piper said.

Ohio has a statewide, secure, reliable public service wireless communication for public safety and first responders in place -- MARCS -- used by Emergency Management officials in times when traditional communications systems fail. "When Butler County officials tried to use it at the first clinic, the system displayed 'OUT OF RANGE' or 'NO SIGNAL' messages on every channel," Piper said.

At the second clinic, eight hams from both Butler County and Hamilton County were on site and ready to assist. The clinic, located at a church, was scheduled to run from 10 AM-4 PM. The hams were ready for early crowds; at the first clinic, people were standing in line more than two hours before the doors opened.

"When the ARES team arrived, they established the parking lot area, the traffic flow patterns into and out of the church area and set up the required communications," Spratt said. "ARES members canvassing the complex discovered several other events were ongoing at the facility, including a funeral, fingerprinting for youth sports, a planning meeting for a summer carnival and a planning meeting for the upcoming soccer season. Soccer practice also added to the traffic and pedestrian congestion."

More than 225 people received hepatitis A vaccinations at the second clinic and ARES members directed more than 1200 cars to their correct destinations on the property. The Butler County Health Department officials, clinic staff, the Butler County Emergency Management Agency, the West Chester Police Department and church officials thanked the ARES team for a job well done, all without any reported incidents. Spratt said that the Ohio District 4 ARES teams in Warren, Clermont, Hamilton and Butler counties have had prior Volunteer Reception Center and vaccination clinic operation training that "helped greatly in understanding and knowing what would be needed in the way of communications at the clinic, as well as security, traffic control and crowd control."

Spratt said that people coming to get inoculations "asked about who we were and who we were working for. We made some new friends in the community and recruited three or four people for the upcoming Technician classes. They thought what we were doing as volunteers was great and they want to become part of the team."

Piper concurred with Spratt. "In the Ohio Section, we have the Ohio Section Emergency Response Plan (OSERP) http://www.trac-online.org/Docs/oserp.pdf. This is a small document compared to some ERPs I have seen. This document outlines how ARES is activated in the Section, who reports to whom and how communication flows. DEC Spratt and his team followed the OSERP pretty much to the letter, and it worked well. Many ARES districts have participated with their Regional Medical Response Systems in their assigned districts on tabletop exercises, as well as actual call-up drills. In February, District 3, under the command of ADEC Fred Stone, W8LLY, conducted a Pandemic Flu activation that extended over several days in February, including a real-time snow storm which affected the drill. This vaccination clinic this past weekend proves to all of us that ARES is vital to the emergency medical community."

According to the Centers for Disease Control, hepatitis A is a viral infection that attacks the liver and is spread primarily by close person-to-person contact or by consuming contaminated food.

Sorry, but your false sense of nobility is just that. You aren't noble. You aren't courageous. You aren't a Knight In White Armor. You are simply stupid. Extremely stupid.
And you are paying the price for your blatant stupidity every day.

SUBJECT: Amateur Radio license N9OGL; WARNING NOTICE; Case #EB-07-SE-371

Dear Mr. Daugherty:

The information before the Commission indicates that you are operating an unlicensed radio station on, among other frequencies, 6.950 and 13.556 MHz. The information indicates that the signal strength of these transmissions exceed the power limit of Part 15 of the Commission's rules for unlicensed transmitters. That limit is 30uV/M at 30 Meters." The letter also stated that "Commission radio direction finding signals indicate that such transmissions were made from your location on 13.556 MHz at various dates in November 2006. This information raises serious questions regarding your qualifications to retain an Amateur license." The FCC gave Dougherty 20 days to answer 8 questions regarding his operating practices, including wanting to know if he has used the name Todd O'Dochartaigh, N9OGL, and if so, asked him to describe the circumstances under which he used it and the dates. Dougherty was warned that the FCC "will use all relevant information before it, including information that you disclose in your reply, to determine what, if any, enforcement action is warranted in this matter. Such action may include license revocation, suspension of your operator privileges or monetary forfeiture (fine). Fines normally range from $7500 to $10,000."

SUBJECT: Amateur Radio license N9OGL; WARNING NOTICE; Case #EB-07-SE-371

Dear Mr. Daugherty:

Your response to the Enforcement Bureau received on November 6, 2007 was insufficient and contradictory, and indicates a misunderstanding of the Part 15 power limits for unlicensed stations. For example, you stated that your power levels were in compliance with Part 15 of the Commission's rules, yet in statements made in 2006 and 2007 describing your shortwave station "Omega One" you stated that you were operating at 5 watts, then 10 watts and later 50 and 100 watts. Such unlicensed operation would be a violation of Section 301 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 18 U.S.C. S: 301, and would subject you to a monetary forfeiture (fine) or imprisonment, or both. Forfeitures normally range from $7,500 to $10,000. Furthermore, such operation would reflect adversely on your qualifications to retain an Amateur license.

My point is Toad likes to post others dealings with the FCC, but seem to not want to post his own, so why not post it for him.

Where have I said anything about anyone Jewish, nor am I a hate monger, I just don't like assholes like you and weirdo cartoon pedos like Toad. I seem to get along with everyone else.

BTW you've yet to explain why you falsely accused me of using your email address when it did not happen..why keep lauding false charges

Mark attempts to "Yawn" his way out of his garbage, yet the fact remains the he is a fat, dirty, liar, who makes false accusations of stalking and of using his email addy.

"Sorry, but your false sense of nobility is just that. You aren't noble. You aren't courageous. You aren't a Knight In White Armor. You are simply stupid. Extremely stupid. And you are paying the price for your blatant stupidity every day."

And the wacko reponse from Mark where he proclaims that he is "nobility" and a "Knight"

>>You aren't noble.

>sure I am

>> You aren't a Knight In White Armor.

>I certainly am a knight (no armour though) but that is another matter

Then you are as stupid as Toad.

The FCC has stated that Toad's response was "insufficient", which means he better come up with a better argument.

yes you weere libeling Todd at the moment not me now you are libeling us both at once

very economical

no I am simply being a good and moral human being not an anti semtic hate monger like yourself

How does the use of the word "YENTA" coincide with the comments of "anti semtic hate monger"??

You are really stupid for someone that is SUSPECTED to have multiple degrees (or is that someone that missed multiple orgasms) Elif air ab tizak..

Yenta may mean:

a.. Yenta (YEN-tah) is a Yiddish word referring to a busybody or gossipmonger. Most definitions refer to it as a gossipy woman; a blabbermouth, who can't keep a secret, who spreads rumors and scandal. The word has since become Yinglish (a Yiddish loanword in American Jewish English).
a.. It was also the name of the matchmaker in the Broadway musical Fiddler on the Roof.
a.. The name of the Linux CardBus controller driver, which brings together Cardbus cards with the rest of the computer.
a.. It is also the fictional electronic match making PDA featured in the film Shortbus a.. Was used satirically in the 1967 "Get Smart" episode "The Man from YENTA", where it was composed of the initials of "Your Espionage Network and Training Academy", a fictitious Israeli secret service organization stop making anti jewish post CC

I am not making any anti religious posts! It is too bad that you can't distinguish anti and Jokes - your skin is too tight - loosen up - quit xposting and just posting about your sexual preferences in this NG - we are tired of hearing about it - Just about all of your postings are off topic for this NG!

You seem to be tired all of the time - maybe someone should let all of your club members know that they elected a "yawner" for a president - then again maybe they don't care - because there wasn't any one else as stupid as you to run for the office!

Everyone better be careful while building those shortwave radios, ham radios, or cb radios. I found this posted on the web. LOL ;)

Then there's the guy who traveled back in time by accident. Although he does not identify himself, the author of this Reverse Time Travel Anecdote is part of the Emanon Inventor's Association. According to the story, this guy was trying to build a short-wave radio and - shazam! - was transported back in time!

Excerpt: "About five minutes to four in the morning, and still taking voltage checks, my friend received a rather pronounced static discharge from the radio. He noticed that, just above the coils, was a very peculiar glowing electrical field just above the center of the coils. This glowing field lasted about six - seven seconds and, then, abruptly disappeared. The most amazing thing, though, was the fact that after this field disappeared, ALL THE CLOCKS IN HIS APARTMENT HAD MOVED FROM 3:55 A.M. TO TEN P.M.!! (...time went backwards...)" After this incident, the experimenter unplugged his radio, got drunk and went to bed. There's no indication of whether or not there was an effort to duplicate the experiment or document the findings. Oh well... another profound loss for science.

"Excerpts from a Cat's Diary"

Day 983 of my captivity. My captors continue to taunt me with bizarre little dangling objects. They dine lavishly on fresh meat, while the other inmates and I are fed hash or some sort of dry nuggets. Although I make my contempt for the rations perfectly clear, I nevertheless must eat something in order to keep up my strength.

The only thing that keeps me going is my dream of escape. In an attempt to disgust them, I once again vomit on the carpet.

Today I decapitated a mouse and dropped its headless body at their feet. I had hoped this would strike fear into their hearts, since it clearly demonstrates what I am capable of. However, they merely made condescending comments about what a "good little hunter" I am. Bastards!

There was some sort of assembly of their accomplices tonight. I was placed in solitary confinement for the duration of the event. However, I could hear the noises and smell the food. I overheard that my confinement was due to the power of "allergies."

I must learn what this means, and how to use it to my advantage.

Today I was almost successful in an attempt to assassinate one of my tormentors by weaving around his feet as he was walking. I must try this again tomorrow -- but at the top of the stairs.

I am convinced that the other prisoners here are flunkies and snitches. The dog receives special privileges. He is regularly released - and seems to be more than willing to return.

He is obviously retarded.

The bird has got to be an informant. I observe him communicating with the guards regularly.

I am certain that he reports my every move.

My captors have arranged protective custody for him in an elevated cell, so he is safe.

For now...
==========
The train was quite crowded, so a U. S. Marine walked the entire length looking for a seat, but the only seat left was taken by a well dressed, middle-aged, French woman's poodle.

The war-weary Marine asked, "Ma'am, may I have that seat?" The French woman just sniffed and said to no one in particular, "Americans are so rude. My little Fifi is using that seat."

The Marine walked the entire train again, but the only seat left was under that dog. "Please, ma'am. May I sit down? I'm very tired."

She snorted, "Not only are you Americans rude, you are also arrogant!"

This time the Marine didn't say a word; he just picked up the little dog, tossed it out the train window, and sat down.

The woman shrieked, "Someone must defend my honor! Put this American in his place!"

An English gentleman sitting nearby spoke up, " Sir, you Americans often seem to have a penchant for doing the wrong thing. You hold the fork in the wrong hand. You drive your autos on the wrong side of the road. And now, sir, you seem to have thrown the wrong bitch out the window!

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Private Selection Ice Cream Recalled From Kroger Stores In Twelve Southeastern States
Contact:
Meghan Glynn
(513) 762-1304

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 7, 2008 - Inter-American Products, Inc., a division of The Kroger Co., today announced a recall on two codes of Private Selection Light Churned Mint Chocolate Chip Ice Cream in 1.75-quart containers with a "Sell By" date of December 3, 2008.

The two codes are: DEC0308 8070 and DEC0308 8080.

The ice cream is being recalled because it may contain egg, soy, and wheat, which are not listed in the ingredient statement. People who have an allergy to eggs run the risk of serious or life-threatening reaction if they consume this product.

The ice cream was distributed to Kroger stores in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Texas.

No other Private Selection Ice Cream products are affected by this recall.

Customers are encouraged to return the product to their Kroger store for a full refund.

No illnesses have been reported. For most consumers, there is no safety issue with the ice cream. Consumers with questions or concerns may call Inter-American Products, Inc. at 1-800-697-2448.

Elkhorn Valley Packing LLC, a Harper, Kan., establishment, is voluntarily recalling approximately 406,000 pounds of frozen cattle heads with tonsils not completely removed, which is not compliant with regulations that require the removal of tonsils from cattle of all ages, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service announced today.

Tonsils are considered a specified risk material (SRM) and must be removed from cattle of all ages in accordance with FSIS regulations. SRMs are tissues that are known to contain the infective agent in cattle infected with BSE, as well as materials that are closely associated with these potentially infective tissues. Therefore, FSIS prohibits SRMs from use as human food to minimize potential human exposure to the BSE agent.

Be safe, don't eat those beef heads.

I post the truth, because you post crap that is idiot, therefore you are an idiot, and you post a photo of yourself showing that your are fat, therefore you are a fatty.

In a small town in Tennessee, Big Bubba decides it's time for his son, 18 year old Billy Bob, to learn the facts of life.
He takes him to the local house of ill repute, which is fronted by a beauty parlor.

Bubba introduces Billy Bob to the madam, and explains that it's time for his indoctrination to sex."

The madam says, "Bubba you've been such a good customer over the years, I'm going to see to your son personally."

So the madam takes Billy Bob by the hand and leads him upstairs, where she completes his deflowering.

Later, as they are walking downstairs the madam says, "Since this is your first time, I'm going to see that you get the full treatment before you leave,
I'm going to give you a manicure too."

Two weeks later Bubba and Billy Bob run into the madam on the town's main street.

Billy Bob is acting a little shy,
so the madam smiles and says, "Well, Billy Bob, don't you remember me?"

"Yes ma'am the boy stammers, "You're the lady that gave me the crabs and then cut off my fingernails so I couldn't scratch 'em."

A husband and wife went in for counseling after 15 years of marriage. When asked what the problem was, the wife went into a passionate, painful tirade listing every problem they had ever had in the 15 years they had been married. She went on and on and on: neglect, lack of intimacy, emptiness, loneliness, feeling unloved and unlovable, an entire laundry list of un-met needs she had endured over the course of their marriage.

Finally, after allowing this to go on for a sufficient length of time, the stately doctor got up, walked around the desk and, after asking the wife to stand, embraced and kissed her passionately. The woman shut up and quietly sat down as though in a daze. The therapist turned to the husband and said, "This is what your wife needs at least three times a week. Can you do this?"

The husband thought for a moment and replied,.. "Well, I can drop her off here on Mondays and Wednesdays, but on Fridays, I play golf."

Rivka and Moishe, an elderly Jewish couple, are enjoying a quiet evening at home. Moishe is sitting in his chair reading and Rivka is flipping through a Reader's Digest.

She comes across an article stating how men's hearing begins to deteriorate around the age of 60. She begins to worry, since Moishe is 65. Rivka decides to test his hearing without him knowing about it. After all, she doesn't want to end up having a deaf husband.

She slowly wanders to one end of the room, about 10 feet from Moishe, who is still reading. She somewhat quietly says, "Moishe can you hear me?"

No answer. Rivka then moves up a bit, about 5 feet away now. She repeats a little louder this time, "Moishe can you hear me?"

Again, she hears no answer. Rivka begins to worry.

She has no choice but to go up to him and yell it in his ear. "Moishe can you hear me?!"

To this Moishe responds, "Yes! Yes! I hear you! For the third time, enough already!"

I think the real truth is Mark's attorney is smart enough not to persue a no-win nothing case since Mark can't afford to pay the multiple of hundreds of thousand of dollars it takes to hire a computer system forensics firm to seperate who is post what under who knows how many differenct nyms and ISPs, gather the information from all of the various ISPs, serve everybody, and get them into court. Then he has to prove actual monitary damages and prove that anyone who posted against him intended to cause him real damages. If he happens by a slim chance to win a judgement, then everyone involved can just go file bankruptcy against the judgement, and not pay anything. Then Mark and his attorney will get to look like a pair of idiots for wasting the courts time to get nothing...isn't America great, the land of lawsuits, judgements, and then bankruptcy.

I hope Mark does sue me, I will get a free vacation to the UP, If you win mark you and your attorney can fight over who gets the 40 channel radio shack CB a 2 meter ht, the $200.00 computer I use, and a 1988 Olds with 155,000 miles.

Good luck fatty.

it is interesting that Donna has to go all the way to find a email forwarder in Italy to bad mouth everybody... whoooooopie - she has 3 pistols and assault rifles all unregistered
- when g-d was giving out brains she thought he said trains and missed hers... with people like u donna - we don't need any other enemies... I have a friend that is Jewish - he don't like guns - so I guess he doesn't want yours...

true story.

My brother-in-law who works in an electronics store and had classes to do so was trying to hook up an old atari 2600 to his tv.

I said to "hook it up to the radio frequency input"

He replied "Those aren't radio frequency inputs, they're RF inputs, which is completely different than radio frequency inputs"

I tried, but since he had the schooling for electronics in order to work in an electronics store, and I never had any such schooling, that settled the matter as far as he was concerned.

"This tv does not have any radio frequecy inputs or radio frequency terminals. It only has RF inputs/terminals which are not the same thing as radio frequency inputs/terminals."

Case closed.

I know better, though.

fair enough. However, my message was in reply to another poster. Which when I look at it now, had no ham,cb,or electronic content at all.

At least my reply had electronic content, which some hams and some cbers are interested in.

The cb newsgroup was ruined several months ago by a bunch of off-topic garbage posts by posters who were obviously there just to cause trouble.

I don't think a little post containing at least a little something about electronics would cause any trouble.

Even if it was just to show how dumb certain people are about electronics.

And I also have another one. Also true.

I went into Radio Shack to get some resistors for an electronics project I was building.

Although the electronics project I was building has nothing at all to do with cb or ham radio, I bought the kid at theham radio store.

There, I included some ham radio content in this post. ;)

I ended up losing some of the resistors which I needed which is why I went into Radio Shack to get replacement parts for it.

They didn't have the correct ones I needed.

The ones they had was a difference of two K.

When I said they weren't the correct ones and told them what I needed, the sales clerks at Radio Shack told me that they would work just the same as the ones I needed "because they're only a difference of two which won't make much difference in how whatever you're building operates".

And to think I was dumb enough to think that a difference of 2K is a difference of two thousand instead of only a difference of two. ;)

Grand Carnival L.L.C Issues Allergy Alert on Undeclared Milk in its "S'morestick Kit"
Contact:
Jeff Martin
877-305-3382

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- April 16, 2008 -- Grand Carnival L.L.C. of Fenton, MO, is voluntarily recalling "S'morestick Kits" because chocolate pieces contained within the S'morestick Kit contain milk which is not declared on the product's ingredient statement. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk run the risk of a potentially serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume chocolate products containing milk.

The recalled "S'morestick Kits" were in limited distribution to Garden Ridge retail stores located in TX, KY, MO, TN, OK, NC, FL, SC, GA, IL, OH, VA, AR, MI, and IN, and bear the "Use By" date of "2/14/09".

The "S'morestick Kit" is packaged in a clear plastic tube containing individual clear plastic packages of marshmallows, graham crackers, and chocolate pieces. S'morestick Kits subject to this recall do NOT have a "contains milk" statement following the ingredient statement affixed to the clear plastic tube. There is no health risk for consumers who are not allergic to milk.

There is one reported allergic reaction attributed to this product.

The recall was initiated after it was discovered that early shipments of S'morestick Kits were distributed in packaging that did not reveal the presence of milk. The Company is in the process of revising its labeling to declare milk as an ingredient in the product.

Concerned consumers who have purchased a S'morestick Kit lacking the "contains milk" statement on the product's label are urged to contact Grand Carnival L.L.C. at 877-305-3382 for a full refund.

I don't live in my parents basement, some jackass from tenn, who masterbates over his dead kids grave is the one that made that statement, and two my girlfriend is a blow up doll, as a matter of fact were going to meeting up here in about four hours....get your

Not exactly. You are correcct, but there's also extenuating circumstances.

rec.radio.amateur is/was also for radio-related topics that aren't about policy.

rec.radio.amateur is now closed down.

rec.radio.amateur doesn't accept any new posts.

the instructions given were that all posts meant for rec.radio.amateur are now to be posted in rec.radio.amateur.policy therefore, the amateur radio topics that don't cover policy now belong in rec.radio.amateur.policy

At least, according to the instructions that were given when I tried posting in that newsgroup.

The newly wed seniors were having sexual problems.
The counselor thought it might be due to the fact that the woman was taller.

He suggested special shoes with build-up heels to help the man's ego.

The next month, he asked if things had improved in their love life with the shoes.

"Well yes..." the woman replied, "but those shoes get the sheets so dirty."

LARRY: When I was working in Nebraska, I gave this girl 400 dollars to have sex with me.

MIKE: You what? You gave a girl $400 for sex?

LARRY: Yep

MIKE: DAMN, what did she look like?

LARRY: She had big boobs and blonde hair.

MIKE: Larry, was it worth it?

LARRY: Nope, that's why I stopped payment on the check.

MIKE: Are you telling me that you found a girl that would take a check for sex? Then you stopped payment on the check because it wasn't any good?

LARRY: Yep, $400.

MIKE: Does your wife know about this?

LARRY: Yep

MIKE: And just what did she have to say?

LARRY: She wasn't very happy, and she doesn't let me carry the checkbook anymore.

Yes you did when you publicly announced all of the names/calls of folks you susupected of kiddie pimping. But like most, I suspect that you manufactured the original message to yourself, and you should be the only suspect.

Just because it is your opinion does not give you the right laud charges of crimes at individuals, especially the heinious act that you proclaim, that is the job of law enforcement AFTER completing an investigation then it is legal to charge folks...unproven public accusations of crimes by someone who is not LE is libel and a crime.

then why is Steven J Robeson, K4YZ still at large?

the simple fact that were I to say ab8qrz is rapist that is not a crime even if there is a ab8qrz issued or as I have said K4YZ would be a jail as would K3vr and W4NTI all would be in jail right now for there actions of years ago stating one opinion is still constitutionaly protected esp when that statement is true I do indeed that W4NTI or K3VR are most likely to be the sources of the criminal note

Pulmuone Wildwood, Inc. Issues Allergy Alert on Undeclared Eggs in Leek and Oriental Noodle Fried Dumplings
Contact:
Pulmuone Wildwood, Inc.
714-578-1487

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- April 16, 2008 -- Pulmuone Wildwood, Inc. of Fullerton, CA is recalling 1,000 cases of Leek and Oriental Noodle Fried Dumplings, because they may contain undeclared eggs. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to eggs run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume these products.

The product labeled as Leek and Oriental Noodle Fried Dumpling contains egg which was listed as "Albumen" in the ingredient statement but was not declared on the allergen statement.

Leek and Oriental Noodle Fried Dumplings was distributed in California, Illinois, Texas and Georgia through retail stores.

The product affected is packaged in a white resealable 25.4 oz pouch with the UPC code 801114-306338 and the Code dates 2/2/2009, 2/9/2009 and 3/6/2009.

No illnesses have been reported to date.

The labeling issue was reported to Pulmuone Wildwood, Inc. upon receipt of the product. Investigation indicates that the problem was cause by a breach in communication with the supplier regarding product formulation and packaging information. This labeling error was limited in scope and no other food products were involved.

The Company has been in phone and email contact with 100% of the distributors and stores which received this product.

Consumers who have purchased Leek and Oriental Noodle Fried Dumplings or have questions are urged to contact Annie Chon @ 714.578.1487 or anniec@pmo.com

I know plenty about the law. Why didn't you persue a civil suit if you was so sure that Robeson committed a crime against you? Like I said, you did not persue anything, and the fact that you say that you filed a complaint, proves that LE neither thought that you had a case nor that a crime had been commited because NO ONE WAS CHARGED, or you are lying. So stop your libel KB9RQZ of other hams about made up crimes, or sue them in court. You like to commit libel and publicly accuse those who you think have commited a crime in this forum and on your blog without any proof whatsoever. Why don't you file a civil suit against them and prove your case. This is amateur radio NG not a court of law. You have been going on and on for the past few years about crimes and this and that. Frankly, you sound like a broken record.

Why don't you post something ARS related...did you figure out to ground something yet besides beef?

You know jerk that not everybody subscribes to the recalls - therefore I feel that it is my PUBLIC DUTY to post them here whenever I feel like it and you should keep you mouth shut because you don't speak for everybody, especially me.

You can't turn yourself into prison without charges, a trial, a guilty verdict, and a sentence. Do you really think that anyone is going to jail for pointing out how stupid you act? If stupidity was a crime you would have been euthanized long ago.

So now the truth comes out, you are too cheap to presue your claims and proves my point that in fact you have NOT presued the claim.
First it cost about $350.00 to file a civil suit, so that is lie number 1 from you, second how do you know what all of the folks you have accused have in their bank accounts, You have accused at least 10 folks, I know at least three have homes and jobs, so that is lie number two.

by the same sort of reasoning then you force me to post it by libeliong me over and over again stop the libel of me and everyone and they cease

but insytead you tell these realy bad lies Dan (since you will not give a name I am calling Dan Jessward today)

the fact is I am libeling no one by the logic you offer since I have never been even served the paper of a lawsuit

I am certainly innocent of any crime according to you because I have not heard from LE about it

the truth neither of those staements is accurate

the fact is I can express an opinion libelous or not as long as I claim to belive it that is what spares robeson or Wismen or Jessward or Crow, but it works generaly in my case since unlike them I can back up my claims at anytime with enough proof I am quite safe even if you try to serve me Dan

LE is broken anyone listening to our hambands knows that anyone living in our cities knows it to heck even some the cops know it (had to deal with one over a drunk driver of county snow plow hiting both of my cars over the week end what a mess..) know they can't do anything about the shit happening these days

by the same sort of reasoning then you force me to post it by libeliong me over and over again stop the libel of me and everyone and they cease

but insytead you tell these realy bad lies Dan (since you will not give a name I am calling Dan Jessward today)

the fact is I am libeling no one by the logic you offer since I have never been even served the paper of a lawsuit

I am certainly innocent of any crime according to you because I have not heard from LE about it

the truth neither of those staements is accurate

the fact is I can express an opinion libelous or not as long as I claim to belive it that is what spares robeson or Wismen or Jessward or Crow, but it works generaly in my case since unlike them I can back up my claims at anytime with enough proof I am quite safe even if you try to serve me Dan

LE is broken anyone listening to our hambands knows that anyone living in our cities knows it to heck even some the cops know it (had to deal with one over a drunk driver of county snow plow hiting both of my cars over the week end what a mess..) know they can't do anything about the shit happening these days

Now what is SHE nagging about?

you realy need to learn english

You need to learn how to stop nagging others - must be a continuation from your spouse!
I know how to use English

SHE said "please use english corectly spammer" She doesn't know how to spell the word correctly (correctly)! Since I am not a spammer I guess SHE has her bra on too tight and must be squeezing her brains !!!!

It is more of the hilarious incongruity of the malfunctioning Mister Morgan. He chides someone else's use of the English language while demonstrating his own lack of mastery of it.

Mark doesn't believe that he needs to capitalize, use punctuation or spell words correctly.

Mark floods this newsgroup with utter nonsense.

that does not think the way as you do.
THINK?? - THAT'S A BIG JOKE!

At a conference on the supernatural, one of the speakers asked, "Who here has ever seen a ghost?"

Most of the hands go up.

"And how many of you have had some form of interaction with a ghost?"

About half the hands stay up.

"Okay, now how many of you have had physical contact with a ghost?"

Three hands stay up; there's a slight murmur in the crowd.

"Gosh, that's pretty good. Okay, have any of you ever, uh..., been intimate with a ghost?"

One hand stays up. The speaker blinks.

"Gosh, sir, are you telling us that you've actually had sexual contact with a ghost?"

The fellow suddenly blushes and says,
"Oh, I'm sorry,... I thought you said 'goat'!"

This was published last year in the LA Jewish Journal and this year some other papers are running it. It is such a weird juxtaposition of people----Dylan and Brando. Louis Kemp, of Kemp Seafood's, the author, is a childhood friend of Bob Dylan.

Brando at the Seder
Louie Kemp

You might remember him as Don Vito Corleone, Stanley Kowalski or the eerie Col. Walter E. Kurtz in Apocalypse Now, but I remember Marlon Brando as a mensch and a personal friend of the Jewish people when they needed it most.

I got to know Marlon about thirty years ago through a mutual friend. His son, Christian, came to work for me in fisheries I owned in Alaska and Minnesota. Marlon impressed me as a dedicated parent. He would often call me to check on his boy with all the tenacity and loving concern of a Jewish mother: Was he eating enough? Did he get to work on time? Was he hanging out with the right people?

Christian was a great kid. He worked hard, had a good attitude and earned the respect of all his co-workers.

In the mid-1970s, when I would visit Los Angeles from my home in Minnesota, Marlon and I would get together. I was becoming increasingly involved in my religion and he would tell me with great pride and satisfaction about his support for Israel even before it became a State. Marlon explained that in 1946, two years before Israel achieved statehood, he desperately believed that the survivors of the Holocaust deserved to have their own land where they could live free from oppression and the anti-Semitic tyranny of the outside world.

True to form, Marlon put his money where his mouth was and donated all of his proceeds from the play, 'A Flag Is Born,' to the Irgun, a Zionist political group dedicated to rescuing European Jewry and the establishment of Israel as an independent sovereign nation. He continued his donations and charitable work over the entire two-year run of the play as it went from Broadway to touring destinations around the United States.

'A people that fought so hard to survive need and deserve their own land,' he told me. 'I did all that I could and actively supported Israel's statehood anyway I was able.'

Marlon also told me with great emotion that his success in theater and movies was largely due to the Jewish people in New York who befriended and taught him. He warmly mentioned Stella Adler, the legendary acting coach who both taught Marlon his craft and housed him with her family while he was getting on his feet as an actor. He was also especially proud of the fact that he could converse in Yiddish, having learned it while living with her family.

One of my visits to Los Angeles coincided with Passover. I was not yet Orthodox and made plans to attend a seder at a local synagogue with my sister. Marlon called me that very day and invited me out to dinner. I graciously declined, explaining that it was Passover and I was going to a seder. Marlon became audibly excited over the phone and said, 'Passover -- I've always wanted to attend a seder. Can I come with you?' He had made me an offer I couldn't refuse. I told him it could be arranged and called the synagogue to add one more to our list.

A short time later, Marlon called me back and asked if he could bring a friend. I said, yes, by all means, never thinking to ask his friend's name.

I called the shul again. They were a little less patient this time and begrudgingly told me that they could squeeze one more person in, but this was absolutely the last one as they were now officially sold out.

Still later that day, I received a phone call from a childhood friend of mine who had become a well-known singer/songwriter. Being Jewish himself, and hearing I was going to a seder, he asked if he and his wife could go along. The shul was unhappy to receive my most recent request, but somehow I softened the heart of the receptionist and she agreed to let my people go -- to the seder.

I will never forget the sight of our table in the synagogue. Marlon Brando was to my left and sitting next to him was his guest. This was during the height of Marlon's involvement with Native American causes and he had brought with him noted Indian activist Dennis Banks of Wounded Knee fame.

Banks was dressed in full Indian regalia: buckskin tassels on his clothes and long braids hanging down from a headband, which sported a feather.

My childhood friend Bob Dylan sat to my right, joined by his wife, my sister Sharon, and other friends.

At first the seder progressed normally without anyone in the temple noticing anything out of the ordinary. After about forty-five minutes, the rabbi figured out that ours was not your average seder table. 'Mr. Brando, would you please do us the honor of reading the next passage from the Hagaddah,' he said. Marlon said, 'It would be my pleasure.'

He smiled broadly, stood up and delivered the passage from the Hagaddah as if he were reading Shakespeare on Broadway.

Mouths fell open and eyes focused on the speaker with an intensity any rabbi would covet. When he was done I think people actually paused, wondering if they should applaud.

Somewhat later the rabbi approached another member of our table.

'Mr. Dylan, would you do us the honor of singing us a song?'

The rabbi pulled out an acoustic guitar. I thought he would politely decline

Much to my surprise Bob said yes and performed an impromptu rendition of 'Blowin' in the Wind' to the stunned shul of about 300 seder guests. The incongruity of a seder, with Marlon Brando reading the Hagaddah followed by a Bob Dylan serenade, would have made for a good Fellini movie. Needless to say, everyone was both shocked and thrilled by this unusual Hollywood-style Passover miracle. The entire shul came by to shake both Marlon and Bob's hands and they actually paused and spent time with everyone.

Just a couple of years ago, Marlon called me up in Minnesota, out of the blue. We had kept in touch through the trials and tribulations he was going through with his family. 'Louie Kemp,' he said, 'I've been thinking about you. Twenty years ago you took me to a seder. I want you to know that I still think about it to this very day. In fact, I was thinking about it today and that's why I called you.'

He continued to thank me and tell me of the special spiritual impact it had on him and how much he identified with a people freeing themselves from bondage and uniting to celebrate and remember that freedom.

He told me he was sending his three youngest children to a Jewish day school in Los Angeles. When I asked him why, he said, 'Louie, don't you know that the Jewish schools are the best?' I could almost hear him smiling over the phone.

The original post that I made came from a friend of mine who happens to be Jewish.

The IDIOT that responded with "can the spam" comment is just that an IDIOT

Todd should learn to shut his sewer mouth.
He threatened a ten year old.
Yeah, big bad-assed, skinny Todd, eh?

Gonna kick a ten year old ass, eh, Todd?

Trouble is that that ten year old would kick Todd's skinny ass around the block and back, twice.

Todd is a Paper Tiger....a Pussy.

Was rummaging thru the junk box last night and came up with 2 vibrators.

The part numbers were: M1503S & VB-13-A

Does anyone have any info on these 2 units - electrical diagrams, ratings, etc.

I would sugesst that RRAM either of them or the RRA.Homebrew group would be more profitable place to to ask but congrats on making a radio related maybe even ham related post

After a relaxing bath...Monica Lewinsky was looking at herself, nude in a Mirror.

Her frustration over her lack of ability to lose weight, was depressing her.

In an act of desperation, she decided to call on God for help.

'God...If you take away my love handles,
I'll devote my life to you,' she Prayed.

And just like that... Her ears fell off.

66.82.9.80 resolves to dpc6682009080.direcpc.com.

So that's that, Mark. You can't fake an NNTP-Posting-Host header while posting through Google, so that is definitely your post, and that makes you a racist.

And for your information, Channel Cop said "NAGGER"; not "NIGGER" dimwit!

you assholes are as kooky as KB9RQZ

As usual, Roger doesn't delete the dozens of lines that are immaterial.

Besides, nobody is as kooky as KB9RQZ, tho Roger and Todd run a close second.

BTW, Roger. Your kooky attempts to include cross-posted Usenet sites has again failed.

Dimwitted Mark automaticaly assumes that everybody else is a Dyslexic as he is. He not only cannot spell, but he has a severe reading comprehension problem as well.
Oh, wait! I can see it coming. Mark will next post that I am libeling him, that I am a racist, or am an anti-Semite or a Homophobe or whatever other oddball descriptor that enters his muddled mind.
At the very least he will tell us that we are "OT", off topic.

Luckily for us, DeLorean got Mark booted from his Teranews account and Mark can no longer abuse these groups with hundreds upon hundred of inane posts.

DeLorean rules! Thank you, DeLorean!

I have no "gaol", fool. Whatever that is .
Rude? Not half as rude as you who monopolized this group with your rude flames and one-liners.

Am I a "sob"? That is open for conjecture and your input doesn't count.

Yes, indeedie I am! I am rude to Markie and he doesn't like it.

Cry me a river, Markie. You don't like "rude"???

Show me, or anybody else in this group a reason to be polite to you. Just one.
You have flamed this group for years and have garnered a lot of well-deserved disrespect for your silly follies and floods.
Polite? Respect?

You ain't gonna see either one, you misfit fool.

Now, about calling me a SOB. That is Libel and I demand an immediate apology.

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

KFC Issues a Nationwide Allergy Alert, Recalls Unlabeled Double Chocolate Chip Cakes
Contact:
Rick Maynard, KFC Public Relations
502-874-8100

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE --Toledo, OH -- April 18, 2008 --- KFC Corporation is voluntarily recalling its Double Chocolate Chip Cakes because they contain eggs, milk, wheat, soy ingredients and possibly traces of tree nuts, and are not individually labeled with ingredient information.

The cakes are being recalled because people who have an allergy to eggs, milk, wheat, soy ingredients or tree nuts run the risk of a serious or life-threatening reaction if they consume this product. There is no health risk for consumers who are not allergic to any ingredients in the product.

The recalled cakes were distributed nationwide at KFC restaurants.

The product comes in a round 16-ounce package with a black or clear plastic bottom and a clear plastic dome.

There is one reported allergic reaction to this product.

KFC will resume selling Double Chocolate Chip Cakes in the future after the product packaging has been modified to include ingredient information.

Ingredient information for Double Chocolate Chip Cakes and all KFC products can be found at http://www.kfc.com/nutrition/pdf/kfc_ingredients.pdf

Customers with these allergies who have purchased Double Chocolate Chip Cakes are urged to return them to a KFC restaurant for a full refund. Customers with questions can call 1-800-CALL-KFC.

During a recent trip my wife and I were on we drove around the back woods of East Texas. On one back road I saw a sign in front of a broken down shanty style house: "Talking Dog for Sale". I needed a break so I stopped to see what the deal was. I went into the backyard and saw a nice looking Labrador retriever sitting there.

"You talk?" I asked.

"Yep," the Lab replied.

After I got over the shock of hearing a dog talk, I asked "So, what's your story?"

"Ah shucks there ain't much to tell. Is that a VUU screwdriver antenna on your truck out there?"

"How did you know that," I asked?

The Lab looks up and says, "Well, I'm a ham radio operator. I got my ticket when I was a young pup and in no time at all I had my 5 band DXCC in Phone and CW both.

The CIA heard about me and asked me to do some spy work for them. I would hang out around the communications centers and with my keen hearing I could copy the classified radio transmissions. Because no one figured a dog would be eavesdropping I was one of their most valuable spies for eight years. Copying high speed CW all day really tired me out and I knew I wasn't getting any younger so, I decided to settle down. I retired from the CIA (8 dog years is 56 CIA years) and joined a ham radio club. In fact I won first place in the Oklahoma QSO Party two years in a row. Next I sired a mess of puppies and got away from Ham Radio for a while. I sure miss my ham radio. Why don't you buy me and I'll be your CW operator in the next big Worldwide DX QSO Contest?

I said "let me see what I can do." I went back in and asked the dog's owner what he wanted for the dog.

"Ten dollars" the guy says.

"Ten dollars"? This dog is amazing! Why on earth are you selling him so cheap?"

"Because he's a liar. He never did any of that stuff. He's just a No-Code Technician.

Why should you? I got news for you, if you are sporting a 38 or 40 waist, you need to lose some weight. You are too fat, plus the fact that you are diabetic/pre-diabetic should be enough motivation. Your BP also is probably marginally borderline, and your Doctor more than likely has also recommended that you drop some weight.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE --Brooklyn, NY -- April 8, 2008 --- Fine Land Corp, 239 Bay 20th Street, Brooklyn, NY 11214 is recalling its Golden Girl brand "Mut Gung" sweetened ginger because it contains undeclared sulfites. Consumers who have severe sensitivity to sulfites run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reactions if they consume this product.

The recalled Golden Girl brand "Mut Gung" sweetened ginger comes in a 7 ounce, uncoded rigid plastic container. The product was distributed nationwide. It is a product of Vietnam

The recall was initiated after routine sampling by New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets Food Inspectors and subsequent analysis by Food Laboratory personnel revealed the presence of undeclared sulfites in Golden Girl brand "Mut Gung" sweetened ginger which did not declare sulfites on the label. The consumption of 10 milligrams of sulfites per serving has been reported to elicit severe reactions in some asthmatics. Anaphylactic shock could occur in certain sulfite sensitive individuals upon ingesting 10 milligrams or more of sulfites.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this product. Consumers who have purchased Golden Girl brand "Mut Gung" sweetened ginger should return the packages to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact the company at 718-714-1850.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

Why the filth fatty?

Why the scat post fatty?

Why are you obsessed with "shit"?

Why post about drugs fatty "pot"?

Why do you lust after Roger?

Why do you claim you are harrassed, yet you harrass Roger about his Private dealings with the FCC?

Folks:

This is the saddest announcement we have had to make:

It was discovered this morning that LB Cebik, W4RNL had passed away.

He was a friend to us all and will leave behind a great void. His beloved wife, Jean passed several years before and he missed her greatly.

He was my friend and associate for 10+ years and I shall always remember him for his warmth and kindness.

A tribute to this "kind and gentle giant" shall appear in my column in the next issue of antenneX.

In my example, the argument was so heated, the Southen ham forgot to tell the Northen ham that they are not inbred and that his area does NOT have a long history of being inbred.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

Too Bad and sad news to hear. Mr. Cebik was a great technical writer and knew how to articulate a complex subject to the masses. He was a great antenna guy, I hope his web site does not go dark, his site contains tons of antenna information that is not easily found elsewhere.

73 W4RNL, you will be missed.

Hypocrite.

Same material over and over?

As in your 1,500 posts a month, Mork?

Now THAT is not justifiable.

Not only are you an idiot, you're a hypocrite, too.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

It was entertainment night at the Senior Center. Claude the hypnotist exclaimed: 'I'm here to put you into a trance; I intend to hypnotize each and every member of the audience.'

The excitement was almost electric as Claude withdrew a beautiful antique pocket watch from his coat 'I want you each to keep your eye on this antique watch. It's a very special watch. It's been in my family for six generations.'

He began to swing the watch gently back and forth while quietly chanting, 'Watch the watch, watch the watch, and watch the watch...' The crowd became mesmerized as the watch swayed back and forth, light gleaming off its polished surface. Hundreds of pairs of eyes followed the swaying watch, until, suddenly, it slipped from the hypnotist's fingers and fell to the floor, breaking into a hundred pieces.

'CRAP!' said the Hypnotist.

It took three days to clean up the Senior Center

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

On Apr 23, 12:38 pm, "punce morgan" <pu...@kb9rq.net> wrote:

In March of this year, the US Campaign to End the Israeli occupation launched its newest corporate accountability campaign: "Hang Up on Motorola." Motorola Incorporated and its fully owned subsidiary Motorola Israel benefit from Israel's occupation of Palestine. Present in Israel since 1964, Motorola supplies the Israeli army with equipment. The campaign was launched because the company failed to respond to the concerns of US activists. Therefore, the campaign demands that Motorola ends its production and sales of all products to Israel that support the occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, now in its 41st year.

United Methodist Church

In June 2007 the New England United Methodist Church issued a report on companies, including Motorola, which were identified as supporting the Israeli occupation. On the basis of well-documented research, the United Methodist Church came to the conclusion that Motorola supports the Israeli occupation of Palestine in a significant way. The report states that "Motorola is engaged in a $93 million project to provide radar systems for enhancing security at illegal West Bank settlements deep inside Palestinian territory. Motorola also has a $90 million contract to provide the Israeli army with an advanced 'Mountain Rose' cell phone communications system. Its wholly owned subsidiary in Israel is contracted to develop encrypted wireless communications featuring vehicle-mounted antenna that will enable military use in the occupied territories and other remote areas. Motorola has operations in the Jordan Valley on occupied land."

The company received the concerns of the church in writing, and was given a defined period to respond. The response was taken into account and on the basis of the available information the United Methodist Church blacklisted Motorola as a company profiting from the Israeli occupation and called upon individuals, churches and investment managers in the New England Conference of the United Methodist Church (NEUMC) to divest.

Motorola fuses ignite Israeli bombs

information in the divestment report of NEUMC shows that Motorola supplies the Israeli army with different types of fuses for its highly explosive bombs, for example the 980 Low Altitude Proximity Fuse that is said to dramatically increase ammunition effectiveness against "soft and light targets."

A second type, the 560 High Latitude Proximity Fuse is used for cluster and dispensing munitions that the Israeli army intensively used in Lebanon in 2006. Amnesty International urged the Israeli government on 29 January 2008 to hand over detailed maps and coordinates of the areas in south Lebanon into which its forces fired hundreds of thousands of cluster bombs. The cluster bombs are a serious threat to civilians, because the bombs that did not ignite alter the landscape into a minefield. To date, 40 persons have been killed and more than 250 injured by the cluster bombs dropped onto southern Lebanon during Israel's war on Lebanon in 2006.

A third type of fuse, the 260A Impact Delay Fuse is designed to survive penetration into a hard target, like a concrete bunker. The fuse is used in so-called "general purpose" bombs.

Motorola's response

While Motorola refused to react to the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation, the company might have felt that it might harm its image to ignore the Business and Human Rights Center. The Center asked the company to respond to the allegations by the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation that Motorola practices in Israel are in breach of international human rights standards. The External Communications Department of the company responded that Motorola "has a comprehensive set of policies and procedures that address human rights, which are designed to ensure that its operations worldwide are conducted using the highest standards of integrity and ethical business conduct applied uniformly and consistently." Motorola is currently reviewing its policies and Code of Business Conduct.

Motorola's Code of Conduct states: "It would be wonderful if the right thing to do were always perfectly clear. If the 'right thing' is unclear or doing the right thing is difficult, remember our key beliefs. Does my action reflect Motorola's key beliefs of integrity and respect? If you would not want your action to be reported in the media, it's probably not the right thing to do."

The Code of Conduct is clear, so we can be certain that Motorola willingly supplies the Israeli army with fuses for bombs and communication equipment, and willingly delivers radar detection equipment that is used to protect Israel's illegal wall and Jewish-only settlements, both of which built on confiscated Palestinian land. Therefore, we can conclude that Motorola has no problem to link its name to Israel's violations of international law.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

United Methodist Church

In June 2007 the New England United Methodist Church issued a report on companies, including Motorola, which were identified as supporting the Israeli occupation. On the basis of well-documented research, the United Methodist Church came to the conclusion that Motorola supports the Israeli occupation of Palestine in a significant way. The company received the concerns of the church in writing, and was given a defined period to respond. The response was taken into account and on the basis of the available information the United Methodist Church blacklisted Motorola as a company profiting from the Israeli occupation and called upon individuals, churches and investment managers in the New England Conference of the United Methodist Church (NEUMC) to divest.

Motorola fuses ignite Israeli bombs

Motorola is involved in the destructive actions of the Israeli army in Gaza, the West Bank and during the 2006 invasion of Lebanon. The information in the divestment report of NEUMC shows that Motorola supplies the Israeli army with different types of fuses for its highly explosive bombs, for example the 980 Low Altitude Proximity Fuse that is said to dramatically increase ammunition effectiveness against "soft and light targets."

A second type, the 560 High Latitude Proximity Fuse is used for cluster and dispensing munitions that the Israeli army intensively used in Lebanon in 2006. Amnesty International urged the Israeli government on 29 January 2008 to hand over detailed maps and coordinates of the areas in south Lebanon into which its forces fired hundreds of thousands of cluster bombs. The cluster bombs are a serious threat to civilians, because the bombs that did not ignite alter the landscape into a minefield. To date, 40 persons have been killed and more than 250 injured by the cluster bombs dropped onto southern Lebanon during Israel's war on Lebanon in 2006.

A third type of fuse, the 260A Impact Delay Fuse is designed to survive penetration into a hard target, like a concrete bunker. The fuse is used in so-called "general purpose" bombs.

Motorola's response

While Motorola refused to react to the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation, the company might have felt that it might harm its image to ignore the Business and Human Rights Center. The Center asked the company to respond to the allegations by the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation that Motorola practices in Israel are in breach of international human rights standards. The External Communications Department of the company responded that Motorola "has a comprehensive set of policies and procedures that address human rights, which are designed to ensure that its operations worldwide are conducted using the highest standards of integrity and ethical business conduct applied uniformly and consistently." Motorola is currently reviewing its policies and Code of Business Conduct.

Motorola's Code of Conduct states: "It would be wonderful if the right thing to do were always perfectly clear. If the 'right thing' is unclear or doing the right thing is difficult, remember our key beliefs. Does my action reflect Motorola's key beliefs of integrity and respect? If you would not want your action to be reported in the media, it's probably not the right thing to do."

The Code of Conduct is clear, so we can be certain that Motorola willingly supplies the Israeli army with fuses for bombs and communication equipment, and willingly delivers radar detection equipment that is used to protect Israel's illegal wall and Jewish-only settlements, both of which built on confiscated Palestinian land. Therefore, we can conclude that Motorola has no problem to link its name to Israel's violations of international law.

DPH Issues Consumer Warning For Chang Farm Soy Sprouts Because Of Bacteria Contamination
No illnesses reported, Consumers Urged to Discard Product
Contact:
Donna Rheaume
(617) 624-5006

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Boston, MA -- April 19, 2008 -- The Department of Public Health (DPH) is issuing a warning to the public not to consume any soy sprouts produced from Chang Farms in Whatley Massachusetts because of the presence of bacteria called Listeria monocytogenes (L. monocytogenes).

The affected product is packaged in 12 ounce plastic bags, labeled under the Chang Farm Brand as Soy Sprouts, and have a "Sell By" date of April 19, 2008. At this time, DPH is aware of the affected product being distributed at several retail outlets throughout the state including Stop & Shop, Market Basket, and Whole Foods Markets.

Grocery stores, food service, and other retailers in Massachusetts should remove this product immediately. Consumers should discard this product or return it to the place of purchase.

To date, no illnesses associated with this product have been reported to DPH. L. monocytogenes is a bacteria that is widespread in the environment and is sometimes found in food. If contaminated food is eaten, it can result in a mild illness called listerial gastroenteritis or a severe, sometimes life-threatening illness.

Symptoms include fever, muscle aches, and sometimes nausea or diarrhea. The illness may be mild and the symptoms described as flu-like. While most cases of listeriosis occur in adults with weakened immune status, such as the elderly, pregnant women, and newborns, infections can occasionally occur in healthy individuals. Consumers should contact their healthcare provider with any illness concerns.

Consumers with questions about the warning may contact the DPH Food Protection Program at 617-983-6712.

ARE WE TOO LATE FOR THE EARLY BIRD?

If "today is the first day of the rest of your life ," (a clich&#65533; I detest), retirement will be the last day, so get it right! For those of you contemplating retirement, I would like to share my retirement experiences with you, which I hope will be helpful.

Several years ago my wife and I moved into an adult retirement development on Florida's east coast, (a code word for gathering place of "the chosen people.") For a while we seriously considered Bangladesh...I know what you're thinking... Why Bangladesh? To begin with, everything is considerably cheaper there. The dollar goes a long way. Sometimes they even accept Monopoly money. There's less traffic, it never snows, there are no annoying snow birds to deal with and it's easy to get into the only restaurant, especially during the tsunamis.

We had just taken our jungle rot, beri beri and cholera shots when we realized, living so far away would mean less visits from our grandchildren. The last time we saw them was on Grandchildren's Day when they were dragged down by their parents. We were living in the Delray/Boca/Boynton, Golf, Spa, Bath and Tennis Club on Lake Fake-a-hachee. (There are 3000 lakes in Florida, only 3 are real.) As it is, we see less and less of them as they get older. Why give them another excuse not to visit us? We keep sending them money for plane tickets, no w that they are old enough to travel by themselves. Instead of plane tickets, they squander it all on the latest electronic junk that becomes obsolete before they leave the store. God forbid they should give up some of their precious time on the inner net and up loading the who tube and the p-pod, or what ever the hell it is they do and give us a call! We don't understand any of this computer stuff. I'm still trying to figure out how Topo Gigo worked. It's no wonder kids today don't want to be with their grandparents. It's not "cool." They identify with Justin Timberlake and Lindsey Lohan. We had wholesome celebrities like Shirley Temple and Charlie Chaplain. The only thing Charlie Chaplain and Lindsey Lohan have in common is they are both known as "The Little Tramp."

Our biggest retirement concern was time management. What were we going to do all day? Let me assure you, passing the time is not a problem. There is barely enough time to floss. Your days will be eaten up by simple, daily actives. Just getting out of your car takes 5 minutes. Trying to find where you parked takes 20 minutes. It takes 1/2 hour on the check-out line in Walmart and 1 hour to return the item the next day. The early bird, restaurant lines take 45 minutes. Then of course, there are the visits to the doctor's and dentist's offices etc. So you see my friends, filling up the day is not a problem. But our apprehension was short lived. Let me take you through a typical day.

We get up at 5;30 am, have a quick breakfast and join the early morning Walk and Talk Club. There about 30 of us and rain or shine we walk around the streets, all talking at once. Some of us on cell phones. Of course, there are residents who complain that we wake them up and block local traffic. Every development has some of these selfish individuals who think only of themselves. I say, if they want to hang around in bed until 6 AM, let them go to an assisted living community!

After a nimble walk avoiding irate drivers out to make us road kill, we go back home, shower and change for the next activity. My wife goes directly to the pool for her under water Pilates class followed by gasping for breath and CPR. I put on my "ask me about my grand children," T-shirt, my mid-calf cargo shorts, my black socks and sandals and go to the club house lobby or the computer class for a nice nap. Before you know it it's time for lunch.

In Florida lunches are free. We alternate between Costco and BJ'S to partake of the many tasty samples dispensed by ladies in white hair nets. All free! After a filling lunch, [free], if we don't have any doctor appointments we might go to the flea market to see if any new white belts have come in or to buy a Rolex watch for $2.00.

We're usually back home by 2 PM to get ready for dinner. People start lining up for the early bird about 3 PM, so we don't want to be too late. We get there by 3:45 because we are late eaters. The diners are very popular because of the large portions they serve and the relatively inexpensive prices. You can take home enough food for the next day's lunch and dinner, including extra bread, crackers plus sweet-and-low packets. At 5:30 we're home ready to watch the 6 o'clock news. By 6:30 we're fast asleep. Then we get up and go to bed. 5 or 6 trips to the bath room during the night and it's time to get up and start a new day all over again .

Doctor related activities will eat up most of your retirement time. It is not unusual to spend an hour or more in the office waiting to see the doctor. I enjoy reading old magazines in sub zero temperatures, so I don't mind. Calling for test results also help the days fly by. It takes at least 10 minutes just getting through the doctor's phone menu when you call the office. Then there is hold time until you are connected to the right party. Sometimes they forget you are holding and the whole office goes to lunch. Many of the receptionists are quite rude and inconsiderate. They keep you standing at that dopey little, closed glass window, totally ignoring you. After 5 minutes, I ignore the "do not tap on the window" sign and tap on the window. This always drives them nuts. I believe you're allowed to crack open the window respectfully but no tapping! If you do, they put down their Egg McMuffin or Inquirer, fling open the window, ready for a fight. I lie, explaining I tapped on the window accidentally because I have Parkinson's. They accept it begrudgingly but I am delighted to know I've pissed them off. They claim they are required to keep the window closed because of the privacy law but l don't believe it.

Should one find they still have time on their hands, volunteering provides a rewarding opportunity to help the less fortunate. Florida has the largest concentration of seniors under five feet and they need our help. I myself am a volunteer for "The Vertically Challenged Over 80." I coach their basket ball team---"The Arthritic Avengers." The hoop is only 4 1/2 feet from the floor. You should see the look of confidence on their faces when they make a slam dunk.

Food shopping is a problem for short seniors or "bottom feeders " as we call them because they can't reach the items on the upper shelves. There are many foods they have never tasted. Whenever I see one of them struggling to reach a jar of gefilte fish, I rush over to lend a hand. We are taught never to get the item for them but clasp our hands together to give them a boost so they can get it themselves, instilling a sense of accomplishment.

Most seniors can't remember where they parked their cars. The short ones wander the parking lot for hours looking for their car while their food defrosts, as darkness approaches. Because of their diminutive stature it's difficult for them to spot their car. To provide a higher vantage point, we heist them up on our shoulders, which isn't difficult since they only weigh 70 pounds. We walk up and down the rows until they eventually see their car. For me the shoulder carry is the most rewarding experience of all unless of course they're incontinent. They rarely thank me because they're a bunch of testy little trolls. But I'm not in it for the thanks. To know I'm helping make the world a better place by reaching out to my fellow man is enough thanks for me. As Mother Teresa once said about the lepers, "Screw them!"

Having decided to retire in Florida, selecting the right adult community was an important factor. They all claimed to be "active" communities. I didn't want to be in an "active" community. My preference was to relax and just take it easy. I worked hard all my life as the only Jewish rodeo clown in the business. I had to work twice as hard as the other clowns to prove myself.

As I found out, the term "active" was misleading. In Florida, active refers to anyone capable of going to the bathroom unattended. A truly active community is one where the ambulance is there several times a day and is part of the Travel Club.

Lastly it's important to choose a development with an impressive name. Italian names are very popular in Florida. They convey... world traveler, uppity sophistication and wealth. Where would you rather live... Murray's Condo's or Villagio?? There is no difference. They are both owned by Murray who happens to be a cheap bastard! The Italian names appeal to those name-dropping, phony snow birds who are out to impress their friends up north. I once heard someone say ..."We spend our summers in the Catskills but we winter at Villa Borghese in Delray Beach. If you're ever in Palm Beach Yetta, we might run into each other in Luigi's... chow." I have been to Villa Borghese. There are 2 Olivetti's, 1 Fiat and 1,200 Jews! (Do not forget that marvelously named community, 'Journey's End'!).

I hope this material has been of some help to you future retires. If I can be of any further assistance, please look me up when you're in Florida. I live in The Leaning Condos of Pisa in Boynton Beach.

Exactly: MOTOROLA:

In March of this year, the US Campaign to End the Israeli occupation launched its newest corporate accountability campaign: "Hang Up on Motorola." Motorola Incorporated and its fully owned subsidiary Motorola Israel benefit from Israel's occupation of Palestine. Present in Israel since 1964, Motorola supplies the Israeli army with equipment. The campaign was launched because the company failed to respond to the concerns of US activists. Therefore, the campaign demands that Motorola ends its production and sales of all products to

A third type of fuse, the 260A Impact Delay Fuse is designed to survive penetration into a hard target, like a concrete bunker. The fuse is used in so-called "general purpose" bombs.

Motorola's response

While Motorola refused to react to the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation, the company might have felt that it might harm its image to ignore the Business and Human Rights Center. The Center asked the company to respond to the allegations by the US Campaign to End the Israeli Occupation that Motorola practices in Israel are in breach of international human rights standards. The External Communications Department of the company responded that Motorola "has a comprehensive set of policies and procedures that address human rights, which are designed to ensure that its operations worldwide are conducted using the highest standards of integrity and ethical business conduct applied uniformly and consistently." Motorola is currently reviewing its policies and Code of Business Conduct.

Motorola's Code of Conduct states: "It would be wonderful if the right thing to do were always perfectly clear. If the 'right thing' is unclear or doing the right thing is difficult, remember our key beliefs. Does my action reflect Motorola's key beliefs of integrity and respect? If you would not want your action to be reported in the media, it's probably not the right thing to do."

The Code of Conduct is clear, so we can be certain that Motorola willingly supplies the Israeli army with fuses for bombs and communication equipment, and willingly delivers radar detection equipment that is used to protect Israel's illegal wall and Jewish-only settlements, both of which built on confiscated Palestinian land. Therefore, we can conclude that Motorola has no problem to link its name to Israel's violations of international law.

If they are a matter of public record than go look it up yourself, Fatty, but as the FCC haa said it is not public record and that is why they no longer post all correspondence to the public.

So again I ask, why are you stalking Roger, another ham, about his private dealings with the FCC,

Allergy Alert on Undeclared Dairy in 11-Ounce Single Serve Silk Soymilk Chocolate Flavor in Plastic Bottles
Contact:
Marguerite Copel
(214) 721-1273

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE --Mount Crawford, Virginia -- April 23, 2008 --- WhiteWave Foods Company is voluntarily recalling 11-ounce plastic single serve bottles of Silk Soymilk Chocolate Flavor because it may contain undeclared milk protein. The individual bottles are printed with both a "use by" date of May 7, 2008 (printed as 05 07 08) and a Universal Product Code (UPC) of 2529360028. Consumers can find this information on the back of the individual bottle.

People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk protein run the risk of a health problem or illness if they consume this product. Some reactions have been reported.

This affected product was distributed nationwide and reached consumers through retail and foodservice outlets. WhiteWave's sales team is working with distributors to actively recover any affected product remaining on store shelves.

HOW TO IDENTIFY THE RECALLED PRODUCT

This recall includes only 11-ounce single serve plastic bottles of Silk Soymilk Chocolate Flavor with both a "use by" date of May 7, 2008 (printed as 05 07 08) and a UPC code of 2529360028. Consumers should look for this information on the back of the bottle.

The Company apologizes for any inconvenience to its customers. Consumers who purchased the product may return it to the place of purchase for a full refund or exchange. Consumers with questions can contact the Company at 1-800-587-2259.

The Food and Drug Administration has been notified of this recall.

Hey, stupid, SKYWARN is a big part of what the ARS does. If you were a real ham instead of one that waits until they make the test so easy even YOU could pass the General, you'd know that.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

You apparently think that any response to you, that does not agree with your garbage or flooding, is an attack.
I hope one day you do get attacked, then for once you will know exactly what in the fuck you are squaking about when you say you have been attacked. But still you don't know a damn thing about ham radio or have a clue of why we give you so much shit you mindless turd. Now that you have learned that you need to ground your HF station, have you lerned how to hook up a coaxial cable yet? How about shoving one up your ass you fat fuck.

Your clothes
1st baby: You begin wearing maternity clothes as soon as your OB/GYN confirms your pregnancy.
2nd baby: you wear your regular clothes for as long as possible.
3rd baby: Your maternity clothes ARE your regular clothes

Preparing for the Birth:
1st baby: You practice your breathing religiously.
2 nd baby: You don't bother because you remember that last time, breathing didn't do a thing 3rd baby: You ask for an epidural in your eighth month.

The Layette:
1st baby: You pre-wash newborn's clothes, color-coordinate them, and fold them neatly in the baby's little bureau.
2nd baby: You check to make sure that the clothes are clean and discard only the ones with the darkest stains.
3rd baby: Boys can wear pink, can't they?

Worries
1st baby: At the first sign of distress-a whimper, a frown-you pick up the baby.
2nd baby: You pick the baby up when her wails threaten to wake your firstborn.
3rd baby: You teach your three-year-old how to rewind the mechanical swing.

Pacifier:
1st Baby: If the pacifier falls on the floor, you put it away until you can go home and wash and boil it.
2nd Baby:When the pacifier falls on the floor, you squirt it off with some juice from the baby's bottle.
3rd Baby: You wipe it off on your shirt and pop it back in.

Diapering:
1st Baby: You change your baby's diapers every hour, whether they need it or not.
2nd Baby: You change their diaper every two to three hours, if needed.
3rd Baby: You try to change their diaper before others start to complain about the smell or you see it sagging to their knees.

Activities:
1st Baby: You take your infant to Baby Gymnastic, Baby Swing, and Baby Story Hour.
2nd Baby: You take your infant to Baby Gymnastics.
3rd Baby: You take your infant to the supermarket and the dry cleaner.

Going Out:
1st Baby: The first time you leave your baby with a sitter, you call home five times.
2nd Baby: Just before you walk out the door, you remember to leave a number where you can be reached.
3rd Baby: You leave instructions for the sitter to call only if she sees blood.

At Home:
1st Baby: You spend a good bit of every day just gazing at the baby.
2nd Baby: You spend a bit of everyday watching to be sure your older child isn't squeezing, poking, or hitting the baby.
3rd Baby: You spend a little bit of every day hiding from the Children

Swallowing Coins (a favorite):
1st Child: When first child swallows a coin, you rush the child to the hospital and demand x-rays.
2nd Child: When second child swallows a coin, you carefully watch for the coin to pass.
3rd Child: When third child swallows a coin you deduct it from his allowance!

Pass this on to everyone you know who has children...
Or everyone who KNOWS someone who has had children...
(The older the mother, the funnier this is!)
GRANDCHILDREN: God's reward for allowing your children to live.

He's somebody who has no idea what the definition of spam is. He throws the term around without understanding it.

The REAL definition of spam can be found in news.answers, and it involves something called the Breidbart Index (BI). SPAM is not defined by its content. It depends only upon the poster's abuse of Usenet servers and readers.

Therefore, off topic != spam (if you can even decide what a newsgroup topic is these days).

But if you flood a news group by posting many, many substantially identical posts, that IS spam, because it runs the BI up rapidly. It does so because it abuses Usenet servers (such as Google) and its readers. Mark should be very, very familiar with that kind of activity, because he has engaged in it regularly.

In fact, Mark has been the only one spamming this group in the strictest sense of its definition, because he's the only one whose posts have ever exceeded a BI of 20.

If you don't want to look in news.answers for a detailed rundown on spam, you can check out http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Breidbart_Index for a fairly good discussion.

P.S. That high BI is why, at one point in time, the cancel bots started to cancel Mark's posts. The bot that was after Mark uses BI2 as its standard, and Mark triggered it for a day or two with his spam.

I was watching Larry King's interview with Jon Stewart, and Larry, of course, was asking him about the primaries. Jon had this line that I just had to share: Larry asked Jon if America was ready for a woman or a black president .

Jon looked at him quizzically, and said
"this is such a non-question---did anyone ask us in 2000 if America was ready for a moron?"

Two patients limp into two different medical clinics with the same complaint. Both have trouble walking and appear to require a hip replacement.

The FIRST patient is examined within the hour, is x-rayed the same day and has a time booked for surgery the following week.

The SECOND sees his family doctor after waiting 3 weeks for an appointment, then waits 8 weeks to see a specialist, then gets an x-ray, which isn't reviewed for another week and finally has his surgery scheduled for a month from then.

Why the different treatment for the two patients?

The FIRST is a Golden Retriever.

The SECOND is a Senior Citizen.

You don't speak for the ARS, Fatty. Frankly, no one else but you seems to care about Roger and his dealings with the FCC, if there is something worth mentioning the FCC will post it, but for right now, apparently it is on a need to know basis, and you don't need to know.

Just because I choose not to list my call sign in this NG, does not make me a no ham...
I have been licensed longer than you have been alive - probably longer than your parents even thinking of putting the egg and sperm together to make a shithead of your caliber - your are not my representitive in this or any other NG - you are a LID and you keep telling everybody about you & and your spouses sexual activities - you seem to be very proud of that trash - nobody in here really cares about that trash - and no one else really cares about anybody else that maybe going thru problems with the FCC - if they are then its their business, not yours! When the final findings are released by the FCC then they become public knowledge!

The truth, to Mark, is relative. He twists and distorts the definition of same to suit his purposes at the time. Your statements are lies or libelous (according to him). His statements and OT posts are neither, even tho Mark has no more grasp on what the truth is than any other societal misfit.
Note how Mark justified his daily abuse of Usenet when he was posting through Teranews. He often posted hundreds of times a day. He said nothing, posted "fake" hundreds upon hundreds of times, yet, in his twisted mind, he tried to justify his abuse by claiming that he was "defending" his <cough> "good" name.
Mark lives in a rather odd, twisted world, a fantasy world that the rest of us will never ever be able to comprehend. To try to understand Mark would be take a wasted trip down Futility Lane.
He is not worth the bother.

It does not make him/her a coward or a non-ham, you know what it does, it proves that he or she is a lot smarter than you, because he or she has effectively protected themself from harm from your lies and slander. Why should anyone give their real names or calls on here?
We used to do that years ago on usenet before freaks like you showed up. But since you have proven yourself as a person who likes to laud false charges, make up tales about other hams, harrass hams at their place of business, use the death of children against their parents, spout all about your sick life, and call LE with your false tales, we have learned not to reveal anything about ourselves. The net is so full of unstable nuts like you, nothing is safe anymore, not even ham radio.

The code use to be an effective tool to keep most of the nuts like you at bay and out of mainstream ham radio because wackos like you with your brain misfiring at 100 miles per hour could never sit still long enough to learn the code, but they lifted the code requirement, and that as they say is history.

You can doubt anything you want, but the fact remains that all here probably hold an FCC Amateur Radio license. And I bet most have been licensed much longer than you, by ham radio standards, you are nothing more than a newbie.

it let nuts like Crow and Jessward Wisemmen Robessonm, Kevin Strom, and countless others

people that think criminal action ON air is accecptable

if that is what the code test was suposed to then it iwas NOT a good idea

no wrong with My brain

Why slander the folks you mentioned, only one has ever been cited for a rule infraction, Baxter, and whether he or any of the others are nuts has yet to be seen, since I don't believe any of them currently post here it does not matter, just more of you falsehood and libel of other hams.

One poster apparently calls you that and yet you apparently think it is ok to take it out on everyone else. Stop pestering other folks for one person's action. That is why most on here think you are such an asshole.

what slander?

Baxter, Jesswald and Wismen have been the targets of FCC enforecement

Robeson and Jessward have trheatened mruder of various hams

Strom was recntly sentncned for soemthing in his pedoporn demestic violence beef

Crow Jams on air

My license class, call. and name is on a need to know basis, and you don't need to know. I am not going to assist you with your stalking of folks on this group. You have a vendetta against everyone on this group because we did not come to your rescue for the harmless actions of a a few individuals. That's the difference between normal folks and you, we have nothing to prove. We are not the ones who make bold statements about some alleged military service that never occurred or some false story about an elder abuse investigation. It all comes back to one thing, you make up stories of being abused at the hands of the folks who post here in an attempt to garner support for your vendetta against the group on and off line, because you could not pass a fucking code examination like the rest of us. Get a life Fatty.

Then why do you say "I punce?"

If you have never been there, then you don't know who does or does not go there. Yet, you go around saying "I punce," and that sounds an awful lot like bragging to me.

I say that you've been puncing at the Greenlight Lounge on more than one occasion. That's how you met the other CCRAA officers, and that's how you managed to obtain your initial nomination as president. You were politicing in a shemale-filled room, and you know it.

Mark has hot links to images which are hosted by Karol Madera's web server via URLs like http://members.shaw.ca/karolus/bri+mikee.jpg
He also has links to other foreign images on his blogs, and those are all a danger to anyone who views them.

The first reason is that Madera can look in his web server logs and track all of Mark's visitors. The second (and far more serious) reason is that blogger.com keeps its login credentials in a browser cookie.
Once you've entered your blogger userid and password, a cookie is set in your browser which is used to identify you as logged in. If someone else could read and reproduce that cookie, he could impersonate you to blogger and do anything you can do.

That's exactly what a hot linked image allows the image hosting site to do. For example, Madera simply has to insert a little Javascript into his own server, and anyone loading his images while looking at Mark's web pages can have his browser tricked into supplying the login cookie's contents to Madera's server. After that, Madera can take over your blogspot blog by pretending to be you.

I've only used Madera as an example. There are several other hot linked images on Mark's blogs which allow their owners to steal cookies in the same way. Even if the links to shaw.ca are removed, Mark's blogs are still dangerous because of all the other hot linked images they contain.

EITHER TURN OFF THE LOADING OF ALL IMAGES WHEN VISITING MARK'S BLOGS, OR SIMPLY DO NOT VISIT ANY OF MARK'S BLOGS. YOU HAVE BEEN WARNED!!!!

no I know thwhat they want my dpearture

my posts are not off topic since they concern the integraty of the NG
I will continue to denouce the forgies of me and that is un accapct able to stop that all they need to do is stop posting crap about people sexlifes about peoples sexaul oriantation to stop forgeing posts from

I was walking past the mental hospital the other day, and all of the patients were outside, shouting, '73....73....73'

The fence was too high to see over, but I saw a little gap in the planks, so I looked through to see what was going on.

Some bastard poked me in the eye with a stick.

Then they all started shouting, '74....74....74'

CC did you really think that you were going to get the oddity known as "Mrak" to leave or to stop posting his tirade of bull. He apparently loves this crap....we even left from here and went to a totally different web board off of usenet. Guess what happened? The asshole followed us over there. The guy is a loser with no life. He has already been banned from the QRZ message boards...everywhere he goes, eventually the folks there give him grief because he acts like an asshole, and sees anyone who crticizes his crap as an enemy and is all part of the big conspiracy against "Mrak".

CC you are wasting your time, go find a rock and have the same discussion, the end result will be the same.
"Mrak" is unable to play by the same rules as you and me...I was forewarned many moons ago, and Mrak has proven himself to be a wacko stalker and asshole. Anything that you may post which criticzes him that he views as an attack, makes him think that he has the right to go after your Job, Children, and Freedom off of the net, all in the good cause of him defending his stupid name. Be very careful when dealing with Mrak...the guy is a Kook in the worst sense. Luckily, for us, by the same token he is not very bright, almost dimwitted, therefore we are pretty safe from his buffonery of tall tales, false accusations, and lies.

Fatty, its been said a thousand times before and I will say it again, you don't get to control what everyone posts here. If you don't like it, you can hit the road, of you can join in with some on topic posts.

Well Fatty, I see that you finally admitted that it is a photo of YOUR trash filled yard, after you have denied such for so long...more proof of your pathological lying.

Spring 2008 W1AW Frequency Measuring Test Scheduled for May Capitalizing on the popular and effective automated online results reporting system developed by Bruce Horn, WA7BNM, for the Frequency Measuring Test (FMT) in November 2007, W1AW will conduct a spring FMT. This FMT will begin on Wednesday, May 21 at 9:45 PM (EDT) (that's the same as 0145 UTC on May 22), replacing W1AW's normally scheduled phone bulletin. W1AW Station Manager Joe Carcia, NJ1Q, recommends that those planning to participate should listen to W1AW transmissions prior to the event to determine which band -- or bands -- will be best for measurement purposes.

In this edition of the FMT, listeners will be asked to measure the frequency of an audio tone, given an exact frequency for the carrier signal. The tone will be between 1000-2500 Hz. The carrier frequencies will be 3990 kHz (LSB), 7290 kHz (LSB), 14290 kHz (USB) and 18160 kHz (USB).

Measuring audio frequencies of a modulated signal is a useful skill for those interested in digital modes. Proper tuning of these signals is important to obtain the highest quality performance. For non-digital users, it is also important to understand the relationship between the frequencies of the modulated signal's sidebands and its carrier. The techniques for measuring a modulating tone are described in the November 2004 QST in an article on the Frequency Measuring Test by H. Ward Silver, N0AX. The FMT Web page also has several interesting articles about measuring on-the-air signal frequencies.

The FMT will start with a general QST call from W1AW at exactly 0145 UTC, transmitted simultaneously on the frequencies listed above. The test will consist of three 60-second key down transmissions for each band, followed by a station identification. The test will last for approximately 15 minutes and will end with station identification. W1AW will identify before, during and after the transmissions. There are no plans at this time for a West Coast station.

Submitting Reports

As in the November 2007 FMT, your report should be submitted via the FMT Report form on the W1AW FMT Web site. Along with your call sign and e-mail address, enter your most accurate measurement on each band. There will be a window to list your equipment, describe the method you used to make the measurements and enter any Soapbox comments. Participants have 14 days to input their data. Participants may input their data more than once, although the final entry will be the one used for the results. W1AW will post the transmitted frequencies on the FMT Web site following the test. This will allow participants to quickly determine the accuracy of their equipment and methods. A complete package of results will be available via the FMT Web site after the 14-day reporting period is concluded. The results from the November 2007 FMT are available on the 2007 FMT Results Web site.

A while back - someone put together an article - whereas they made single board computer in a keybd - with sound card & either usb or serial ports and port for external Hard drive & screen.. and it ran on XP..

I want to use this on HF/VHF portable operation!

Due to a system crash a bit ago I seemed to have misplaced the construction article..

Wrong Toadie, you must have a shorter memory then your short genitals, because the last letter you recieved told you what would happen if you fired up that transmitter.
